Train Robbers Got Away With Between $50,000 and $75,000.

Trainmen Were Compelled to Aid the Desperadoes.

SAN FRANCISCO. Feb. 1 .- The Southern Pacific westbound train was held up and robbed near Wilcox, A. T. Five men were concerned in it. Two of the bandits boarded the train at Wilcox, and when two miles west of the town suddenly appeared in the cab of the engine with drawn pistols, compelling the engineer to stop the train. While one of the robbers kept him covered, the other made the fireman and brakeman cut the express and mail cars loose from the rest of the train.

The engineer was then made to pull the two detached cars on for about two miles to a culvert, where two of the bandit gang were found holding horses for the entire party. It was here that the safe was blown open, the men with the horses having brought the explosives. Six explosions were effected by the robbers before they felt satisfied with their work. The top and sides of the express car were thor-

NECKWEAR, Besides the $10,000 in Mexican money, there was a good deal of coin on the train which had been sent to pay the employes along the line, and this was carried off by the robbers, who rode away in a southerly direction. Grant Wheeler, a well-known Arizona desperado, who is believed to be the fifth member of the party, purchased a quantity of giant powder in Wilcox on the day preceding the robbery. The Southern Pacific company and Wells-Fargo Express company offer a joint reward of $500 for each of the robbers. Four persons, including the sheriff, the

DEATH OF A JURIST.

Ebenezer Rockwood Hoar Succumbs to a Painful Heart Affection.

CONCORD, Mass., Feb. 1.-Judge E. Rockwood Hoar, the eminent Massachusetts jurist, died at his home here, at 7:58 o'clock last evening, after a painful sickness from heart trouble. He was unconscious when death came, although during the afternoon his mind had cleared.

Judge Hoar was the son of Samuel and Sarah (Sherman) Hoar, and was born in Concord, Feb. 21, 1816. He was the brother of United States Senator Hoar of Worcester. On the paternal side he was descended from a long line of cultured, patriotic and influential ancestors; and On Friday of last week Mrs. Langfitt on the maternal side he was a grandson of

The same year he was admitted to the bar. In 1846 he was elected to the state senate; served as judge of the court of common pleas from 1849 to '55, and judge of the supreme judicial court from 1859 to '69.

In March, 1869, Mr. Hoar was appointed by General Grant attorney general of the United States, and discharged the duties of that office until June, 1870. It will be remembered that the Norwegian bill of last year passed the House by decisive majorities, and also the Sencordance with that reference a new bill is about to be introduced in the House, which in several respects is a great improvement 1. Also profits have been devoted in Norway to objects of public utility, including such matters as parks, hospitals, etc. These. though not affecting the ordinary tax levy, have been such an advantage to some communities that they are tempted to con tinue in the business thereby. The new bill obviates this by diverting a very large proportion of the profits from even use in the community and toward remote objects, such as the state. This bill also provides for a more ready exten-sion of the already existing local option system in Norway and permits all women as well as all men to vote on the question Thus in a conservative land beyond the

In the case of the life licenses alluded to above this bill forbids that any persons shall sublet these licenses, as elderly people would be disposed to do, but must themselves take the responsibility for carrying on business under The impressive thing about all this is the grand spirit of reform and advance. the moral earnestness and progressiveness of the movement in Norway. This indicates unmistakably the possibilities of such a movement, and how the exclusion by the system of the accumulation of private profits, and the tendency through those profits to corrupt legislation by money, renders possible advanced reform movements all along the line. Norway's Parliament is free to pass radical measures in the absence, under its system, of a rich and unscrupulous liquor regime. The Movement in Great Britain. While these gentlemen were in England t was sufficiently obvious how thoroughly the efforts of the Bishop of Chester, the Duke of Westminster, Judge Thomas Hughes (author of "Tom Brown's Schoo Days"), Hon. Joseph Chamberlain and others were taking effect in stirring England in this same direction. But since that time the advance has been even more marked.

An association to push the matter ha been organized widely throughout Eng land, literature is being disseminated broadcast, and not only in England, but very particularly in Scotland, is the pubbecoming alert to the possibilities of delivering Great Britain from a consider able portion of her present liquor evil by adopting this system.

The periodical press is bringing to America now the strong indications of the practical turn which this movement is tak ing, especially in Scotland. The Scottish ongregationalist, published in Edin burgh, and just at hand, expresses the wish that the City of Aberdeen might at once try the system as an object-lesson for Scotland. That paper entirely indorses the movement and urges that it be pushed forward; also the Christian Leader, Pres byterian, records favorable action in a sec tion of that Church. In short, careful experiment, the exclusion of private profits the attempt in some genuine degree to curtail the evil of drink and gradually to move toward its extinction are matters mooted strongly regarding this subject. Events in Massachusetts.

In Massachusetts both the friends and opponents of the movement have been active. This alarming condition of things is simply wrong. The peculiar ailments of women are curable, and in most cases very speedily. Lydia E. Pinkham's genius, and liberality have given to every woman a sure and consistent means of relief. No woman should suffer when she can obtain free advice. She can state her case for the three years preceding the passage of the Act voted "Yes." The condition will come from one of her own sex. Be thus is definite and fixed. It is not left to be determined in the future, but has alone of the vast army of women who write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., and ready been determined in the past. prescribing the methods by which the assets of any company shall be disposed of in case of its winding up. There is also in the bill what indeed was an amendment late last year, a pro vision by which not only the commissioner

The New Bill.

Regarding the new bill, several of its features will interest the reader. It can

Similarly there are very strict provisions to hinder shares of any company ever getting into the posses sion of those interested in any way in the liquor traffic.

Prevention or Remedial Use of Profits. But what will most interest the reader are the new features introduced regarding the distribution of profits. Their distribution is the great problem. avoidably be profits. If liquor is made cheaper, so as to lessen them, the drinking. will increase. There being profits, some-thing must be done with them. The Parliamentary Act of Norway last summer, in diverting from the local community most of the advantage of these profits, has constituted a hint for these new fea tures of the Massachusetts bill for 1895 However, the position of Norway has been decidedly advanced upon. Not only must a considerable part of the profits, as by decidedly advanced upon. Not only must a considerable part of the profits, as by the action of Norway, be diverted from in the Ledger. By the Bill of 1895 a sum not exceeding one-half of the profits may go to reading rooms or coffee houses, alluring men away from drinking haunts. Not exceeding one-fifth of the profits may go to the city or town for matters not affecting the tax levy, but securing a better enforcement of the liquor you hundreds of offers. Seventy-five cents of the profits may go to the city or town laws. Not exceeding one-tenth may go to for six times. the county for the employment of probation officers above the number of thos employed when the Act was passed. And the remainder of the profits, whether larger or smaller—and it must be at least one-fifth—shall go to the State for the support of asylums, reform schools, etc., which are mainly rendered necessary by drink. By this disposition of the profits it would seem to be impossible that any community could be bribed by them to carry on the traffic. And, besides this, drink, where it must be sold, is to be most emphatically made to devote all its profits either toward preventing people taking to drink or to ward paying in part for the damages of drink. Under this provision rum must contribute toward paying its bills.

It would seem as if these several provisions ought to go far toward removing ob jections which have been offered against the bill in times past, and as if a movement, so vigorous in Norway, so progress ive and full of promise and so stirring the heart of Great Britain ought also to stir the heart of this Commonwealth, which is not wont to be behind the rest of the world in any good movement, and which is not wont, either, to let such awful abuses as are now being perpetrated in the sale of liquor in the communities which will sell it (which communities contain about 40 per cent of our people and are the centers where liquor does it deadliest work) go on unchallenged and unremedied when any reasonable method for accomplishing that end presents itself

The bakers of Port Huron, Mich., have been indulging in a bread war, the lutcome of which has mightily surprised other they finally cut down the price of 5 cent loaves of bread to 2 cents, and then it became a question which of New York, New Haven them would go under. But the people of the town all stopped doing their own baking and bought bakers' bread, the esult of which is that all the bakers are making money at 2 cents a loaf, and there is no talk of going back to the old price. - New York Tribune.

Senator Gorman Frees His Mind In No Uncertain Tones.

MONEY TANGLE IN THE HOUSE

Has No Immediate Prospect of Being Straightened.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.-A critical stage of the financial discussion was unexpectedly precipitated in the senate at a late hour yesterday just before the senators were preparing to go home.

Intermittent references had been made to the subject throughout the day, but it was without definite form and purpose, and the senate finally lapsed into a discussion of the District of Columbia appropriation bill.

But the financial question arose incidentally, and finally at 5 o'clock Mr. Gorman launched into a speech which proved to be one of the most effective he has delivered at the present session of congress. He pointed cut the gravity of the treasury situation, intimating that the facts duced in the house authorizing the appro-were being held back and that an inves- priation of $250,000 to defray the expense tigation would show startling deficiencies. He defended the senate against charges of impotency, and declared that he had perfect faith that this great body would do its full duty before congress adjourned. He said a financial remedy would, if necessary, be added as a rider to an appropriation bill. Spurred on by the energy Mr. Gorman had suddenly injected into the question, the senate at once proceeded to consider and pass three important resolutions calling on Secretary Carlisle for information concerning every detail bearing on revenues, reserves, deficiencies, etc.

A warm party debate had occurred during the day on the question of party ex-travagance. Chandler, Platt and other Republican senators asserted that the total of appropriations for this congress would reach $1,001,000,000, or a $1,000,000 in excess of the $1,000,000,000 appropriated by the Fifty-first congress.

McKinley Law Responsible. When the financial discussion was touched upon, Mr. Gorman said the gold reto meet the demands on the treasury.

The bankruptcy of the government be gan at that time. Mr. Harrison and his secretary of the treasury then said frankly that they could not meet obligations. But in the midst of a presidential election nothing was done. After the election treasury besought senators to give them nouse did not agree to that item and it

"We have inherited this load," con-The senator declared that the crisis was from personal investigation. It was time | H. P. Faunce, D.D., of New York city.

Mr Gorman said that in the present grave emergency he did not fear the senate would be found impotent. This body had always been ready to meet grave

"And it will meet this great emergency," said Mr. Gorman. "If in no other steps may be taken to secure legislation to way, it will place on an appropriation bill a that end provision by which every obligation of this government will be amply met and the honor of the government will be main-tained." Mr. Gorman said he did not care what the details of this provision might be, what kind of money was to be provided; but he appealed to Republican senators to join in meeting the issue. It was their duty as well as that of Democratic senators.

Gorman's Prediction.

"Before that clock marks the hour of 12 on March 4, next," said Mr. Gorman, "this senate will have discharged its duty; this senate will have risen to the great demands upon it; this body will have met the grave emergency presented to it." Mr. Hill was at once on his feet asking why the senator from Maryland had not allowed the financial resolutions to pass earlier in the day. Mr. Gorman said he wanted them to pass, and would now move to lay aside the District of Columbia appropriation bill and put the financial resolutions on their immediate passage.

The resolutions were accordingly brought forward and agreed to within a few minutes without a word of argument. The first resolution, proposed by Mr. Hill, calls on the secretary of the treasury to inform the senate if legislation is necessary or desirable toward the issue of bonds to meet deficiencies in revenue, and if so, what the substantial features of this legislation should be. This was agreed to on a viva voce vote, only Mr. Allen voting

Mr. Allison's resolution calling on the secretary for information as to the amount of the gold reserve used for current exto, with an amendment by Mr. Gorman. The latter's amendment is very comprehensive, and calls on the secretary for details on every possible detail of revenue reserve, deficiency, assets, etc., that can shed any light on the financial situation. The amendment and resolution wer adopted without dissent, after Mr. Telle (Rep., Colo.) had suggested that Mr. Gorman had ought to ask for information as to why the Democratic president and th Democratic leaders in the senate should not agree on what was the trouble. A Haze of Uncertainty surrounds the fate of the administration financial bill in the house next week. Comparatively few members of eithe party are satisfied with the measure in it present form with the amendments which have been added, and which, some assert lican caucus last night nominated Congressman John T. Wilson for United have distorted it from the form of a definite plan or policy.

There is no talk of a caucus by either party at this time, and the policy of each seems to be every man for himself. Few

He will offer in the house his amendment for three different classes of short term bonds, which failed in the committee. Representative Haughen of the banking and currency committee will propose an amendment to reduce to $25,000 the capital necessary to establish a national bank, believing that many small banks in the south and west would obtain charters under such a system, and hopes to gain for the bill the votes of many southern states bankmen.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Feb. 3 Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topec.—Advance, Endeavor!—Ex. xiv, 15-31; xv, 1, 2. (Christian Endeavor Day.)

Another anniversary of the Christian Endeavor movement! The splendid work of this God given movement has still gone forward, deepening and widening with each advancing year, and yet the end is not in sight. There is still work to be done "for Christ and the church, and the topic of "Advance, Endeavor!" is therefore appropriate just at this time. The command of God to the children of Israel at a critical moment in their march to Canaan was, "Go forward!" This is ever and always the command of God to his church and to his people, considered either as organizations or as individuals. The principle of the Christian life is advance. There is to be no standing still and no retreat until the heavenly Canaan is reached, and even then we shall advance.

Let us, then, as Endeavorers advance. Advance in Christian character, in missionary enterprise, in proportionate and systematic benevolence, in labors for good citizenship and in every good work that will advance the kingdom of Christ on the earth.

1. Advance, even in the face of difficulties. The Israelites are in a critical position. The Red sea is before them and the Egyptian army behind them, and there are murmuring and complaint within their own ranks. Yet God says unto Moses, "Speak unto the children of Israel that they go forward." Opposition within! Opposition without! This is characteristic of the advancement of almost every good work. There are always some to oppose noble movements The Christian Endeavor movement has not been an exception, though the oppoof God is to falter because of opposition. the state prison or any portion of any It is to go forward against all obstacles and difficulties.

2. Advance in, the way God points out. God not only commanded the people to go forward, but opened up a way for them, and they followed it. God never commands us to do an impossibility. He will point out the way if we will only seek for it and follow it. God's way of meeting opposition is always the best way. Human methods usually in crease the difficulties, but all obstacle vanish before divine methods. Amid all obstacles and difficulties to personal, so ciety or church advancement let us search out the way by which God would have us meet them. That way will al ways be successful. The way that guide God's people will often confound his enemies, as the cloud was a light to the Israelites and darkness to the Egyp

3. Advance depending upon God. Moses and Israel did this. It was the salvation of the Lord. We should always depend upon God for success and not upon ourselves. "The Lord is my strength," sang Moses. "The sword of the Lord and of Gideon" should be our battlecry.

4. Advance with praise and gratitude to God (Ex. xv, 1,2). When the victory had been won, Moses in joyful acclaim sang praises of gratitude to God. Thus should all Christian workers advance.

Christian Endeavor Abroad.

Rev. F. E. Clark, president of the United society, has recently returned from a four months' trip to Europe. Though his health was much broken in the summer, he reports himself as quite well and strong once more, having had a few weeks of absolute rest in Switzerland and Italy. Of late, at the request of many Christian people in Germany and Scandinavia, he has been attending meetings in Berlin, Frankfort, Leipsic. Dresden, Copenhagen, Stockholm and Christiania in the interests of the Endeavor society. In all these countries he found much interest in the movement, especially in Germany, where already some societies have been formed since his visit, with a promise of many thousands in the years to come. He also attended special meetings in Great Britain for two weeks, addressing large gatherings of young people in different parts of England and Wales, Ireland and Scotland. In London 5,000 Endeavorers assembled in the Metropolitan tabernacle. While in Bristol no building large enough to accommodate the audience could be obtained, and two simultaneous meetings were held in the American style. So in Edinburgh, Dublin, Cardiff and other centers great throngs of Christian Endeavorers came together with their pastors and older friends.

Christian Endeavor Jottings. The Brooklyn Navy Yard society recently observed its second anniversary. Nearly 200 sailors were present. The Admiral Foote Floating society has been organized at the naval training station at Newport, R. I.

At the meeting of the national Christian Endeavor body at Leicester, England, the badge banner was unfurled for the first time on an English plat Christian Endeavor is making vigorous advances in Great Britain. One thousand and sixty-seven societies are now registered. The Methodist New Connection, England, has greatly complimented its Endeavor societies by calling upon them to raise £1,000 for foreign missions as their centenary gift, this church being 100 years old in 1897. Active steps have been taken to secure the amalgamation of the Christian Endeavor societies and the Epworth leagues in China, with every prospect of success.

It is expected that the 1895 New York state convention to be held in Brooklyn will be the largest yet held by the state union and may equal the international convention at St. Louis.

Crathie's Captain Attempts to Defend Himself.

Had the Elbe been a penny steamer, packed with holiday makers, we would say nothing; but what shall we say of the loss of a steamship belonging to one of the greatest of transatlantic lines, where only 20 lives were saved, 15 of them being of the crew and only one woman among the total number?

Even accepting as true the statements of the surviving members of the crew, why were they scrambling to port while when the list of the ship to port made the use of the starboard boats impracticable It is part of a seaman's duty to be drowned in a case of need in trying to save the lives of passengers.

Vevera, Hofmann and Schlegel den emphatically that the Crathie 1emained signalling for two hours near the scene of the collision. They say that had she done o she could have saved many lives.

Hofmann, who was among the first to reach the Elbe's deck after the collision, did not see the Crathie answer any of the Elbe's signals. He noticed a small steamer apparently the one that had struck the Elbe, steaming away. As regards the behavior of the Elbe's crew, Hofmann says: About the Elbe's Crew.

"I seized a lifebelt as soon as I got on deck, but a sailor demanded it, saying that it belonged to the crew. I gave it up with the remark: 'Well, I hope you will save yourself,' but he didn't. The crew did their best to keep the passengers out of the boats."

Hofmann is greatly embittered by the loss of his wife and child. He talks continually about it, and in each interview makes new charges against the crew. Hofmann's description of the final set tling of the ship was vivid.

"I could see her sinking rapidly as we pulled away in the small boat. Her bow went up steadily into the air. The deck grew steeper and I could see the poo wretches aboard her climbing and crawl ing toward the prow, until suddenly all were engulfed." Vevera told a reporter: "There was a lot of green hands in charge of the lifeboats. They were so excited that they did not know what they were about They filled one boat and then dumped all the occupants into the water. The crew in our boat were very reluctant to admit Miss Buecker. Hofmann and I dragged her in without any aid from the seamen Vevera and Hofmann also attack Third Preacher Turned Murderer.

Only Terms Upon Which We Can Borrow Money Abroad.

ADOPTION OF SILVER STANDARD

Would Affect Monetary Influence of the World.

LONDON, Feb. 2. - The Statist says today: President Cleveland's message appears to be wise and statesmanlike. As large sum could not be borrowed in Europe, as there is doubt there respecting the

This would be fatal to any projected loan. Money can always be had at a price, but the government of the United States cannot act as if it was bankrupt. Its credit would stand as high as that of any county in the world if congress would only do its duty. If the present congress does not act, it is greatly feared that it will be too late to apply to the new congress, as before it can be called together a crisis would probably have occurred. It is questionable whether, under the existing conditions, the president can even borrow at home. The banks, in order to avert a panic, may furnish him with gold; but even then it is questionable whether, when a doubt exists respecting payment in gold, enough gold can be got. In any case, mere borrowing will not avail, as the experience of the past year has shown that sooner or later there must be a contraction of the currency or there will be a panic.

Continuing, The Statist proceeds to discuss the consequences in the event; firstly, of gold being demonetized; secondiy, no legislation whatever being arrived at; thirdly, the effect of the free seigniorage of the silver.

What May Happen, If gold is demonetized it is perfectly clear that there will be a great transfer of property from the capitalist and lending classes to the producing and borrowing classes. This would be of immense adand to Europe.

reached 60d. The great reduction of debts | ment. all over the United States by a fall to silver would give the farming and producing classes generally a sense of freedom nd prosperity which they have not had for many years, and would probably give great s imulus to production.

If silver did not rise much for a while, American wheat, cotton, pork, etc., would ompete with the produce of other countries at a very great advantage, and there would be probably a very rapid and great growth of exports and the beginning in an rea of a great prosperity. On the other hand, the lending and reditor classes would suffer and their losses would not affect production to anything like the same extent as the gains of the debtor and producers would do. Further, efit debtors and producers, and would injure capitalists and lenders, while prod-family. ucts and exports would be stimulated, shough not to a great extent.

Thirdly, if the mints were opened for ree coinage, which would tend to make the gold premium still higher, the preium would not be very high, and the reduction of debt and the losses of capitalists would be small compared with the demonetization of gold.

A Summing Up.

Summing up this review of the financial possibilities, The Statist represents the west and south as being perfectly right in the view that a change of the present system would benefit their sections of the Union. The effect of the change they advocate would be a tendency to transfer property by wholesale from the east and Europe to the west and south. In fact, it The government's first intention was to would be a form of repudiation, and it would lower the credit of the United States and prevent the free influx of European

In view of Mr. Teller's recognized posi-

Unmarried American Women.

It appears that in 1890 the number of women of all ages in the United States was 30, 554, 370, of whom 17, 183, 988, or 56.24 per cent, were single. The important fact for our present purpose is the number or percentage of marriageable women who are, in fact, not married. It is found that about 10 per cent marry before the age of 20 and a very few before 15. The unmarried are made up of maids, widows and divorced persons, the last of which classes is so small that it need scarcely be considered for the present purpose. Omitting the actual numbers and using percentages only, the returns show that between the ages of 20 and 25 about 53 per cent were without husbands; between 25 and 30, about 28 per cent; between 30 and 45, about 20 per cent. After this the number of widows increases so rapidly that from 45 to 55 the unmarried amount to 26 per cent, and of women over 65 years of age only a little over 35 per cent have husbands. Nearly 6 per cent of all women never marry, about 10 per cent of those between the ages of 35 and 45 had not yet married, and more than one-fourth of those between the ages of 25 and 30 were still unmarried. - Brooklyn Eagle.

A Boon to Low Browed Women. The new evening bonnet, which is worn perched so far back on the head that it has every appearance of being about to fall off, is decidedly becoming to the women with low foreheads, who wear their hair a la pompadour, while the hats which have been so long popular, set just on the edge of the forehead, are particularly disadvantageous to this style of hairdressing, the foreheadoften its owner's greatest beauty-being partly concealed and unsoftened by the short, curling locks most women effect. Care of Children. "My children frequently go through an entire winter without the sign of a cold," said a mother the other day, 'and I attribute their immunity largely to my insistence that they shall not run about in their bare feet. All children like to do this, both at night, after they are ready for bed, and in the morning before they are dressed. Few things are more directly conducive to a cold than this chilling of the feet, and to guard against it I provide the crocheted bedroom slippers for each child. It took vigilance and constant reiteration to teach them to wear them every time their shoes and stockings were doffed, but they are trained now, and they slip their bare feet into the worsted shoes instinctively and invariably. Warm and dry feet in winter are the best preventive of colds that has been yet found. -New York Times.

A New Woman Marriage.

The "new woman" asserted herself in a very pronounced way at a Nonconformist marriage in South London last week. The bride, the daughter of a wealthy Nonconformist, refused to be "given away." This form is clearly a survival of the time when the woman was regarded as a chattel, first to her father and then to her husband, and the lady declined to recognize it. She gave herself away, and her father stood by as a spectator. After this, though she undertook to love and honor her husband, she declined to promise to obey him. -London Standard.

Box Plaits Again.

The box plait is steadily growing in favor. Most of Redfern's gowns and those of other fashionable artists have the waists made with one or more box plaits. Occasionally the plaits are simulated, and both these and the real ones are occasionally trimmed on both edges with narrow bands of fur or jet, and in dressy costumes the space between the plaits is filled with loose, full plaitings of chiffon or mousseline de soie, generally in a contrasting or harmonizing col or, rather than to match the material of the waist .-- Fashion Journal.

CONNOLLY ADVISES THE PUBLIC

busy Sunday in their efforts to preserve order and prevent the crowds that gathered in the various tough districts from maltreating non-union men in charge of the trolley cars. In several instances the motormen were severely beaten before police assistance arrived. No riots, however, of a serious nature occurred during the day. At Third avenue and Fortieth street the line was encumbered with a great pile of boards, boxes and other material of a heavy nature. Every car that passed that way was held up by the obstruction, and while the conductor and motorman were engaged in removing the debris they were that their company was ready and willing pelted unmercifully with bricks, mud and snowballs. Many of the men's assailants were merely strike sympathizers and

street loafers, but they were just as enthusiastic as though their lives depended on the outcome of the strike. At the various strike headquarters and at the headquarters of Master Workman Connelly extensive preparations are go ing on for the mass meeting to be held Throughout the day constant communi cation was held with the labor leaders in New York, a special appeal being made to the Central Labor union to assist as far as ssible in securing a large attendance. In regard to the arrangements, Master Workman Connelly would only say that everything was running smoothly, and that he expected that at least 30,000 would show by their presence that the strike in Brooklyn is not over yet by any means. Allen Hoagland, a new hand employed by the Brooklyn Heights Railroad com pany, had the temerity to take out his car, of the Greenpoint line, without waiting for the two special policemen who ences of Republican editors from ever were detailed to protect him and the come state and territory. When distinguished strangers used to take in the lions of San Francisco, the place was even poorer in architectural attraction than it is now. There were no buildings that would draw a second glance in any eastern or European city But the visitor to the Cliff House was not looking for masterpieces. He was looking for a good time, and he got it and spread the fame of it abroad. The new Cliff House will be a more magnificent structure than the old, but it is safe to say that it will not be responsible for so many genial memories in every corner of the earth. - San Francisco Examiner.

Patent Office Now Up to Date. For the first time in 15 years the United States patent office finds itself, this week, up to date with its work. This means that in all of its 33 exam-'ning divisions the work is in such a condition that a new application filed and I was obliged to spend two or three days in bed. Now I have no pain at all.

"I can work harder, and be on my feet today will be acted upon its merits within 30 days, and an amendment filed today will receive attention within two weeks. One year and a half ago the more important and busiest branches of the office were more than ten months behind hand. One year ago 27 divisions were more than a month in arrears, 12 were more than two months and seven more than three months behind hand. The office force has not been increased, nor has the number of applicants fallen off. The new applications average between 700 and 800 a week, and the number of amendments about 1,600.-Washington Star.

An Important Decision. That public school teachers should be spouseless is one of the edicts of New Jersey, but it has never come to our knowledge that married tutors could be sued for divorce on account of leaving home temporarily "to teach the young idea how to shoot." Yet that is the substance of a decision recently given by Vice Chancellor Pitney in favor of a Sewaren Benedict. The husband sued because his wife taught a private school, and she answered with one of the strong. est arguments ever brought up in the court of chancery. Notwithstanding her able defense, judgment was given against her. The vice chancellor held Should be Advertised that since the wife refused to surrender school for home the Scriptural injunction held good in common law. "There is no middle ground," the vice chancellor adds. "A wife must live with her husband or give sufficient reasons for refusing to do so. A husband can use physical restraint over a wife's person to enforce obedience. "-Woman's Jour-

Topics Which Will Occupy Attention of Senators This Week.

On the Financial Measure Now Before It.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.-The senate will probably devote the week largely to discussion of the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill, and the greater number of the speeches will be based upon the financial situation and the senate amendment for the construction of a cable to the Hawaiian Islands, which will in all probability reopen the entire Hawaiian ques

Senator Allen expects to address the senate tomorrow on his resolution for the investigation of the Alabama elections, and it is possible that the resolution may call out other speeches. They are liable to be cut short, however, by the calling up of the diplomatic bill, with its Hawaiian amendment and the possibility of many speeches on the subject.

when the appropriation bills and the Allen resolutions are not under consideration, but this will probably depend upon whether the Democratic steering committee shall find itself able to agree upon a recommendation.

are still determined that it shall hold its place if possible, while the supporters of nounced sentence of death upon Mme. the pooling bill are just as eager to dis- Joniaux. There were no scenes of undue place it if they find an opportunity. The excitement. probabilities now are, however, that but little if any time will be given to either of these bills during the week.

It is possible that the finance committee may bring in a report on some of the financial or currency bills before it by tomorrow, and if it should do so, the report may have the effect of adding zest to the debate on this question.

The latter half of the Saturday session will be devoted to eulogies on the late Senator Stockbridge. House Forecast,

The question of legislation for the relief of the treasury will again be debated in the house this week. The administration bill, -introduced in connection with the president's special nessage, as amended by the committee on banking and currency, will be called up tomorrow, and according to the present program will be debated tomorrow Wednesday and Thursday. It is not the present intention to bring in a special order to close the debate and bring the measure to a vote when the bill is brought up, but to allow the debate to run for a day or two before bringing in the order. Today is being given to the committee on claims, which has been shut out by the press of business for some time. The remainder of the week will be devoted to appropriation bills, of which the legislative, naval and general deficiency re yet undisposed of. Nipped In the Bud.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 4 - A well-

planned attempt at a wholesale delivery has been thwarted by Colonel Sautala, warden of Pelem prison. By a search of the department assigned to the night school the discovery was made of a monster tunnel close to the door of the school room, which cut through the foundations. The engineering feat, which has miscarried, in a few days would have released 3000 prisoners, as the tunnel had been planned to pass under all the departments of the prison, so that it could have been reached by digging a few feet beneath the floors of the various wards.

President's Plan Endorsed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The president has received a very large number of telegrams and letters from prominent citi- that they had better return to their own zens, chambers of commerce and other trade organizations in all parts of the country heartily endorsing the recom mendations in his recent message to congress, and recognizing the necessity for immediate action for the preservation of the national redit and public debt.

China Makes Redress. LONDON, Feb. 4.-The Chinese governent has appropriated £1000 to the father | by false newspaper reports. of Rev. James Wylie, the Scotch missionary who was murdered by Chinese soldiers near the Liaoyang mission early in the war. The father has instructed members of the mission to erect a chapel and hospital at Liaoyang to Mr. Wylie's memory. All Quiet at Samoa. MELBOURNE, Feb. 4.-Mail dispatches dated at Apia, on Jan. 27, say that all is quiet in Samoa. A large quantity of guns and cartridges had been seized from the Savaii houses of Trings and Spatz, who were charged formally with importing arms and ammunition on the New Zealand steamship Upolu. Got Out In a Hurry.

Form of Homicidal Mania.

The strange epidemic of insanity accused of the murder of three of her rel- which prompts its subjects to stab stranzers, usually women, in the streets of London has not yet ended, and the popular nervousness in several quarters of the city continues. One of the most startling cases occurred on Wednesday in front of a fashionable store in Oxford street amid a large throng of shoppers. A young man plunged his knife three nches deep into the back of a lady and then quietly waited until the police came and arrested him. The prisoner, who had a good reputation, declared in ourt that he was unable to account for is action. He said that a strange, irrestible impulse to stab some one seized im suddenly, and he acted upon it at he same instant. He had never seen his ictim till that moment. STRIKERS APPEAL TO THE PUBLIC.

Peaceful Agitation Will Be Their Watchword.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 5.—The Brooklyn board of aldermen, at a meeting yesterday afternoon, adopted the resolution presented by the representatives of the striking motornen and conductors rescinding the franchises and privileges granted to the Brooklyn trolley lines which are connected with the present strike. The vote stood 10 for, against. The chairman voted in the

When the meeting of the board of alder men adjourned, a committee of union men called upon Mayor Schieren at his office to urge the mayor to sign the resolution which was passed by the board of aldermen. The committee was received by Secretary Palmer, and he went in and asked the mayor what he proposed to do. The mayor replied: "When this resolution of another. The first officer disappeared what I may do."

Secretary Palmer informed the delegation of the mayor's answer, and they then expressed a desire to see the mayor personally. He thereupon came out and reiterated the message delivered by his secretary. The delegation then withdrew. There was a hearing yesterday before United States Commissioner Morle on the question as to the use of the "United States mail" signs on the trolley cars dur-ing the strike. Ex-Judge Morris appeared for the companies, and the assistant district attorney for the people. Commis sioner Morle reserved his decision. Strikers' Appeal.

The following announcement was is-

To the Public-Citizens of Brooklyn, we constrated that the strikers and their sympa-thizers could peacefully assemble in the face of all the abuses heaped upon them by their former employers, and present to the next representatives, the mayor and board of aldernen, a petition setting forth our rights and their rights and requesting respectful hear-ing and consideration of their grievance. Will you again believe the misrepresenta-

rioters, or will you rely upon your own eyes | Nothing was found on the body. and experience when you judge us? Never was a more orderly crowd seen than that which today marched to the city hall to personally demonstrate their respect for law and order and their love for the good opinion of their fellow citizens.

It is true that the people wish to stand in front of the city hall steps and upon the public square while their representatives were considering the petition. It is also true that they were prevented from so doing by their servants, the uniformed police of the city of Brook-lyn, who, with murderous clubs in hand and pistols in pocket or belt, kept them from their own domain, the public square in front of the city hall, and drove them like so many cattle from place to place upon the sidewalks of Court street, Fulton street, Myrtle avenue, Willoughby street and other public thoroughfares surrounding the city hall.

Not even were they allowed to hide them-selves behind the ample and oxidized coat-tails of Henry Ward Beecher, the reverend sphilosopher and friend of the people, who ever spoke for freedom, justice and humanity, and whose voice, were it not cold, would be heard today in our cause in accents as powerful and eloquent as when he stood before an English mob and pleaded for the shackled slave cf the south. But, alas, it seems the memory of his virtues, the influences of his patriotism, the rec lection of his love for the common people, have passed away in the city which he made famous, and in which nothing seems now to remain to rule save the insolent and domineering corporations engaged in robbing and enslaving the people.

Does God will it so? His ways are wonderful and past scrutiny, and his mills grind slowly, but they grind fine. He must mean well, and we, the people, submit. The rule of the common people means peace, it means law and order, it means honesty in high and low places, it means death to rapa-cious corporations. That rule must come by peaceful agitation, since that rule must be in peace, and fellow citizens that rule will come, and when the battle between the corporations and the people have ceased and the sunshine breaks forth, it will shine upon the people triumphant, and upon routed, discredited and mpoverished corporations.

A mob of striking railroad men surrounded a Fulton street car at 3:10 p. m. on Fulton street, opposite Wechker Bros.' dry goods store. The motorman was actor's management of the Arch Street pulled off the car and roughly handled. The police dispersed the mob. One man received a severe scalp wound.

Everything was quiet by 4:30. The strikers have been exhorted by their leaders not to make any breach of the law, and they are carrying this wish out to the

FREE SILVERITES STILL HOPEFUL

That Their Views Will Be Adopted by Senators.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 .- Calculations of the supporters and opponents of the new administration financial bill were upset yesterday by the interjection of a new factor into the campaign.

Mr. Reed of Maine brought forward a new plan for which he is endeavoring to enlist the entire strength of his party, and which he will offer as a substitute for the administration scheme if he thinks his make it a factor in the fight. There are but two sections to the Reed plan in the form in which he has submitted it to his colleagues. The first pro poses to restrict the law of 1875, which issue bonds to redeem the greenbacks to 3 per cent bonds.

The second section authorizes the secre tary of the treasury, when there is a de-ficit, to issue certificates of indebtedness to pay current expenses, the certificates to be in sums of $25, $50 and $100, and any multiples thereof, bearing interest at a per cent and payable in coin.

The bill, as Mr. Reed explained to the Republicans whose support he sought, is but a temporary expedient to tide over the present distress. The substitution of "coin" for the gold provisions of the administration plan is expected to win for it the toleration, if not the support, of the free silver men. Its comparative simplicity, it is expected, will commend the bill plex plans.

Mr. Reed's plan is to offer the bill as a substitute for the administration bill, and by polling the solid Republican vote, while the Democrats are divided on the administration bill, make it a more formidable proposition in the field, and perhaps in duce the Democratic opponents of the ad ministration bill to rally to its support. Chairman Springer and his colleague have counted on most of the Republica votes for the administration bill, and have prophesied that it would poll about the same support that was given to the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act. Accordingly, Mr. Reed's move over turns their calculations to a great exten

The Silver Interests. Interest in the financial question about the senate yesterday centered in the activity of the silver senators and the frequent consultations held by them. This taken in connection with the call issue by Senator Voorhees, chairman of th committee, led to the general supposition that an attempt would be made by the tions of the enemies of the people when they represent us as murderers, law breakers and person when he went aboard the boat cure the reporting of a free silver bill. Inquiry among the members of the con ance that the effort would be made, but enough was said in many quarters to indicate that the general supposition was not without good foundation and to justify the statement that the silver men ar very hopeful of bringing a free coinage bill out of the committee, if not at this evening's meeting at the next one to b held. They believe that Senator Jones of and hurried movements of the official last week. Secretary Carlisle and Assistant Secretary Curtis were accessible to all callers but both insisted that they had nothing to say on the financial situation. One ex-planation suggested of the changed appearance of things is that the loan has been placed, and that only some unim portant detail remains to be settled before and see what a perfect fitting corset is. the announcement is made.

All of the officials are extremely reticent, however, and decline to either affirm or deny any of the rumors brought to their attention. One rumor which had an apparently good basis was that the trip of the kind ever undertaken by Yale bonds for the new issue were already being printed at the bureau of engraving and printing, but like the others it could not be confirmed. The consensus of opinion is that the announcement of club was organized at Harvard university bond issue to foreign purchasers, difectly or indirectly, will be made very soon, and that all arrangements to this end are sub stantially complete. The amount of bonds which the admir istration contemplates issuing and may give notice of at any time, is $100,000,000 of 4per cents, to run 30 years. Arrangements it is believed, have been practically con cluded, assuring the government that these bonds will be paid for with foreign gold.

Treasury officials generally express the opinion that Secretary Carlisle's estimate of a surplus of $22,500,000 for the calenda year 1895 is conservative. It is argued that the customs duty on sugar alone should bring in at least $35,000,000 during the next 11 months, and that the revenu from the income tax is likely to reach $40,

The receipts from general customs and from whisky withdrawals are expected to materially increase from now on, which it is believed, will bring the receipts for 12 months up to about $380,500,000. The dis bursements for the year, it is thought will not exceed $351,000,000, leaving a sur plus after deducting the $7,000,000 defic for January of $22,500,000.

The internal revenue officials, in figur ing on the receipts from income taxation estimate that the returns prior to July will amount to $10,000,000, and for the re maining six months, $30,000,000.

WEYMOUTH.

At a meeting of the board of selectmen of Weymouth on Monday a communication was received from the Braintree and Weymouth street railway stating that they were ready to furnish a bond of $10,000 to have either portion of the locations petitioned for completed and in operation by July 1, 1895, and the whole system completed by Dec. 1, 1895.

The selectmen decided to hold a meeting next Friday at 9 o'clock, at which time counsel for the two street railway companies which have applied for a location will be heard, and Judge James H. Flint of the Braintree and Weymouth company will be given a chance to deny the charges made by Counsel A. P. Worthen at the former hearing.

A Chance For Smart Women. "The lady as does laundering" has almost passed out of existence. Citizens of New York will remember some 20 years ago the large number of women that fook in laundry work. Each had her round of customers. The work was carefully and neatly done. There were not the present mangling and butchering of cottars and cuffs and linen shirt bosoms. We raise a wail of despairthe baggage smasher and the laundry slasher. The former is a model of virtue in comparison with the latter. Won't the old time laundry ladies return, or ladies like them? Alas, when collars and cuffs and linen are now sent to the big laundries, they are returned in an appalling, shocking condition-frayed, tired out, ruined. Seriously, ought there not to be a fair living for earnest women of small means in carefully laundering white shirts and collars and cuffs? Soon after the war thousands of brave spirited women, widows of soldiers, earned a decent living for themselves and children through these means. Surely fair prices will be paid for conscientious work. Is not this hint worth heeding?-New York Correspondent.

Love In a Cottage.

- They may talk of love in a cottage And bowers of trellised vine. Of nature bewitchingly simple And milkmaids half divine;
- They may talk of the pleasure of sleeping In the shade of a spreading tree And a walk in the fields at morning By the side of a footstep free
- But give me a sly flirtation With music to play in the pauses
- And nobody ever near Or a seat on a silken sofa, With a glass of pure old wine, And mamma too blind to discover The small white hand in mine.
- Your love in a cottage is hungry, Your vine is a nest for flies,
- Your milkmaid shocks the graces,
  And simplicity talks of pies.
  You lie down to your shady slumber And wake with a bug in your ear,
  And your damsel that walks in the morning Is shod like a mountaineer
- True love is at home on a carpet And mightily likes his ease, And true love has an eye for a dinner And starves beneath shady trees. His wing is the fan of a lady, His foot's an invisible thing,
- And his arrow is tipped with a jewel And shot from a silver string.

Old '94 Was Good to Woman. Old ninety-four was kind to woman, and she may well bless his reign. The new king comes with fair promise and holds out to her everything she may grasp. He has bounty to dispense and favors to bestow. If she cares for suffrage, she has but to hold up to the monarch the example of his predecessors and say in 1894 we did this or that. If she wishes the "new woman" established for all time, she has but to point to Sarah Grand and others of her cult. If she would adopt bloomers and dress reform, she must name 1894 as the ruler that encouraged the greatest amount of agitation. In even her hardest struggle for "rights" 1894 has her gratitude, and no less generous year will be tolerated. - Dr. Julia Holmes Smith in Chi-

O. W. O. Hardman, Sheriff of Tyler Co., W. Va., appreciates a good thing and does not hesitate to say so. He was almost prostrated with a cold when he procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says: "It gave me prompt relief. I find it to be an invaluable remedy for coughs and

THE FORTUNE PLACER MINES.

FROM PARK CO. BULLETIN, ALMA, COL. The Bulletin man had the pleasure of a trip to the Tarryall gulch and hills this week, one of the richest mineral sections, and greatest gold producing districts in the Rocky Mountain regions, and one which, ere another year has fairly begun, will excite more than ordinary attention. There are already famous prospects in the quartz ledges, at the head of Tarryall, as well as some good producing mines, though until recently prospectors but began to search for the mountain sources from whence the rich stock of gold has drifted into the basin and table lands of the Tarryall gulch.

The boom in quartz mining which has now set in is therefore due to the product of these placer diggings, the output of which, has, in many cases, been almost too wonderful to believe. The Bulletin believes in dealing with the

This company has on its property a number of good, substantial buildings, two extensive reservoirs, between 500 and 1,000 feet of 12 inch pipe, and one giant with a 4-inch nozel, with pits and flumes already started for next season's work, while men are at present employed sinking shafts to bed-rock where dirt has been obtained that washed $1.25 to the pan. The depth to bed-rock, over this property, varies from 20 feet in some places to 75 and 100 in others. The dirt is rather more free in others. The dirt is rather more free from boulders than is ordinarily the case, and can be forced through flumes at a very rapid rate. IS DEBS RIGHT?

The Question Propounded by the Foremes Newspaper of the City of Duluth.

The address of the American Railway union leader last night must be recognized even by those who do not agree with him as a masterpiece of adroit defense and clear statement. There was not a spark of malice or vituperation. It was an ex parte statement, to be sure, clearing the way for the postoffice and but it was marked by such candor and diplomatic and consular appropriation evident sincerity that it would be hard bills now on the calendar, and for the In- to doubt the truth of any specific allegation put forth, while for almost every circumstance he claimed to be fact we establishment of a national military park at Gettysburg, Pa., and appropriate markthat Miles did claim he had broken the healthier stock." backbone of the strike; that the general managers did agree to sustain Pullman and make his quarrel theirs; that they did promise to treat a strike on any road as one against all roads, and so compel any strike to become general or a failure.

At every other point Debs spoke from the ascertained record.

While he demonstrated to the satisfaction of his audience that the quarrel was not made by the union, that is not of so much matter now. The strike is over. What we have to consider is the precedent established during those stormy days. It is a serious innovation -the regulation of labor disputes by injunction, the punishment of crimes and misdemeanors by process for contempt of court without trial, the use of federal troops without warrant of the local authorities. Those are present questions They are bound to recur again.

Debs says if Debs is guilty of conspiracy so are the general managers. Have we, then, one law for the rich and another for the poor? Debs says if a labor if legislation by injunction is competent there is no need of other legislation and every federal judge is a czar. Brooklyn Strikers Are Still Confident of Winning the Strike.

A LETTER FROM JUSTICE GAYNOR

Throws Light on the Methods of Trolley Magnates.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 6.-Master Workman Connelly says that the strike is as far from being off as it was three weeks ago. "We had about 150 applications for relief and passage home yesterday," said he.
"These men were brought on from Phila-delphia. Baltimore, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Chicago and Boston by the companies on whose roads the strike exists. They were found to be totally incompetent and were discharged. They appealed to the strikers for relief and sufficient money to pay their fares home. The strike leaders, however, refused to have anything to do with

"We had nothing to do with them," he continued, emphatically, "and we don't want to have anything to do with them. They did not leave the employ of the companies voluntarily; they were discharged, and we will not aid men of this kind. Any one who leaves the companies of his own accord will be well taken care of, will be fed and sent to his home if he wishes it.
"Things look brighter tonight for the men and the bosses must give in, for they are running the roads at a dead loss. Sympathy with the men is keeping the traveling public from using the trolley cars. The public will not patronize the boy-

Justice Gaynor's Pointers.

Justice Gaynor of the supreme court has written a letter to the state board of mediation and arbitration, in which he discusses the circumstances attending the Brooklyn trolley strike, and in which he

"In the immediate dispute which led to the conflict between the companies and the men, I see nothing worthy of serious attention. The dispute was too small not to have been settled easily, except for the inflamed condition brought on by the attempt to create vast inflated wealth on the one side being met by justly aroused uneasiness and apprehension on the other. Under healthy conditions the dispute would not have lasted an hour, if it arose

And Doesn't Forget to Say Something For Himself.

BERLIN, Feb. 6.-Emperor William yesterday received a deputation of the municipal authorities who waited upon his majesty for the purpose of thanking him for his munificent offer to erect at his own expense a number of statues of prom-inent Germans in the Siege Sallee in the Thiergarten.

The emperor, replying to the deputa-tion, said he was very anxious that the glorious memories of 25 years ago should be kept fresh in the minds of all Germans, especially those of the citizen class. In no city had the influence of a sovereign on its development and growth manifested itself so interestingly as in Berlin.

It had been shown that the prince and the city were sometimes at strife, then in agreement, but always in a position of mutual respect. It was a Great Satisfaction to Him to afford the municipal authorities of Berlin, whose services he gladly recognized, a mark of his acknowledgments in his gift to the city.

He was often in a position, and especially while abroad, to explain what Berlin had done, and he always took occasion to point out that what had been achieved in the German capital was the work of honorary officers, who, without advantage to themselves and solely from patriotic feeling, devoted their efforts to the general as a domestic and her pension money as a

He hoped that the whole population, without distinction of religion or political party, would in the future, especially in anxious times, hold steadfastly to their sovereign and make it easier for him to fulfill his duty.

Referring to general affairs, he men-tioned the North sea canal, especially noting that owing to the wise arrangements for the workmen employed thereon, not a claiming ability to prove an alibi. Last year when he applied for an increase of salary, I appeared before the Legislative Committee and opposed his claim, stating that he was not adapted to the place and that nature had not fitted him for the position. I have complained to the Compiroller of County Accounts about Mr. Churchilli's inefficiency and I understand that Mr. Loring has censured the clerk's methods. Selectman Daland of Brookline, thought a court house to cost $70,000 was out of proportion to the needs. He had not investigated the matter but Brookline which pays 35 per cent. of the Norfolk county tax would object.

Ex-Commissioner Wiggin.

George W. Wiggin of Franklin, whose term as county commissioner expired Jan. 1, 1894, was the next witness. Judge Humphrey, he said, was formerly on the board with him, and went from there to the bench. There was a question then as over his victory over team B of 2,086 to whether it was the daty of commis- pins to 2,069 pins. This was done notioners or judge to provide quarters. udge Humphrey preferred the commissioners should act and they had. A few B had to bowl with one dummy. Brock necessary, and authorized the judge to strings, 182 and 470. The score: preceed and have the work done to his satisfaction, which he did. But now as to this scheme, for such I Barber, regard it. We were told at the first hearing Briggs, hat the Norfolk County Commissioners Casey, favored it, but Chairman Morrell tells me Battison, (capt ) the board did not favor; that it had not considered it. Mr. Morrell was here ten minutes before this hearing, why did he King, (capt.) not remain? There were in the State 32 Freeman, district courts and 19 police courts, but in Brock.

a surplus. Now it had a debt of $125,000. It was true Quincy as a city was taking entire charge of its streets, but the framers 6.30 and 7.45 P. M. of the charter so desired. Brookline had built its own road. He remonstrated because of the taxes which were increasing. Improvements were still in progress at the Dedham court house. He had no idea that $70,000 would be enough. The same architect had estimated the cost at Dedham at $50,000 and over $300,000 had been expended. He quoted tax rates showing general increase in Norfolk county towns. To Mr. Mitchell he said he had seen worse and he had seen better court rooms. Ex-Senator Ray of Franklin, entered protest on ground of economy. Tax had increased too rapidly in county. The elegant court house at Dedham was unfinished and it was impossible to obtain probable cost. Better to wait until district courts were firmly established. A conservative element in county was against further large expenditures for buildings. Surprised that County Commissioners had been represented in favor. Thought petitioners should have leave to withdraw.

Representative Whittaker knew nothing of the necessity of case, but thought it could wait.

J. Q. A. Field Was the last speaker. Was on board of Commissioners some years previous to 1890. The matter should be looked into carefully. How much of a building shall be erected to accommodate public. With one or two exceptions had never seen court too small for court business proper. If a scheme it should be stopped. The absolute needs were many and water, sewers and schoolhouses were liable to make the rate in Quincy over $20 per

FEARS OF RADICALISM

The Magnates of London Stirred Un Over the Coming County Council Election. The elections for the London county council, the body which governs the whole of this vast metropolis except the tiny area known as the city, will take that they will be fought on strictly political lines. The magnates who own the greater part of the land upon which London stands, including men like Lord Salisbury, the Duke of Bedford frightened by the increasingly radical, not to say socialistic, character of the present council that their purse strings, usually kept tightly tied indeed, have been unloosed, and they are prepared to spend $500,000 to help the Tories obtain a majority.

Several noblemen even consider the emergency so great that they are willing to sacrifice themselves to the extent of becoming candidates and sitting in .he council with quite common people, even find constituencies to elect them. The music hall people have also thrown in their lot with the Tories, and one of them, Mr. George Edwardes, manager 54r of the Empire, has sacrificed his feelings like the noble sufferers just referred to and is contesting the division against 33r so called purity crusade.—London Let-20r ter

The Springer Bill Runs Againet Snags In the House.

LONDON GOLD FOR A BOND ISSUE

Understood to Be the Purpose of the Administration.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.-The debate on the administration bill to authorize the issue of $500,000,000 gold bonds for the purpose of retiring the legal tenders and the treasury notes began in the house yesterday and continued for six hours. It developed widely divergent views at the outset. The silver Democrats and Populists opposed is outright. Some of administration Democrats favored a while Mr. Reed, the leader of the Repubthe present trouble to the deficiency in the revenue. Mr. Reed said that "to raise revenues would be confession, and confession might mean suicide."

He said that those in control of public affairs would have command of the revenue question for the next two years. The secretary of the treasury had just reported to the senate that he would have a surplus of $22,000,000. The secretary had given the last dollar of this surplus. Now, if the secretary had the surplus, the thing to do was to use it, and, instead of longtime gold bonds, issue certificates to be redeemable at any time.

Mr. Reed said he would send to the desk changed or modified. He was not insistent on having it considered as a substithe pending bill. But it avoided the quescomplications promised by the original

Points of Reed's Measure. Section 1 of Mr. Reed's bill authorizes the secretary of the treasury to issue 3 per cent bonds, payable after five years, similar to the bonds issued under the resumption act. It is substantially similar to State bank of Exeter, was held yesterday, Mr. Sherman's bill introduced in the senate.

Section 2 embodies the new phase introduced by Mr. Reed, and is as follows: That to enable the secretary of the trea-ury to pay the current expenses of the govern ment, so long as the current revenues shall be deficient, he is authorized and required, from time to time, in his discretion, to issue, sell and dispose of at not less than par, such an amount of certificates of indebtedness of the denominations of $25, $50 and $100, or any multiple thereof, as may be needed for that purpose, bearing not to exceed 8 per cent interest per annum, payable semi-annually and redeemable at the pleasure of the government in coin after two years from their date, with like qualities, privileges and exemptions provided in the act approved

The secretary may at his discretion sell and. dispose of the same for not less than an equal amount of lawful money of the United states, at designated depositories of the United States, and at such postoffices as he may select, and the secretary may use the proceeds thereof for the purpose provided for in this section and for none other.

Mr. Walker (Rep., Mass.) said Mr. Carlisle was a good man, but no financier, and that if John Sherman w s at the helm of the treasury the present trouble would be ended shortly. The government had "Waal, I come from pretty fur back slready been forced to issue $100,000,000 of bonds, which were denominated "Grovers." Shortly $100,000,000 more "Grovers" would be floated, and the next step would be the issue of $500,000,000 "Grovers."

Mr. Simpson (Pop., Kan.) regretted that he could add no hilarity to "this funereal occasion." He inquired what were the 'moral obligations" to which Mr. Springer had referred as binding the secretary to redeem obligations in gold, and declared that it was an evil inheritance from Republican rule. He characterized place in March, and it is now evident the new bill as a complete surrender of the Democratic party to the banking interest. Mr. Pence (Pop., Colo.) marveled that such a measure as the pending bill should emanate from a Democratic committee at the dictation of a Democratic president, and he expressed for himself and his party and the Duke of Westminster, are so a willingness to co-operate for the passage of some relief measure along the right

The debate under the five-minute rule, when the bill will be open for amendment, begins today.

London Bankers May Take Bonds. The cabinet was in session yesterday rom before 10 o'clock until after 2:45. It is understood that almost the only subject of discussion was the pending bond issue. Several prominent New York bankers are here, and while they have not seen either the president or Mr. Carlisle. with their own tradesmen, if they can it is understood that their views on the situation were conveyed to the president. No authoritative statement of the character of the cabinet discussion can be made, but it is believed that no final action has been determined upon. It is understood that negotiations with representatives of London bankers are now in progress, with indications of Mr. McDougal, one of the leaders of the so called purity crusade.—London Let-longer any expectation of a popula oan to be placed in this country, as in that event the experience of the last few nonths would be repeated and the gold eserve again depleted.

The purpose of the administration is, it s understood, to place the entire issue o bonds with London bankers who would pay for them in gold, and thus avoiding. for the present at least, the necessity for paying out gold in exchange for legal tenders. While no definite conclusion has been reached, it is believed that the announcement of the sale of the bonds will be made at an early day.

Senatorial "Courtesy." The senate session opened with a ver reezy personal altercation between Mr Mitchell of Oregon and Mr. Harris of Tennessee. The words "ungentlemanly" and contemptible" were exchanged, and for a ime it looked as though the senate cham ber might witness a repetition of the belligerent scene in the house last week; but he conflict assumed a somewhat serioomic aspect, and the senate soon relapsed into an uneventful consideration of routine business. The District of Columbia appropriation bill was passed after having been before the senate more than a week, and the discussion of the diplomatic and

POWER OF REMOVAL. Mayor Strong Triumphs In the Fight Is

removal bill has been concurred in by the assembly by a vote of 111 to 7.

The New York senate passed the bill to permit the mayor of New York to remove the heads of departments of New York within six months from the time he takes office. The senate backed down on the question of four months, which Mr. Platt wanted, to six months, which Mayor Strong demanded. The house, which had already passed a bill in which the limit was fixed at four months, had to swallow its own medicine and accept the six months' limit, as demanded by public sentiment in New York city. The senate, however, amended the bill, limiting the power to remove to the mayor "elected for a full term;" in other words, excluding the president of the MACHINERY MAY BE DISABLED. board of aldermen, in case he should become mayor. CLERKS TOLD QUEER STORIES.

Will Now Have to Explain Matters to the Court.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7 .- "If Mr. Pullman has evaded the serving of the subpoena, I shall certainly punish him for contempt of court," said Judge Grosscup last evening. Half a dozen of George M. Pullman's clerks will be brought before the judge and sworn as to their knowledge as to Mr. Pullman's actions on Monday.

A subpona was issued for his presence s a witness in Judge Grosscup's court on behalf of the defense in the conspiracy cases. The subpœna was given to Deputy United States Marshal Jones on Monday morning. At the offices of the Pullman company he was informed by one of the attendants that Mr. Pullman was in the building. Another clerk, who was re quested to inform Mr. Pullman that some one wished to see him, inquired of Deputy Jones his business. He was informed that he had a subpoena for Mr. Pullman to appear in the Debs trial.

The clerk returned to the outer office in a few minutes and said Mr. Pullman was not in his office, but would be in later. All Monday the clerks kept the deputy running up and down the elevator. Each ime he returned he was informed that

What it Means

Backache and Kidney Trouble

While Backache in itself is not a disease, it indicates a derangement of the vital organs-it's a symptom of disease. Kidney trouble, at any stage, is serious and neglect of the symptom means neglecting the disease. Curing a Backache means curing diseased Kidneys and relieving them of congestion. This can be done in the early stages. Buker's Kidney Pills are specific for the cure of Backache and Kidney trouble, if taken in time. It's a vegetable remedy. Druggists sell them for 50 cents. LABOR'S SEVEREST STRUGGLE.

Fight to Decide Whether Organized Workmen Are to Be Made Powerless The following statement was prepared by the board of directors of the American Railway union: The American Railway union is engaged in a contest with organized capital and needs the help of the labor organizations of the whole country. The importance of the struggle seems not to be fully understood, and a statement of the case setting forth the tremendous consequences involved in success or failure should be put before the labor pub-

There are two cases against President Debs and eight other directors of the union. The first for contempt of court or failure to call off the strike the fourth day after its inception has been tried, the defendants found guilty and a sentence of imprisonment in the county jail imposed by the court. This case was prosecuted by both the government and the Santa Fe company, and the defendants received a sentence on each complaint, but were ordered to serve them at the same time, thus making a total imprisonment of six months for Debs and three months for each of the directors. Believing that an appeal to the supreme court would be of doubtful result, and having expended over $25,000 thus far in the struggle, it seemed questionable whether the best course was not to stop fighting, serve out the sentences and have done with it. But at this point the rights and liberty of all organized labor come prominently into the question. If the case is allowed to rest here without appeal, the same infamous construction of the law can again and again be used against labor organizations and their leaders sent to prison every time a strike is attempted. Nor is this all. Under the law as applied by this court every one who participates in a strike is guilty of any violence or crime committed by any other person during that strike—that is to say, if during a strike a hired spy of capital, who may have previously joined a labor organization, commits a murder each striker is an accessory and liable to in dictment for murder and the death pen alty. Even a child must see at a glance that if this decision stands as law al labor organizations are dead and practical slavery awaits the laboring people But in attempting to appeal the case new difficulties are encountered. This contempt case is a double one, and while the government case is appealable the Santa Fe case is not. Therefore to cases and thus serve the sentences separately, making an imprisonment of on year for the president and six months for each of the directors. So far as the individuals are concerned, it would be far better to let the case rest, but in a issue that means the life or death of or ganized labor the personal interests of men must be brushed aside unconsider

The second difficulty was the question of the money to carry this voluminous gase to the supreme court of the United States. 'The six months' fight already made has depleted the treasury and exhausted the personal resources of the defendants. Their attorneys have also vide costs and expense funds. The defendants must have the united help o labor or fail in the unequal struggle against the corporations' millions. There is still another and much more serious case against the defendants. The offense charged is "conspiracy to stop the mails," and in this the corporations hope to establish decisions that will wipe out the last vestige of labor or course of justice as to accomplish this atrocity, and from what has thus far been done it is evident a desperate effort will be made to do it, we shall live in a despotism almost as bad as that o Russia, and no man's life or liberty will be secure. If organized labor would es cape this fate, it must act, and ac promptly. Money must be raised to fight on to the court of last resort and leave nothing undone to prevent this deathblow being struck at the labor organiza tions of the United States. Reed Refuses to Substitute "Gold" For "Coin" In His Bill.

THE MEASURE STRONGLY OPPOSED

Bankers Want More Than Three Per Cent on Bonds.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 .- Messrs. Reed and Dingley and other Republican leaders were in consultation yesterday with Messrs. Springer and Hendrix and other Democrats who are pushing the administration plan of relief for the treasury, with a view of compromising their differences, if such a thing is possible.

The administration leaders were willing to accept the Reed bill providing for 2 per cent bonds to replenish the gold re serve and an issue of debt certificates to meet deficiencies in the current revenues, provided that Mr. Reed would make the bonds "gold" instead of "coin" An authorization for coin bonds, say those who claim to speak for the president, would not afford relief to the treasury. Mr. Reed refused to accept the proposed modification, and negotiations for the compro-Some opposition to Mr. Reed's financial plans is developing among the Republicans in the house, but what proportions it will assume is a matter of doubt. Ultra high tariff men are asserting that the first ection of the substitute, that which provides for the issue of bonds, amounts to a recession from the Republican contention that the only trouble with the finances is the insufficiency of the revenue. They say that the Democrats have assumed the responsibility of running the government, and should be compelled to bear the bur-

Three Pennsylvania Republicans have come out openly against the Reed measure, and with two or three silver men are working against it. While some of the free silver Republicans will vote for the Reed substitute, others argue that from a party standpoint it will be a good policy to encourage the Democrats to pass a bond measure with a gold proviso.

Representative Brosius, who is a member of the banking and currency committee, says that he believes the most of the Republicans will vote for the administration measure after recording themselves for Mr. Reed's bill, but he fears that the Democratic defection will be strong nough to defeat it. Mr. Hendrix of New York, who endeav-Whose sweet thought is the truest of true and those with most at stake had sufficient confidence in our government and its institutions not to entertain any doubts of its ability and purpose to faithfully perform every obligation

The second day's debate on the administration's bill authorizing the issue of $500. 000,000 of gold bonds for the retirement of the legal tenders and treasury notes was not productive of marked incident of any kind. A good deal of confusion existed after 2 o'clock when the committee began voting on amendments to this bill. Most of the amendments were defeated as rapidly as offered.

The committee on banking and currency sustained two defeats, two of the amendments proposed by that committee being voted down. They were the amendments proposing to strike out the section providing for the payment of custom duties in gold, which was allowed to stand amended so as to make payable in gold and silver, and that compelling national banks to carry their reserve in gold and silver coin.

Mr. Bland then offered his substitute as an amendment to the first section. Mr. Springer made the point of order against Washington, Feb. 7.—Corrected figures it, which was sustained. ### MR. SLADE'S LECTURE.

He Talks to the St. John's C. L. & A. A on the A. P. A.

St. John's hall was crowded Thursday evening at the lecture and concert given by the society. Preceding and following the lecture a musical programme was given by Miss Garland Mischler, Miss Annie Roche, Miss Grace McCarty and Mr. John Keenan; Miss Sadie Smith gave a German recitation and Mr. William Gragg a banjo solo. All responded to encores.

The interest of the evening centered in the lecture, as the speaker had not announced his subject previous. The lecture

The English Novelist's Queer Antics In a Massachusetts Town.

Dr. Doyle, the story runs, was engaged to lecture in Morristown under the auspices of St. Bartholomew's school, and the 25 boys of the school were in a quiver of excitement at the prospect of seeing and meeting the creator of Sherlock Holmes. The head master, the Rev. F. E. Edwards, with the most hospitable intentions, invited Dr. Doyle to dinner before the lecture, inviting also at the same time Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stockton, great friends of the clergyman. Dr. Doyle declined the invitation, to the great regret indeed of the host, the two guests and four or five boys that had been specially favored by being asked to meet the big author. At the dinner hour, however, to the surprise of Mr. Edwards, he received a telephone message from Dr. Doyle at the station, announcing: "I'm here. What shall I do?"

"Why, we didn't expect you, but do come right over. We just sat down to Swinging along, the Englishman soon appeared, but despite diplomatic coaxing could not be prevailed upon to enter the dining room." He wouldn't, he said, meet any one. No! Although assured that only Mr. and Mrs. Stockton and four boys were present, that the dinner was very informal, he still remained obdurate.

"Can't I eat my dinner alone?" he asked bluntly.

So he ate his dinner alone, devouring several plates of roast beef and frequent relays of vegetables with lightning ra- Copeland Street, pidity. Unknown to any one in the house, the brawny Englishman soon fled and was next seen in the lecture hall of the school. A large audience was present, and every courtesy was extended to haste, Dr. Doyle pocketed the $300 fee and hastened to the train. The only person, in fact, that met the distinguished British author was Mr. Stockton and as the author of "Rudder Grange But the 25 boys were sadly disappointed at not shaking hands with the hero of their imaginings. The whole proceeding of the talented author was, in fact, so foreign to what has been reported of him by men and papers that Morristown's Four Hundred are wondering whether Dr. Doyle could possibly have thought the town a jay place, and that he therefore dreaded meeting bucolic enthusiasts. - Boston Beacon.

SENSITIVE MODELS.

Publication of "Trilby" Causes Some to Resign From the Profession. Women models have always been a little sensitive about their profession, says a writer in the Boston Herald, and since "Trilby" has been the favorite topic of studio gossip some of the best of them have felt that sensitiveness increase and have declined to pose for the nude. Child models who have been in the profession since before they could walk have been forbidden to enter stutheir families by posing have refused to mount the model stand. Miss Arabella Gold, who is known as a famous figure model to the best New York artists, has recently sent in a publie resignation from the profession. She wrote to one of the leading New York papers requesting that it publish the fact that she would never again pose for the figure. Miss Gold's resignation is a decided loss to the artists. She is said to have one of the most exquisitely formed figures in the world. Of late she has been posing for a number of Sarony's living pictures. In one of the most celebrated of these she represents an almost perfect facsimile of the famous painting, "Psyche." Many models whose forms have heretofore been prominent features in the portrait exhibitions declare that they. too, will renounce the business entirely. It is not that they object to posing nude, they claim, but the notoriety which embarrasses their profession has become intolerable since the publication.

The majority of models interviewed have not read the book, but claim that Trilby, whoever she was, has seriously degraded the profession. Some spoke of her as a New York model guilty of some despicable crime. Others believed her to be a reformer.

OVERRUN WITH MICE.

A Most Remarkable State of Affairs In the Province of Kharkoff, Russia.

One of the most unpleasant places in this world to live in just at present, according to Russian papers, is the province of Kharkov, in the land of the czar. The country is now overrun with mice-millions of mice. The cats have become so accustomed to the sight of the little animals that they no longer catch them or even play with them. They are said to be a greater pest than the rabbits were in Australia a few years ago. Provisions for the table, candles, soap, books, shoes-everything, in fact, is eaten up by the animal in the nighttime. The furniture even is not spared. Sleep for many of the poor inhabitants has become almost impossible. All of them virtually have been obliged to place their beds in the mid dle of the rooms. Some of them even have been forced to sleep with their feet in basins of water, the Russians of that district believing that mice will not touch a person so sleeping. If these precautions are not followed, the mice dance a genuine "saraband" on the recumbent figures and on the bed and

Almost all the wheat has been destroyed. A number of wealthy women -landed proprietors-have been obliged to abandon their homes and have gone to St. Petersburg to get away from the scourge, for such it has become. In the fields the mice are so numerous that men kill 200 or 800 in five to Teach Us to Wait.

Why are we so impatient of delay, Longing forever for the time to be? For thus we live tomorrow in today— Yea, sad tomorrows we may never see.

To let kind nature do her work alone. We plant our seed, and like a foolish child We dig it up to see if it has grown.

The good that is to be we covet now. We cannot wait for the appointed hour.

When midnight darkness reigns, we do not see That the sad night is mother of the morn. We cannot think our own sharp agony May be the birth pang of a joy unborn. Into the dust we see our idols cast

And cry that death has triumphed, life is We do not trust the promise that the last

Of all our enemies shall be destroyed! With rest almost in sight the spirit faints And heart and flesh grow weary at the last.

Knockout Blow For Financial Legislation at This Session.

THE ADMINISTRATION BILL KILLED

Substitutes Were Disposed of In Short Order.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 .- The last hope of financial legislation for the relief of the treasury at the present session of congress went by the board when the house yesterday afternoon, by a vote of 134 to 161, rejected the administration bill to authorize an issue of $500,000,000 gold bonds.

The bill was beaten before it reached its last parliamentary stage. This result was reached after three days of spirited and at times heated debate, and at the end of a seven hours' session. From 11 until 3:30 o'clock yesterday, when the bill with the pending substitutes were reported to the house from the committee of the whole, amendments were offered in rapid suc-BOSTON-Old Colony News Stand after cession, most of which were voted down as fast as they were offered.

Many of them were designed to load down the bill, and the votes thereon were in no sense test votes. The Bell amendment, for instance, to make the bonds payable in gold and silver, was defeated by the decisive vote of 76 to 106, while the bill was defeated by 134 to 161. Both the Reed and Cox substitutes, with the amendments thereto, were rejected after the bill was reported to the house.

The Reed substitute authorizing the issue of coin bonds for the replenishment of the gold reserve and certificates of indebtedness to defray any deficiencies in the revenues was lost-109 to 187. It was a party vote, save for the fact that seven Democrats and Cannon of California voted

When the question came up on the third reading and engrossment of the bill, the whole opposition concentrated. While the vote was being taken, which resulted in the refusal of the house to order the third reading, the interest centered in the vote of Mr. Reed. He sat quietly in his seat during the first call and did not answer to his name, but on the second call he voted for the bill.

As soon as the result was announced, Mr. Reed attempted to make an explanaion of the attitude of himself and those of his colleagues who had voted for the bill, but objection was made. He afterward explained, however, that he had subnitted a proposition (his own substitute) which he considered would meet the situation. The Democrats had rejected this, and then he and many of his colleagues, although opposed to features of the original bill, had voted for it in the hope that t would pass and be amended in the sen-

Mr. Springer then moved to reconsider the vote by which the third reading was refused, but this action was laid on the able-135 to 123-and the bill was killed. Parliamentarily speaking, an analysis of the vote shows that 42 Republicans and 92 as indirectly antagonistic to the Democrats voted for the bill, and that 56 istration policy toward Hawaii. All other Democrats who were for the bill said that this was the end of anything in the way of financial legislation. There was some talk of a Democratic caucus, but that did not seem probable. The general impression prevailed that there would now be another bond issue

Ex-Speaker Reed, who tried to make an explanation on the floor of the house made a brief statement to the press. He said: "I had, with the support of all the Republicans, presented a proposition which the ruling powers saw fit to refuse. Nevertheiess, I had gone further and voted for a bill which contains things which I do not approve of, simply to enable the matter to go to the senate, in hopes that something might be done. The bill has failed. I now desire to suggest that I have no doubt this side of the house would vote for the second section of my substitute, or any other proposition which

by Uncle Sam.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9. - Affairs in Hawaii have taken a turn that has caused the interference of the United States government again, as is made evident by two telegrams sent to congress by the president yesterday. The first is from United States Minister Willis to Secretary of State Gresham, dated Honolulu, Jan. 30, wired from San Francisco Feb. 6, reading as follows:

Revolt over 9th. Casualties-government, 1; arrests. Guiner, former minister, and seward, minister, major in federal army, both Americans, and Rickard, Englishman, sentenced to death; all heretofore prominent in politics. B. Walker, formerly in the United States army, imprisonment for life and $50.0 fine. Other sentences not disclosed, but will probably be death? Recovered compass of record for least the roads are blockaded, an accurate account of the disaster has not been received.

Bitter feeling and threats of mob violence, which arrival of Philadelphia yester yet. Bitter feeling and threats of mob violence, which arrival of Philadelphia yesterday may prevent. Liliuokalani made prisoner 16th, on 24th relinquished all claims and swore allegiance to the republic, imploring elemency for Hawaiians. Government replies to Liliuokalani: "This document cannot be taken to exempt you in the slightest degree from personal and individual liability for complicity in cond, and a number were overcome by sonal and individual liability for complicity in late conspiracy. Denies that she had any rights since Jan. 14, 1893, when she attempted new constitution. Fully appreciates her call to disaffected to recognize republic, and will give full consideration to her unselfish appeal for elemency for participants."

Gresham's Instructions. In response to the above, Secretary Gresham last evening addressed the fol-

Mr. Cooper, United States dispatch agent, San Francisco: Forward following by first steamer to A. S Willis, United States minister, Honolulu: If American citizens were condemned to death by a military tribunt, not for actual partici-pation in reported revolt, but for complicity only, or if condemned to death by such a tri-bunal for actual participation, but not after open fair trial with opportunity for defense, report to your government evidence relied on England Looking Toward Hawaii, Interest in the senate yesterday centered in the two messages from the presidentthe first on finance and the second transmitting Minister Willis' latest dispatch from Hawaii, stating that two American citizens were under sentence of death for participation in the royalist uprising.

The closest attention was given to both of comment throughout the debate. The face. Hawaiian dispatches had opportune bearing on the subject under discussion-the building of a cable to Hawaii-and Mr. Hale of Maine and Mr. Morgan of Alabama pointed out that it showed the imperative need of quick communication by means of a cable with Hawaii.

The speech of Mr. Morgan, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, was one of the most notable the senate has heard in some time. It set forth in forci-ble terms the need of establishing connections with Hawaii in order to overcome the aggressions of Great Britain in the Pacific. Mr. Morgan declared that Great Britain was secretly plotting to wrest Pearl Harbor from the control of the United States, and thus secure the Gibraltar of the Pacific. The day's session closed with a spirited controversy as to the attitude of this government toward Hawaii's con-demnations to death of those engaged in the recent uprising.

In the House. Discussing and fitibustering on an appropriation item to allow congressmen clerks at $1200 per annum, brought forward as an amendment to the legislative appropriation bill, staved off material progress on that measure in the house. It being evident that a vote on the proposition was impossible, the bill was laid aside late in the day and other business considered until adjournment. The president's message, advising congress of an arrangement to sell $62,400,000 4 per cent bonds, was received with slight applause of approval on the Democratic side. The message on Hawaiian matters was read and referred to the committee on foreign Frozen to Death. TORONTO, Feb. 9.-Miss Mamie Cable,

NEW YORE, Feb. 9.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The condition of industries, if not definitely better at least presents some points of encourage

No advance in the prices of manu factured products indicates a better de-mand. On the contrary, iron and steel products have slightly declined.

The difficulty in boots and shoes has not been removed. Not many shops are running to their full capacity, and orders are restricted, both by the attempted advance in prices and the extremely low prices o farm products. In some grades the south ern demand is especially weak, and in split and oil grain shoes some of the fac tories have closed, manufacturers not car ing to take larger orders at the slight ad vance obtainable.

Cotton and Wool. In cotton goods there has been a reduction in some brown sheetings, while other qualities are moving fairly at unchanged prices. The general tone of the market however, is not particularly encouraging Prices of raw cotton are unchanged, al though the receipts continue unusually large for the season. The market for cot-ton goods does not appear to have improved abroad, as it does not here. A large auction sale of silks resulted in prices about 10 per cent below the recent market prices. In woolens, the opening of the fine grades for the heavy weight season has brought some increase in business, but not at satisfactory prices, while the duplicate orders in the light weights are unusually large. Sales of wool thus far this year hav been 17,308,665 pounds domestic, against 12,921,500 pounds last year and 26,250,550 in 1893; and of foreign, 11,038,550 pounds It is noticeable that sales of foreign woo have not been materially larger this year, without duties, than they were in the same weeks of 1893 or 1892. Wheat and Corn. No improvement in the prices of farm products has resulted from the somewhat active speculation during the week, whea being only 1/2 cent higher than a week ago with western receipts only 792,971 bushels against 2,240,256 last year, while exports have been a little smaller. The western receipts for the month have been 5.112.27; oushels, against 2,499,710 last year.

Receipts of corn have been small, bu prices have slightly advanced. Business Failures. Failures for the past week have been 281 in the United States, against 385 last year, and 58 in Canada, against 60 last year.

Canadians Hopeful. Bradstreet's review says: Sever weather in the province of Ontario has in terfered with the volume of trade, yet merchants at Toronto and elsewhere i the province regard the outlook for spring business hopefully. Similar features are reported from the province of Quebec, where mercantile col lections have improved, when compared with the corresponding period last year. Halifax wires that general trade at Nova Scotia is fair, but commercial payments are slow. Weather conditions, however favor the lumber industry. Advices from Newfoundland continue the tale of uncertainty and gloom in busi-ness circles which has characterized reports from that colony for several weeks Bank clearings at Winnipeg, Hamilton Toronto, Montreal and Halifax this week aggregate $19,578,000, against $18,013,000 000 in the like week last year.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9. - The trial of William T. Andrews on the charge of malicious libel, preferred by the builders of the Queen Lane reservoir, about which there has been so much scandal, took a sensational turn when Andrews pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to pay $1000 fine and costs and was ordered detained in prison until his fine is paid.

Topped Off With a Ball. BANGOR, Me., Feb. 9. - The new armory of the Shampin Rifles, N. G. M. V. M. camp Sons of Veterans, was dedicated city hall, which has been reconstructed upon a solid stone foundation on a new site. The exercises wound up with a grand military ball.

Jumped Overboard. NEW YORK, Feb. 9 .- Philip McGovern of Boston became insane while coming to

New York on the steamer City of Worcester and jumped off the deck. He was fished out, and when the boat reached New York he was given to the charge of Must Pay a Dollar Apiece.

LITTLE ROCK, Feb. 9.-The executive committee of Knights of Pythias having in charge the matter of building a national Pythian sanitarium at Hot Springs have closed preliminary details. An assessment of $1 per knight will be levied.

Disturbers Indicted. BROOKLYN, Feb. 9.—The February grand jury yesterday brought in 12 indictments against strikers and others who obstructed and interfered with trolley cars and committed acts of violence during the strike. All pleaded not guilty.

WEYMOUTH EXTENSION.

The Selectmen Propose a Compromis on Street Rallway Locations.

A public meeting was held Friday by the Weymouth Selectmen, when counsel for the Quincy & Boston and Braintree & Weymouth street railways appeared and were heard in regard to the legal status of the two companies.

Judge Flint counsel for the Braintree & Weymouth company denied the statements made by the opposing counsel at the previous hearing.

The hearing was prolonged nearly five ours and was for the most part a repetiion of the previous hearing.

It will be remembered at the former hearing Counsel Worthen stated that the stock of the Braintree & Weymouth company had been illegally issued, and it now turns out that both companies are in the same box and have applied to the Railroad Commissioners to legalize it, and a hearing will be given Feb. 13.

At the close of Friday's hearing a private meeting was held in the Selectmen's office when a compromise was suggested by the board, which was favorably received by the Quincy & Boston Company, but which the Braintree & Weymouth Company re-

NO OTHER ISSUES NECESSARY

The Belief of Those Posted on Financial Matters.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.-The bond transaction consummated yesterday, strictly speaking, is not a sale of bonds for gold, but a purchase of gold to be paid for in bonds. The issue was not made under the authority granted by the resumption act, but under section 3700 of the revised statutes, which reads as follows:

The secretary of the treasury may purchase coin with any of the bonds or notes of the United States, authorized by law, at such rates and upon such terms as he may deem most advantageous to the public interest.

The contract was made with August Belmont & Co. of New York on behalf of Messrs. N. M. Rothschilds & Son of London and themselves, and J. P. Morgan & BOSTON-Old Colony News Stand after Co. of New York on behalf of J. S. Morgan & Co. of London and themselves, and provides for the delivery to the United States of 8,500,000 ounces of standard gold coin of the United States ($62,400,000) to be paid for in United States 4 per cent bonds. A large number of other banks and financial institutions are interested in the transaction, but their names are not mentioned in the contract itself.

The department does not know in what proportions the various parties are to furish the gold coin and receive the bonds, as this is a matter for arrangement among themselves. By the terms of the contract the parties are to bear all the expense of bringing the gold from abroad, and another stipulation of great importance is that Messrs. Morgan and Belmont agree to exert all their financial strength and influence, and that of their associates, at home and abroad, to protect the treasury against withdrawals of gold pending comete performance of the contract.

No bonds are to be delivered except in payment for gold actually delivered. In view of the probable failure of congress, treasury officials declare that these terms are the best that could be procured with a coin bond. Those who are in a position to know the president's views on the subject, give it as his opinion that this issue will so Iar restore confidence at home and abroad that other issues will be unnecessary. If, however, it should become necessary, the president will act as promptly as may be ecessary to protect the public credit.

Cleveland's Hopeful View. It is confidently expected by the presisaid on good authority that it was the president's first intention to make the present loan $100,000,000, and this amount was for some time insisted upon by the London bankers, but after much deliberation the president concluded that the amount announced yesterday would probgreater amount, and recently he stated to Messrs, Morgan and Belmont that as 8,500,000 ounces of gold would place our reserve above the $100,000,000 point he would not consent to purchase a greater amount. His decision was reluctantly

Concerning the Future. The action of the house ways and means ommittee upon the president's message cannot be predicted with certainty, even by members of that body, although they were engaged in a canvass of views nearly all day. It is understood that a bill upon the president's message will be submitted to the committee, but the attitude of several members toward it is not known. Representatives Wilson, Turner, Stevens, Bynum and Tarsney of the Democrats are supposed to favor such a measure Messrs. Bryan and Wheeler were listed against the Springer bill, and their attitude upon the message is likely to be unchanged. The Republican members of the committee generally decline to say what posiappointed officials must obtain constit. there is talk among them of offering a counter proposition, perhaps something in line with Mr. Reed's plan, although the

PENALTY FOR PRIVATE USE.

The Surprising Dilemma of an Illinoi Congressman's Constituent.

An Illinois congressman is now go ing about the corridors of the capitol wondering what is going to happen to distance. The building was wrecked. No one of his constituents. Last spring he was requested by the said constituent to exercise in his behalf one of the functions of a statesman-to wit, to send him some garden seed from the department of agriculture. The member hastened to comply, and a contingent of seed was at once dispatched to the Illinois man. They went, of course, in a government envelope or envelopes by mail, with the usual legend, "$300 penalty for pri-ate use." In due course the congressman, to show his interest in the welfare of his constituent, wrote to him asking if the seed had been received and if they had grown all right. The constituent replied that they had been planted and had come up finely, "but," said he in his letter, "what shall I do with the stuff I have raised? I notice there is a penalty of $300 for private use, so I don't issossossi like to take any chances.' This was a construction put upon it which the congressman had not before thought of, and the more he thought of it the more he wondered what would happen to that constituent in Illinois, and he is still wondering. - Washington Letter.

during the severe weather last week.

The prospects are that the opening of spring will see the erection of a number of William Stevens. The rescued men are new houses.

Many Quincy turnouts were seen on River street, Sunday, among the gay throng of sleigh parties.

No meeting of the City Council this week. The annual budget will probably come at the next meeting. Officer Connolly is receiving the congratulations of the people on his beat upon the arrival of a son and heir. From a hearing advertised today it will be seen that it is proposed to give Schoo

Committees ever more power. Some of those looking for a job should be given one cleaning the snow off the sidewalks on some of the streets.

AND YET NO TIDINGS.

Whereabouts or Fate of La Gascogne Still a Matter of Conjecture.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 .- The French line steamship La Gascogne, so far as all sources of information go, has failed to reach hartor.

Three steamers which arrived at this port yesterday have seen or heard nothing of her, but the fact that the vessels not nearly so staunch as her have weathered the gales that have swept the Atlantic for the past week or more has given heart and hope to those who can view the chances of the big steamer from an impartia standpoint. La Gascogne has faced many a furious gale in the years that she crossed the ocean, but never was she so tardy in reaching port.

Dispatches reached here from Halifax with the report that La Gascogne had been sighted in the vicinity of Sable island. No official verification of this was to be had, owing to the impossibility of getting communication with the island. Any report, however, of a steamer lying off Sable island in a crippled condition in the midst of heavy gales would not be a hope-inspiring one, as it is an extremely dangerous locality for mariners.

A French line steamer anchored off Sandy Hook early this morning, and it is believed that she is La Normandie, a sister ship of La Gascogne. La Normandie sailed from Havre Feb. 2, and coming over the same course as La Gascogne it was confidently expected that she would was confidently expected that she would have tidings of the other. No signals to that effect have been displayed, and now the officials of the line fix their hopes on La Tourine, which sailed for Havre on Wednesday last with instructions to keep the strictest outlook for La Gascogne, and if necessary to spend extra time in making a detour from the regular course.

But Two Survivors. FIRE ISLAND, Feb. 11.-Two men, who clung for 40 hours to the rigging of the vessel off Fire Island beach, were rescued at midnight by the crew of the Lone Hill lifesaving station. The vessel was the schooner Louis V. Place, Captain Squires. She left Baltimore on Jan. 28, and was wrecked during the height of the gale. Nine men took to the rigging when the vessel went down one-eighth of a mile from shore, and there they clung in the raging blizzard, with the spray freezing as it dashed over them, until one by one, seven of them slipped into the sea or hung lifeless to the rigging by a rope

Two only were able to endure the terrible experience. They were S. J. Nelson and badly frost-bitten, and it is thought that Nelson will lose both legs.

For a Cable to Hawail. WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 .- By the vote of 36 to 25 the senate voted to inaugurate the project of laying a cable from the Pacific coast to Hawaii. An amendment to the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill was made, giving $500,000 for beginning work on the cable, and authorizing the president to contract for the entire work, estimated to cost $3,000,000.

Vote Once for Man X

ON MANNERS, MIND OR HOME. Which Makes the Man? Debate this Question.

And if you vote that home makes the man, let us assist you to make the home. There are hundreds of suggestions under our roof, to be had at wonderfully little prices, that will do much to transform the house from the nature of a mere eating and sleeping place; suggestions that will help to illuminate the darkest corners, and take away the chill of coldness from the room. Warm and cosy carpets, rugs, an easy chair, a picture or a lamp to brighten up the tiniest house and add to home happiness.

Yes, home and its surroundings add much to make the man, and nowhere can the matter of economy be so readily displayed as at this-THE PEOPLE'S

There is probably no other country where so much and so curious betting takes place as in the United States. Especially is this the case at election time. Wizard Edison, it is said, made his first unusual experiment in electricity as the result of a bet. He was a telegraph operator, and the lunches of the boys were carried in tin cans, into which roaches G. D. Phillips of New York won the fancy skating championship for the fourth at mealtime. Various methods were tried to get rid of them, and finally Edison made a bet that he would suppress them. The next day the dinner cans were piled in a heap, and the wizard placed around them a circle of narrow tin foil ribbon about an inch wide, and about a quarter of an inch away another similar circle, and then he connectedboth with the current. La Gascogne Steams Into Port In a Crippled Condition.

MACHINERY HAD BROKEN DOWN.

She Was Further Delayed by Severe Storms.

QUARANTINE, N. Y., Feb. 12.-La Gasogne, the long overdue French steamship, limped into this port last night with three red lights hanging from her foremast, as a signal that she was disabled. Her passengers were all on deck, some of hem singing and most of them cheering as persons are wont to do when their minds are suddenly relieved of a heavy

For 13 days of a voyage lasting 16 days the ship's machinery had been disabled, ne of her main piston rods having broken on her third day out from Havre. For 16 hours on that fateful third day the vessel was hove to while the break was being repaired. It was comparatively into some of the nastiest weather of her voyage.

When the break had been repaired the steamer proceeded on her way, but under | Fire island. Captain Sydney Smith greatly reduced speed. When near the Banks of Newfoundland La Gascogne ran into a gale that increased to a hurricane. While off Sable island, Feb. 5, the machinery broke down again, and the steamer was hove to again, this time for 41 hours. During all that period the engines did not make a single revolution.

When the second repairs had been made passed within two miles of shore. the steamer started ahead once more under still further reduced power, and headed toward the Long Island coast. But One Steamer Sighted on the Voyage.

At the request of a reporter, Mr. Mix, a representative of the Thomson-Houston Electrical company, one of the cabin passengers, hastily wrote out the following statement, which he threw overboard: was stopped, and the passengers, on ina part of the machinery had broken down. been no shock or noise sufficient to cause

The passengers had noticed a commotion mong the crew and officers, however, consequent upon the break-down, and when inquiries were made by the passengers the officers made no attempt to conceal the true facts. We learned that the piston of one of the intermediate cylinders had broken, thus incapacitating the entire machinery. The engine had been stopped as soon as possible, and the steamer fell off into the trough of the sea, which was not

"The passengers were quite cool and no one apprehended danger. In fact we were not at first distressed by the knowledge of the accident. ### Editorial Comment.

IT is rumored that Mr. George G. Saville, recently of the firm of Saville & Jones, is slated for Water Commissioner or Superintendent. The LEDGER is informed that it is the latter. It would be an excellent appointment for either position. Mr. Saville is a graduate of the School of Technology, has been a civil engineer, and was born in Quincy. Commissioner Cavanagh has been most prominently mentioned as the next superintendent, but some of his friends say he would not take it. Will ex-Councilman Shea be the third commissioner?

What will be the Population of Quine Next May?

In 1890 this city ranked 231 in population in the State with a population of 16,-723. Her only near rival was North Adams with a population of 16,067. These two places seem to be running mates. Quincy was ahead in 1880, and in 1885 was a little behind. Again in 1890 Quincy took a good

S. high, but it would not be surprising if it went higher. If the population is 23,000 Quincy will be larger than the following cities were in 1890: Pittsfield, Waltham, Gloucester, Fitchburg and Malden.

It is very probable that Quincy will pass Pittsfield, if not Gloucester, at this census. Here are a few figures of these larger cities. It will be seen that Quincy made a larger gain in fifteen years than Pittsfield or Gloucester, and held its own with Waltham and Fitchburg:

At one time New Hampshire claimed territory in Massachusetts much larger in extent than Massachusetts was prepared to give up, including a part of the town of Northfield and including the part of the school. The representatives of Massachu setts then said that if any such claim as that was to be made, matters had better be left as they were.

New Hampshire made certain conc sions, and the commissioners proceeded to take evidence and fix the boundaries, and the proposed line, which is subject to assent on the part of the two states, also awaits the assent of the state of Vermont in the matter of the establishment of a boundary monument.

THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME.

Where the Aged and Infirm are Cared for Mother Aurelia Speaks of Her Charges.

(From the Providence, R. I., Journal.)

Somewhat removed from the city of Providence, on the main highway to Pawtucket, stands that magnificent charitable institu stands that magnificent charitable institu-tion known as the Home for the Aged of the Little Sisters of the Poor. Here a com-pany of sweet faced and soft voiced Sisters care for the old and the infirm who are unable to care for themselves.

Mother Aurelia presides over this well-known institution, and with her associates ministers to the wants of over two hundred old people, women and men. An important feature of the Home is a well-appointed pharmacy in charge of one of the sisters. Their chief remedy is good old Pain-Killer, which most of the old folks used when they were children and which now cures the pains and aches incidental to their declining years. As is to be expected, the aged inmates of the Home are in constant need of medical attention, although, so carefully are they tended, few are rarely sick enough to be in the hospital wing at any one time. But all of them are subject to the many disabilities of old age, and so Pain-Killer has come to be a remedy of almost daily use. Mother Aurelia says that Pain-Killer has quite superseded the drugs and prescriptions for use among the old people. When the limbs twitch with rheumatism the fair sister in charge of the pharmacy gives them a massage with pure Pain-Killer. When the old men and old women suffer from the content of the pharmacy gives the pharmacy gives them a massage with pure Pain-Killer. their many stomach troubles, a little Pain-Killer with water and sugar offers a certain and quick relief. When the venerable heads are racked with pain, Pain-Killer is again put to service promptly. The old people love it and rely upon it. They tes-tify that its use externally is quickly effica-cious, and internally, is unaccompanied by

Proctor K. Brown of West Quincy was ting liquor Nov. 25, to Phillip Leahy. The court found the defendant guilty and continued the case for sentence until next Tuesday, the fine at that time to be $75. The evidence was that on the above date Leahy went into Brown's office and purchased two bottles of Jamaica ginger. When he came out of the store Officer Canavan followed him and arrested him for drunkenness. The two bottles were taken away from Leahy and Chief Hayden sent them to the state assayer whose return showed the stuff to contain 76 72-100 per

THE UNEMPLOYED.

California Agitated Over the Problem That Confronts Every State In the Union. What shall we do with the tramps and the unemployed? The question has risen to high importance in California. The troubles in Sacramento, the anxiety in the towns and cities that are receiving the men driven out of the capi tal and the calls for relief that come from the men who are out of work tes tify to the urgency of the question Mayor Sutro in his inaugural address calls attention to the need of relief and regulative measures, and it is clear that something ought to be done. But what? The rough and ready meth ods of the Sacramento vigilance com mittee offer no solution. The problem is not settled by arresting a few tramps and driving the others into the next county. "What are we to do when we get there?" plaintively ask the men who are being ordered to other cities. "We are not wanted there any more than here. The only good effect that this course can have is to discourage the eastern vagrant from seeking an easy winter in California. But the main effect will be to turn idlers and beggars into criminals. If they are driven into the coun try or into the smaller towns, they will not go hungry without raiding the houses in their way, and crimes from petty stealing to murder may be expected to follow. The way to deal with the idle man is to set him to work. Any other way must prove a failure. But this remedy is much more easily suggested than applied. The highest wisdom is required in devising a plan that will meet the various conditions of the problem. The first requisite after providing for the kind of work that is to be done is to ar range for separating the idle men into three classes that make up their ranks and to provide the appropriate treatment for each. It is not only unjust, it is the depth of folly, in government to lump together the men out of work who are anxiously seeking it, the men who will work, but prefer to live off the community, and those who will not work under any conditions short of physical compulsion. The three classes are found crushing out the ambition that keeps the unemployed man from sinking to the vagrant level. Any scheme of relief should include all classes and vary the treatment according to the class. It should be the first principle of relief that support must be paid for in work. This is essential to maintain the self respect of those who receive aid and to follow the correct economical policy that every man should produce as much as he consumes. The first class will give work willingly, the

that the nation pursues today tends to

Francisco Examiner.

According to the annual report of the state board of mediation and arbitration, that body received information of about 425 strikes and lockouts occurring in the state of New York during the year ending Oct. 31, 1894. This is an in crease of 25 per cent over the record of the preceding year. The majority of these strikes were not of long duration and lasted only a few days at most, having been adjusted by mutual conces sions. The principal seat of labor dis turbance has been in the clothing trade in New York city and Brooklyn. The manufacture of clothing has become financially one of the most important industries in this country. The business done in the metropolitan district alone annually amounts to $50,000,000, while an additional sum of $40,000,000 rep resents the nearly equally important in dustry of making cloaks and suits for women.

Hunger's Revolt In Montreal.

A few days ago 3,000 unemployed gathered outside the city hall in Mont real and demanded relief of the mayor William Darlington, a prominent labor leader, said to the mayor that thousands of workingmen of Montreal were in a desperate frame of mind because of their impoverished condition. Many cases of death by actual starvation had been brought to his own personal knowledge As a representative of the Knights of Labor he would tell the mayor that the men were not going to lie down peace ably to die of starvation in a country where there was plenty of food and where others were living in luxury. He hoped no violence would be indulged in, but if the men were driven to the use of guns and dynamite labor organizations would not be to blame, for they were losing their influence over the men on account of their starving condition.

In his message to the state legislature

Governor Upham of Wisconsin says "It is for the public interest that, so far as may be, every industrious, sober and competent man be employed. I can not but regard an arrangement among a large number of employers not to em ploy or permit to be employed, if they can prevent it, competent and faithful men, simply because they quit the serv ice of some other employer, as a con spiracy which should not be tolerated by the law. The employer has no right to be protected by the law against a conspiracy on the part of employees than employees have to be protected by law against a conspiracy on the part of em ployers. This exemption of employees or laboring men from persecution by employers for quitting is peculiarly im portant in this day of commercial dis-

LINCOLN'S GETTYSBURG SPEECH.

Sublime and Immortal, Though Matthe Arnold Had Never Heard of It.

I stood close by and heard that speech delivered. It came upon us after the ponderous and elaborate rhetoric of Edward Everett like a blaze of real fire after a matchless picture of fire. It sprang, like the strophes of old, out of a chastened heart almost broken with the weight of conquest, but still daunt less in its American faith, and the man who spoke the words was, for the mo ment, transfigured for us, and his furthe people themselves, uttering better than he knew the great prayer of that finer and better humanity that our fathers and we believed was to come with liberty and equality out of storm and stress and an unshaken confidence in

But I don't think any of us then knew how masterful is the speech of the human heart when it comes through the furnace to these great occasions and plants its sad sincerity by the side or mere scholarship and the grooved thun der of rhetoric.

We had to live on for a quater of a century and see that brief speech burning with unquenchable flame in our schoolbooks and standing out with modest majesty on our page of recorded history to comprehend how God can touch with a living coal the lips of a rail splitter just as he touched the lips of a tentmaker of Tarsus and lifted the untutored heart of the shoemaker, Bunvan, into communion with the immor

Turn it every way you can, the Get tysburg speech stands unique as a brie: literary and patriotic composition. It is the noblest condensation into the fittes words of all the emotions, aspirations and sentiments that millions of mute people wanted at that moment to utter.

So inwrought is that speech with the heart of the occasion, and so majestic ally does it sweep over into the time t come, that I should think all men everywhere would discern its intrinsic qualty. But that is not the case.

I remember talking with Matthew Arnold when he was in this country about Abraham Lincoln-you will remember that he said of Lincoln that he had no "distinction"-and I called his attention to the Gettysburg speech. shall never forget the imperturbable Saturday Review stare with which be asked, "Ah, what is the Gettysburg

He had never heard of it. I believe when he went back he asked Professor Bryce what it was about, and when it was hunted up in an American schoolbook and shown to him he read it hasti ly and put it away with commiserating reticence. Suppose you ask M. Bourget, who i looking into the American heart by the way of the American bodice and on space rates, if he has read the Gettys burg speech. I happen to know of my own knowledge that Robert Louis Stevenson had not heard of it when he was exploring our continent, and Sin Lepel Griffin and Rudvard Kipling had an idea that it was a newspaper fake. The current number of The Saturday

Review lies open before me, and this is what my eye falls on: "The common American delusion that there have been a number of great American poets, that there is indeed such a thing as American literature disports itself with unusual pomposity. It is impossible for these literary prigs of a special cult to understand that there may be stimulant condi tions of national life that wake into tumultuous activity all the higher and better functions of the soul prior to the chartered formulation of them into an art, and that it is in these periods of awakening and not in the after repose of an elaborate æstheticism the most precious heartbeats of the race have made themselves heard and felt, sometimes in half articulate tones, but often er in organ blasts which have set the key of liberty and fixed the vocabulary of hope and victory. Before eloquence or poetry was an are it was a burning soul and fetched its style from the agonies and mysteries of an untutored nature. Let us by all means confer distinc tion on a deathless utterance by molding it in bronze. If we add metal enough and surround it with the arabesque of Oxford, future Matthew Arnolds may join the pilgrims and throw the English tribute of a well turned phrase upon the tablet, which, after all, is but a weak hieroglyph of the record in 70, 000,000 hearts. - Andrew C. Wheeler in New York Sun.

A Carrier Pigeon's Return.

Eight months ago a carrier pigeon belonging to John C. Dinan, president of the Hillside Homing club of Lancaster, Pa., was released at Manassas, Va., being one of a number engaged in a fly for the Shamrock Silver club on Tuesday. Dinan's bird failed to return home, but last evening it appeared at its old cot. An examination of the bird showed that its wings had been clipped. As soon as the feathers grew again the bird's instinct turned it homeward. - Philadel. phia Ledger.

A Speaking Repeater. The latest thing in watches is a repeater which pronounces the hours and quarters, and so obviates the trouble if counting necessitated by the present system. M. Silvan, a Swiss watchmaker, is credited with having successfully adapted Edison's phonograph so as to produce this ingenious result. - New York Post.

Philadelphia Foresight.

The Philadelphia Record tells of a careful citizen who refuses to walk in the middle of the street when the sidewalks are slippery, because if he should slip down and sustain an injury on the sidewalk he could recover damages from the city, while he could not if he was walking in the middle of the street.

JAPANESE WERE WARY.

Not Inclined to Have Much Faith In VICTORIA, B. C., Feb. 14.-The steamship Empress of China arrived yesterday with Yokohama advices to Feb. 1. They give the following account of the prelim inary work of the peace commission:

Ex-Secretary Foster was treated with especial courtesy during his stay at Tokio and Kobe. Daring the first days of his stay at Kobe, Mr. Foster examined many telegrams with the Chinese government. They were believed to be in reference to the payers and each bright of Chinese. the power and authority of Chang and Shao, the Chinese peace commissioners, regarding which the Japanese were all along very doubtful, especially as they were by no means convinced of the integrity of China's intentions.

Mr. Foster was given to understand that unless ample powers were guaranteed by their credentials, the envoys would not even be admitted to a hearing. The diplomatic contest will be stubborn. At this date China does not seem to realize that Japan will demand a cession of territory, and it is anticipated that the humiliation of losing any of her continental domain is more than she will be willing to endure.

JOHN WILDE AT LIU-KANG-TAO.

It Means Death if He Falls Into Hands of Japs.

Hone Kong, Feb. 14.-It is supposed that the Japanese will threaten Foo Chow, capital of the province of Fukien, after they have secured Wel-Hai-Wei. The Chinese are preparing for the defense of

The dispatch adds that officers of the British warship Spartan have arrived in Hong Kong. They confirm the statement that three Chinese warships, two of them being ironclads, were sunk at Wei-Hai-Wei, and that all the Chinese torpedo boats were either captured or sunk. They state that eight torpedo boats went out of the harbor, apparently with the intention of attacking the Japanese fleet, but instead of doing so, they ran alongside the Japanese flagship and surrendered. Some of the torpedo boats were run ashore, and their crews escaped by jumping to the

Will Fight to the Last. According to statements made by Chinese prisoners at Wei-Hai-Wei there are seven foreigners in the fort on the island of Liu-Kang Tao, five of them being Englishmen, one a German and one an Amer ican, the latter being one of the three me formerly arrested at Kobe on the French steamer Sydney. The island is victualled for five months. Coal is plentiful, but ammunition is deficient. The garrison is determined to fight to the last.

The American mentioned as being o the fort on Liu-Kang-Tao island is proba-bly John Wilde, and if he falls or has fallen into the hands of the Japanese, it will go hard with him. When the French steamer arrived at Kobe in November last she was boarded by Japanese officers, wh arrested three of her officers. Wi Scotchman named Cameron, and a Chinaman, Cham Tam Moore, who was one time interpreter to the Chinese legation at Washington.

They were taken into custody on sus picion of being engaged in an enterprise against Japan, and it was subsequently learned that they were engaged in a scheme to destroy the entire Japanese navy. It appears that Wilde's plan was suffocating smoke, under cover of which attacks could be made with torpedoes. The men were, it was said, to receive from China $1,000,000 for each Japanese squadron they destroyed and a proportionate sum for every Japanese merchantman After being detained for some time Wilde and Cameron were released, after taking oaths not to do anything to assist China during the war. Moore, the Chinaman, was sent to Hiroshima. If Wild has violated his oath the Japanese will be apt to punish him summarily. Ting Surrenders.

BRICK OR WOOD.

A Majority of the City Council Said to be for Wooden Schoolhouses. Brick or wood promises to be an issue when the appropriations are made for the new schoolhouses at Norfolk Downs and "The Rail," for which land has already been purchased.

The tendency of late has been toward wood on the ground of economy, and there are many who believe a pretty wooden schoolhouse would be preferable to a plain

The people at Norfolk Downs are strenuously opposed to wood, and at a special meeting of the Improvement Association, Tuesday evening, unanimously adopted this resolution:

RESOLVED,-That at a special meeting of the Wollaston Park and Norfolk Downs Improvement Association, called for the purpose of discussing the matter of a school building at Norfolk Downs, it was the sense of the meeting that when said school building was erected it should, on the score of economy, safety, durability and health be built of brick.

That a copy of this resolution be sent to

It will be seen that Norfolk Downs people also, regard it as economy to build of brick. They consider, that at their meeting it was demonstrated on all points to be the proper material. Oa the grounds of economy durability, health and safety a brick struc ture was shown to be, by the practical knowledge so ably expressed by Mr. Moxon, and by the experience gained by other of the gentlemen present who had served the city in years past on such matters, the proper kind of a building to erect. The feeling was general that all public buildings should be in the way of permanent improvements, and that to erect wooden schoolhouses in this enlightened age would be a serious mistake and a step backward.

On the other hand, the advocates of wood not only claim that a wooden schoolhouse can be built for much less, but that it can be enlarged for less money. That had the Coddington or Adams schoolhouses been built of brick in 1855 they could not have been enlarged, and further if built of brick then they would not be more satisfactory now than are the present buildings, which they admit are not up to

By erecting these of wood, enough was saved in interest to more than pay the cost of all alterations, repairs and painting. Possibly enough to erect new buildings in a year or two.

There is considerable, however, in the argument that the city should set an Greany, Miss Mudgett, '96 and Miss Melexample in its public buildings; that it zard spoke. should be up-to-date and take no backward step. Not extravagant, but progressive.

Boston, evidently don't want to annex Squantum, in fact it has more land there and a warm time is expected, which in see cars running into Boston. than it wants, as will be seen by this act, part is due to the recent decision of the now in Legislature, "to authorize the city selectmen on the street railway location. of Boston to sell a parcel of land in In East Weymouth there is quite a spirited Quincy:"

SECT. 1. The city of Boston may sell and convey, at public or private sale, the parcel of land which was conveyed to the electmen of the town of Dorchester by Daniel Preston, senior, by deed bearing date January twenty-one, sixteen hundred and ninety-seven, and recorded with Suffolk deeds, libro forty-two, folio two hundred and twenty-five, and of which said city became seized by the annexation to it of the town of Dorchester.

SECT. 2. The proceeds of such sale shall be invested in such other property as any justice of the supreme judicial court sitting in equity for the county of Suffolk shall deem best and proper, and the same shall be held by the city of Boston on the same trusts as said land was held by said city or upon such other trusts as shall be deemed by such justice so sitting just and proper. SECT. 3. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

New Manager.

The many subscribers to the Quincy Telephone exchange will be sorry to hear that Mr. Albert L. Stiles, who has so ably managed this exchange for something over a year, has been transferred. Mr. Stiles came here a stranger, but being possessed of a genial nature he soon made many warm friends. During his management he has labored hard to improve the service of the exchange, which is better now than ever before, and his friends wish him success in his new position. The new manager is Mr. J. E. Dozie.

-The auction sale at the West Quincy clothing house on Saturday should attract many people who are looking for bargains in clothing. Auctioneer Crane has advertised it well, and the stock is large.

Backache and Kidney Trouble

While Backache in itself is not a disease, it indicates a derangement of the vital organs-it's a symptom of disease. Kidney trouble, at any stage, is serious and neglect of the symptom means neglecting the disease. Curing a Backache means curing diseased Kidneys and relieving them of congestion. This can be done in the early stages. Buker's Kidney Pills are specific for the cure of Backache and Kidney trouble, if taken in time. It's a vegetable remedy. Druggists sell them for 50 cents. an interesting history. A reminiscent, voluble, red faced cabby told it late the other night up by the Thirty-third street stand. It was brought over in 1870 or 1871 by John Patent of the Pacific hotel, in Greenwich street, just above Cortlandt, and it cost £70. Its driver was old John Carter of Liverpool, since deceased, who came to New York in 1861. The original cab that John Carter drove was a handsome one, made very much like those now in use, but it had a claret New York, New Haven stered with a pair of patent axles, which

Souther's Periodical Store, 1 Granite FULL TEXT OF BOND CONTRACT

About Which There Has Been Much Criticism.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.-The senate began its session yesterday with a spirited discussion of the financial question. Mr. Vilas (Dem., Wis.) brought on the financial discussion by offering a bill granting to the president the authority he has requested in his recent message for issuing B per cent gold bonds payable in gold.

Mr. Sherman (Rep., O.) offered a substitute to the silver bill reported Tuesday providing for gold bonds and temporary gold certificates. The two Colorado senators, Messrs. Teller and Wolcott, called attention to the fact that the syndicate of bankers who had secured control of these bonds were now marketing them in London at 1121/2, making a net profit of 8 per cent at the outset.

The debate brought out frequent references to the contract between the treasury department and the bankers, and as a reafterward furnished to the senate.

Fresh Air For Children. An interesting test, which proved that fresh air in winter was beneficial to even young and delicate children, was reported in The Journal of Household Economics. It was tried recently in a babies' hospital in Boston.

All the sickly babies that were suffering from chronic indigestion and lack of nutriment, and who would not improve in spite of good food, perfectly ventilated rooms and careful bathing, were wrapped as for the street, put in perambulators and taken to the top ward of the hospital, where all the windows were wide open. They were kept in this room from two to four hours daily and soon showed a marked improvement. Their cheeks became rosy, they gained in weight and appetite and during the entire time they were in the air. Very delicate children had bags of hot water placed at their feet. It is recorded in the account of this experiment that not one child took cold as a result

I have been consulting a furrier, and he tells me it would cost $40 to have a few inches of new fur put in them. Mabel Dillingham.

Miss Mabel Dillingham, who died at her post of onerous duty in Calhoun, Ala., very recently, did as heroic and undoubtedly more efficient service than if she had undertaken mission work in the heart of Africa. She was at the time of her death principal of the Calhoun colored school. Her novitiate in this sort of teaching was served in the Hampton institute. Only those who know from some sort of experience can understand what is the life of a refined woman who undertakes such educational work. Patience, heroism and entire self abnegation are merely the beginning of the list of virtues needed. So arduous and exacting is the work that it finds few to enter it, and those who do, and who fall, as Miss Dillingham did, while doing it, deserve the widest recognition and appreciation. - New York Times.

Last year 511 steamers were visited, and from 1,900 to 2,000 girls were cared for by the travelers' aid department.

Mrs. Virginia D. Young contributes a telling article to the Hampton (S. C.) Gazette in reply to an editorial which assumed that southern women do not want the ballot. She says that the roll of the South Carolina Equal Suffrage association contains signatures of "representative women from 25 different localities, Beaufort leading in numbers and Greenville rounding up, every one of them social leaders, too, for I always mean it as a great compliment when I ask a woman to join the E. Picked Up by Steamer Queensmore and Brought Into Port.

BOSTON SCHOONERS WENT DOWN.

Two of the Sprague's Crew Died From Exposure.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 15. - Steamship Queensmore, which reached here yesterday, Repairing at very | brought into port two shipwrecked crews picked up off Cape Charles, the crews of the schooners Marion F. Sprague and Alma Cummings, of Boston. Captain Ira W. Hatch of the Sprague on the Sunday following, at daybreak, he was in a terrific gale, Cape May light bearing northwest. Ice was everywhere, and a particularly heavy mass was hurled against the boat, crushing in the whole forward side, and she went down in 10 minutes in 10 fathoms of water. The men scrambled into the yawl boat, which was without food or water.

They were blown out into the ocean when the ice broke up, and the boat was left to the fury of the gale. E. W. Patterson of Chelsea, Mass., the steward, was the first to succumb to the cold and ex-posure. He died Monday and his body was thrown overboard. Charles Urban of Philadelphia soon followed Patterson. They had almost given up hope when they were rescued. They could not have lived three hours longer in the exposed situation, with every thread of clothing frozen stiff. They were picked up about 100 miles east-northeast of Cape Charles. Captain Hatch's surviving crew of the Sprague are Mate James Catherin, Sea-men Albert Miller, Martin Stevenson, Albert Lester and Otto Holme. The Cummings' Experiences.

Captain Cummings tells this story of the loss of the Alma Cummings and the rescue of his crew by the steamer Queensmore: "We left Port Royal, S. C., two weeks ago last Sunday, bound for Boston, with a load of hard pine. For the first nine days out we had a strong head wind; the first gales blew us off the coast, the vessel became waterlogged, refused to answer her helm and fell off into the trough

"Then food and water, that were brought on deck to stock the yawl boat, were dashed to pieces. The vessel was covered city council have adopted resolutions on and re entered the One Hundred and For en the poop and the main deck. A fire was started by exploding a gun cartridge among some shavings scraped from the deck ceiling, and pouring upon this sulphuric ether and sulphur. The ice that encrusted the boat made fresh water, and a piece of silted meat floating on the deck stayed the pangs of hunger until rescued by the steamer Queensmore on Monday

Captain Cummings and his crew were sent to the Marine hospital. The crew were: Mate George M. Thorsen, Steward James Cook, Seamen Andrew Lind, Otto Thomas, Jurgen Schemp, William K. Frazier and George Cummings. Frazier's hands were badly frost-bitten, the others more or less.

Both the schooners were built in East Boston and were three-masters. Six Lives Probably Lost.

Boston, Feb. 15 .- The description of wreckage from the vessel wrecked off Ragged island, near the mouth of the Penobscot river, leads to the belief that the wreck is that of the brig Morning Light, Captain Quinlan, from this port for Annapolis, N. S. Captain Quinlan is the sole owner of the vessel. She carried a crew of five men beside the captain.

Twenty-Four Were Saved. LONDON, Feb. 15.-It is learned from the men who landed at Westport from the abandoned steamer Loch Maree that two boats were loaded and put off from the steamer. The captain's boat, which contained 13 men, was the one which arrived at Westport. The mate's boat, which contained 11 men, has just landed at Achill

ISAAC P. GRAY.

Isaac Pusey Gray was born in Chester county, Pa., Oct. 18, 1828. His ancestors all belonged to the Society of Friends, his great grandfather having emigrated from England with William Penn and settled in Chester county. His parents moved from Pennsylvania to Urbana, O., in 1836; thence to Montgomery county in 1839; thence to New Madison in 1842. There they stayed. Isaac Gray received a common school education, and being ambitious and of studious habits, he easily entered upon the study of law. His poverty, however, compelled him to accept a clerkship in a mercantile house at New Madison. Here his close application and strict integrity soon raised him to a partnership in the business, and in a few years he became sole proprietor in the establishment. In 1855 he removed his family to Union

City, Ind., where he resided for many years, and where after successfully con-tinuing the mercantile business for a few years, he entered upon the practice of law. Mr. Gray was colonel of the Fourth In-diana Cavalry in the civil war. He made a good record, and remained until dis charged on account of ill-health. Return-

His Political Record. In 1866 he was selected as the candidate for congress against the Hon. George W. Julian, who had long represented that district in the house of representatives. After a close contest he was defeated by about 300 votes. Two years later he was elected to the state senate, where he re mained four years. As a young man he was a member the Whig party, but acted with the Re publicans during the war. Since 1871 he had been an active member of the Demo cratic party, serving as a member of the Indiana delegation to the Liberal Repub lican convention in 1872. He was nonnated by acclamation on the Democratic ticket for lieutenant governor, was elected to that honorable position in 1876 and was renominated for the same place in 1880 by the state convention. In 1884 Mr. Gray was elected governor of Indiana on the Democratic ticket and served his full term. After retiring from that office he followed the practice of his profession in Indianapolis in partnership with his son, Pierre Gray, until he was called to the Mexican mission by President Cleveland about two years ago. In 1850 he married Miss Eliza Jaqua of Darke county, Ohio. They have two children living, Pierre, who is a lawyer in Indianapolis, and Bayard, who has been

SEWERAGE HEARING.

The Quincy Petition is Before the Legislature-Hearing Advertised. Mayor Hodges has presented the sewerage petition to the Legislature and a hearing is advertised for next Tuesday by the Committee on Drainage. There is some doubt whether the city has gone to work right in this important matter, particularly as the hearing will be on petition " that city may be authorized to construct a system of sewerage." Quincy, however, should be largely represented at the hearing, and everything possible done to secure a sewerage system. This city should be in the Metropolitan sewer district, and when the commissioners have completed the trunk lines it will be a simple matter to provide the local sewers.

He has placed the keys of the building in the hands of Mayor Hodges and the Commissioner of Public Works, who, it is said, will call the attention of the State Inspector of Buildings to the matter.

The building is of brick with granite trimmings, and is located on Quincy avenue. It is what is known, as a threeway house and is occupied by a Steamer, Hook & Ladder and Hose wagon. On the second floor besides the sleeping rooms of the firemen, is the delicate fire alarm apparatus and battery.

During the heavy storm of last week the building shook so that the Chief Engineer was called to the station. It was then that he decided to no longer assume the esponsibility.

Mayor Hodges, when seen this morning, said it was true that the building had been turned over to him by the Chief Engineer, and that steps would be taken immediately to remedy the difficulty which now appeared to be in the upper story. He further stated that the State Inspector of Buildings had been notified and would probably visit Quincy this afternoon to inspect the building.

The County Commissioners in 1892 asked the legislature for the right to raise $75,000 by taxation, or other wise. They were granted the right to borrow that amount for the purpose of making an addition to the court house, and their estimate for county expense-court house, $35,000, and addition $13,000 with the $75,000 made a total of $123,000.

In 1893 authority was given to raise $25,000 for repairing the old building and furnishing the court buildings, making a total of $148,000. This amount was to cover the entire cost of new wings and repairs on old building ready for occupancy. Contracts, which are on file at Dedham, were made in 1892 and 1893 for the amount of $146,000. I have been informed that the figures given above, $148,000, were named after a careful estimate by a firstclass builder. These figures show that the amount of the contracts and the estimates of the county commissioners were practically sufficient for the work contemplated. January 1, 1894 the personnel of the board of County Commissioners was changed by the election of one new member, retiring one. The Committee on County Estimates was asked by the new board to allow the County Commissioners to raise $125,000 more as a time loan, which was granted. I find in the County Report, dated December 31, 1894, that the Commissioners have borrowed that amount, ($125,000) the last note due and payable in 1904. I find the estimate of money required for 1895 is $160,000; deducting $100,000 from $160,000 leaves a balance of $60,000 to be accounted for. The $100,000 for necessary expenses is $10,237 above the dallying with silver and silverites, we have years. The question arises, what has be-The Dartmouth college boys are excited come of the $125,000 and what use is to be The Dartmouth college boys are excited over the immediate prospect of being put over the immediate prospect of being put asked for at the present time? I find that at the end of 1894 there was a balance in the treasury of $40,000, which above requirements for ordinary expenses (for which we allow $100,000) make $100,-000. Now assuming that this $100,000 is to be expended upon the new court house, will be equal, if not superior, to any nation we find the total cost of the same to be three hundred and sixty-three thousand, three hundred and ninety-nine dollars

Reasons for Gold Bonds.

The question is asked what has happened since the 24th of November to depreciate cent. in value? I answer-

First, the inaction of Congress o currency legislation.

Second, the rapid depletion of the gold reserves. While the proceeds of the first the past ten years I find the ordinary issue of $50,000,000 lasted ten months, the proceeds of the second issue were exhausted in about two months, which was an object lesson going to show that the process of issuing bonds to secure gold which could be immediately drawn out might lead to continuous issues. And with the prospect of continuous borrowing, the lenders, of course, would insist upon better terms. Third-A fever had set in, which had

But, it is said, why were the bonds not sold in open competition? Because it would at that time have been extremely hazardous. The President had by special message to Congress called for a gold bond, which he could sell abroad at from 21 to 3 per cent; and after waiting a few days, finding it impossible to secure immediate action, was compelled to act immediately, as the reserves were running out rapidly from various causes, which drain must be checked or the country

Latest Effort to Secure Relief For Treasury Ends In Failure.

REED'S EFFORTS TOWARD UNITY

Knocked Awry by Republicans From Western States.

WASHINGTON. Feb. 15 .- The third attempt of the administration at this session to secure legislation looking to the and relief of the treasury failed in the house yesterday.

First, the Carlisle bill for the reform of the currency bill went down; next, the bill for the issue of $500,000,000 of gold bonds and the retirement of the legal tenders, recommended in the president's special message, was defeated last Thursday by a majority of 27, and yesterday the house, by a majority even larger (47), refused to order to a third reading the resolution by which it was proposed to authorize the issue of $65,000,000 of 3 per cent NO. Topic For the Week Beginning Feb. 17. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.—Lessons from the parable of the good Samaritan.—Luke x, 25-37. (A missionary

The parallel of the good Samaritan is recorded by Luke alone. We do not know either the time when or the place where it was spoken. It is probable that it was during one of Christ's public discourses, when He was interrupted by the lawyer who asked Him what He should do to inherit eternal life. In answer Christ asked him what the law said, and he replied, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God, * * * and thy neighbor as thyself." Probably to vindicate himself the lawyer further inquires, "Who is my neighbor?" to which question Christ replies with the parable of the good Samaritan, to the lessons of which our topic directs us.

1. We learn from this parable the brotherhood of man. This was the great lesson it was to teach. The lawyer was a Jew. He had been taught that the word neighbor was limited by nationality and religion; that people of a different nationality and religion had no just claims upon him, and therefore in fulfilling all his obligations to his own people he obeyed the command to love his neighbors as himself. But Christ wished to teach him differently and did so by making him admit that a Samaritan, between whom and the Jews there was no affiliation or association, had proved himself neighbor to an unfortunate Jew who had been waylaid by thieves when he had compassion on him and helped him rather than men of his own race who had looked upon him and had passed by without assisting him. This is the one great lesson taught by this parable-that all men are our brothers, our neighbors; that nationality and religion do not separate men so that the one has no obligations toward the other. As God is our common Father, so all men are our brothers, and we are each our brother's keeper. 2. We may learn also the estimation which the world places upon pharisaism. Christ may not have intended particularly to hold up the priest and Levite to the scorn and ridicule of the world. He may have used them simply to emphasize the character of the Samaritan, and yet the result has been the same. The world ever since has held them up but to heap scorn and ridicule and abuse upon them, and in so doing it has with out qualification condemned pharisaism in any form. 3. We may learn the beauty of sym pathy and self sacrifice. The Samaritan saw before him a fellow creature in need of his help. He sympathized with him, and sacrificing his race and religious prejudices he helped him. His action has always been praised and lauded. The church and the world never tire of singing his praises. "Go and do thou likewise." On the highway of life many have been robbed and plundered of things more dear than physical life and earthly possessions. They need your help. They need you to carry or send the gospel to them. Be a good Samaritan and do it. Bible Readings .- Gen. iv, 8-12; Lev. xix, 18; Ps. xxxv, 11-14; Prov. xix, 17; Math. v, 43, 44; xxviii, 19, 20; Luke vi, 81; John xiii, 34; Acts i, 8, xvi, 9-12; Gal. vi, 2; I John iii, 17; iv, 20, 21.

Christian Endeavor Churches.

A recent speaker before the Christian Endeavor union of Manchester repeated the old charge against Christian En deavor-that it was founding a separate denomination, giving as proof the fact that already several Christian Endeavor churches had been built. American ed itors, I am glad to say, have learned that these "Christian Endeavor churches' have all been built by the regular de nominational boards of home missions of the various denominations, with mon ey furnished at their invitation by the Christian Endeavorers of those denomnations. That is all there is to that

The Best Commandment. The fourth commandment is the test commandment of the ten, the very keystone of the arch. Again and again it has been made the starting point, the entering wedge of great moral changes It is the strategic point. It sounds the keynote. That man who has little or no regard for the Lord's day has within him the moral tone of an idolater, a thief, a liar, a murderer. That governhe landed, succeeded in robbing leading ment which fails to observe the command, "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy," sets a premium on every sin of the decalogue. - M. D. Kneeland.

> How to Reduce the Number of Heathen. An English Endeavorer formed the plan of collecting as many 3d. pieces as would furnish one for each 1,000,000 of heathen in the world, and he did it-840 three penny bits. Is not this a plan that can be carried out by all Endeavorers? It would not take many sets of 840 dimes each to reduce considerably the number of heathen that must be counted. -Selected.

The Morning Breaketh. Awake, O ye who sleepeth!

Arouse, be on thy guard. Hear the voice of Him who speaketh. Be watch and ward. Prayers from million hearts ascending He is answering swift and clear, Mid strife and turmoil lending

Strength and loving cheer. Know ye not that He is calling For workers more and more, Consecrated for the harvest About our very door? Souls a-hungered, drifting Mid darkness, strife and ruin, Hearts He now is sifting To let the sunlight in.

Behold, the morning breaketh! Crimson the east has grown.

Crimson the east has grown.

The Lord is swiftly coming

To claim once more His own.

Let us, then, put on our armor,

Work for Him while we may. Work for Him White we may, Gather jewels for His kingdom And the glad eternal day, —Chicago Lever.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

What

it Means

Backache and Kidney Trouble

While Backache in itself is not a disease, it indicates a derangement of the vital organs-it's a symptom of disease. Kidney trouble, at any stage, is serious and neglect of the symptom means neglecting the disease. Curing a Backache means curing diseased Kidneys and relieving them of congestion. This can be done in the early stages. Buker's Kidney Pills are specific for the cure of Backache and Kidney trouble, if taken in time. It's a vegetable remedy. Druggists sell them for 50 cents. There is a novelty at the stock yards that is attracting the attention of every one. It is a team of elks, standing nearly 16 hands high, broken to harness and as gentle and obedient as horses. Bright Anticipations For Canadian Spring Trade.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Exp r s of gold and withdrawals from the treasury have been almost entirely stopped by the contract for purchases of gold from Messrs. Belmont and Morgan. For the moment, business only waits to know whether sales of American securities and withdrawals of gold from the treasury have been lastingly stopped by the remarkable increase of confidence. The two obstacles which block the path just now are exceeding cheapness of farm products and restricted operations in in-

Comedian Gentry Takes the Life of Actress Madge Yorke.

THIRD PARTY WAS PRESENT.

Crime Was Committed Without a Moment's Warning.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18 .- Madge Yorke, soprano singer, with the "Baggage Check" company, was shot and almost instantly killed last night at Zeiss' hotel, this city, by James P. Gentry, a comedian of Collier's "Back Number" company.

Gentry escaped.

The "Baggage Check" company, which opens at the Empire theater tonight, arrived here early yesterday morning from Chester, and a number of the members, including Miss Yorke, registered at Zeiss' hotel, Miss Yorke taking a third-story back room. It is said that Miss Yorke, whose home is in New York city, took the 9:50 a. m. train for that city, but she returned to the hotel at 6 o'clock last evenng and remained there.

About 9 o'clock Gentry walked into the hotel office and asked to be shown to Miss Yorke's room. Being unknown to the attaches of the hotel, he was told to wait a few minutes. A message was then sent to the cirl's room, but Gentry did not wait. He walked out into the hallway and ascended by means of the stairway.

Miss Yorke and Miss Lida Clarke, a member of the company, were in the former's room, practicing songs, when Gentry opened the door and walked in unannounced. Miss Yorke manifested some surprise at seeing him and introduced him

Every effort is being made to keep the terms secret until an address to the shareholders can be prepared. Three members of the reorganization committee are in conference with the receivers.

It is said the concern is in excellent condition, and no difficulty will be experienced in raising the money necessary to get it out of the hands of receivers. The plan which, it is said, will probably be adopted, is to force a judicial sale of the property and buy it in. It is thought that the stockholders would favor the plan because it would get the company away from the receivers and restore it to managers friendly to those holding its securities. One feature of the plan is said to be to dispense with Mr. Greenhut. It is said that whatever the result of the case pending before the Illinois state supre court, the stockholders will decide to surrender the present charter. They will then apply for a charter under the laws of New Jersey. This granted, the company will proceed to reorganize under its provisions, leaving Mr. Greenhut and his fellow officers stranded, the managers of a (Wednesday) morning. corporation which has ceased to have a corporate existence.

Here's a little thing, but it means a great deal to purchasers in Quincy. A few days ago we were earnestly urged by an important dealer to a combination to hold up prices on certain classes of goods.

Our reply was that as our methods of doing business were individual, we could see no necessity of forming a league to raise prices. We could not combine against the public. No matter what the prices are in this or other cities, you are

HIS NATIVE TOWN "DRESSES UP"

And Pays Tribute to Her Illustrious Benefactor.

PEABODY, Mass., Feb. 19.—The celebration of the centennial anniversary of the birthday of George Peabody, the London banker, philanthropist, benefactor and memorable citizen, was observed in this, his native town, with appropriate ceremonies. It was not, however, a strictly local observance, for cablegrams from is socially very unpopular in Paris. Queen Victoria and the Duke of Devonshire, chairman of the Peabody donation fund, to which Mr. Peabody contributed $2,500,000 for the establishment of homes for the deserving poor of London, gave it a touch of international character.

The business part of the town was appropriately decorated, and several private residences were also adorned for the occa-sion. Flags and bunting floated from all the public buildings, and business was suspended. Bells were rung for an hour, terday in the West Bear Ridge mine a beginning at sunrise.

Early in the day guests began to arrive, and when the afternoon meeting was called to order distinguished citizens from sides these, several other miners were many sections of Massachusetts and elsewhere were present. CHE-Foo, Feb. 19 .- Steamer Kangchi, loaned by the Japanese for the purpose arrived here yesterday with the remains of Admiral Ting, the Chinese commander; Commander Liu and Captain Yang of the Chinese flagship Chen-Yuen, and General at Wei-Hai-Wei, all of whom killed them selves rather than to suffer the punish ment that would have been meted out t them by the emperor for the failure of his forces to repel the Japanese. The Japanese paid the greatest respect to Admira

Ting's remains. The Japanese occupied Liu Hung island on Friday. The garrison and the foreign ers with it wer allowed to depart, unme lested, aboard the Severn. It is expected that the Japanese will not touch Che Foo, but will re-embark to attack Shan Hai-Kuan. The Chen-Yuen and six gun-boats were taken possession of by the Japanese. The Ting-Yuen will probably be floated.

A dispatch from Pekin says that 300 marines belonging to the warships of the various powers are arriving there to guard the legations of their respective countries. The Chinese are suspicious at their pres ence, and unless great caution is observed there is danger of friction, which may be

BILL HAS BEEN DRAFTED

Action Will be Delayed City Council Passes Upon It.

A score or more of city officials and representative citizens attended this mornng the hearing at the State House by the ommittee on Drainage of the petition of the Mayor of Quincy for an act to authorize the city of Quincy to construct a system of

Among these were Mayor Hodges, City Solicitor Blackmur, Councilmen Rice, Pinkham and Havden, Representative Hammond, H. T. Whitman, Senator Darling, ex-mayor Fairbanks, ex-Senator Merrill, ex-Representatives Federhen and Graham, F. C. Pope, John A. Duggan, Frank E. Hall, the city editor of the LEDGER and others.

Representative Hammond introduced City Solicitor Blackmur. He said the city had a population of from 20,000 to 24,000, and an area of 6,400 acres. The water supply furnished 263,000,000 gallons of water per year, and there were sewers of no kind for its disposal.

Sewerage had been agitated since 1882, and plans had been prepared. The outlet eemed to be the problem. When it was learned that Hyde Park and Milton contemplated entering the Boston system it offered a solution for Quincy. At the last moment Quincy was incorporated in the bill of the above towns now pending. An independent bill for Quincy had also been drafted, which proposes to collect the sewerage near Sailors' Home and pump it into the Boston system at quantum. Mr. Blackmur understood that Boston rould offer no objections to entering.

Quincy was absolutely in need of a sewer the water mains were being extended. Ex-Mayor Fairbanks saw that the bill rovided for a 20-year loan. He would advocate a 30-year loan. Mayor Hodges also favored a 30 year

Councilman Rice said the Committee on Sewers of the Council were unanimous for a system, and also for the Squantum outlet. Councilman Phillips desired an opinion from H. T. Whitman on the proposed

Mr. Whitman said the plan presented no engineering difficulties. He thought the Blake plan for outfall at Nut Island should not be abandoned until negotiations could be made with Boston. The bill to enter at Squantum should be permissive. The general plan had been well developed in the past and was substantially the same.

Mayor Hodges believed there was no objection in Quincy to a sewer system. People felt that they had got to have it. The only question was as to outlet, and that at Squantum seemed the best yet con-H. M. Federhen thought as no one had seen the proposed bill, that it could not be intelligently discussed. The city had prepared extensive plans for outlet at Nut Island. There was a question if the rental to Boston would not be more expensive han the Nut Island plan. Backache and Kidney Troubles

Kidney trouble is indicated by pains in the back; neglecting the pains results in serious illness. The Kidneys becoming clogged fail in heir work of relieving the system of impurities. A change or decomposition takes place. Once the structure is destroyed no remedy will avail. There is only one time to attack the disease and that is in its early stage, when the first pains are felt. Buker's Kidney Pills area specific for Backache and Kidney troubles, if taken in time. Imbecile Children and How They Are Improved Mentally.

The education of the imbecile is one requiring an infinite number of repetitions of a message, which at the outset must be unusually sharp and clear and unconfusing. If it is the sight and hearing which are to be improved, the pupil is placed in a dark room, and into its darkness a single ray of bright light is admitted. And when this startling and antithetical phenomenon has caught and riveted the child's attention, by repetition, a slide is passed through the beam of light, with sharply defined forms painted or engraved upon it-simple forms, too, such as the square or tri angle or star. Then the names of these figures are clearly and distinctly and repeatedly pronounced, the name sounded each time the object is exhibited. This is an example of the necessities of an extreme case-a very apathetic nd unobservant child. Usually it will be sufficient to exhibit objects by lifting them from the table and simultaneously telling their names. mal functions.

The tenure of human life is so short that all that can be done for such extreme types is to enthrone the disenthroned moral sense. It would require an eternity to tone up the five physical senses. Nervous idiots are much more promising pupils and show remarkable mental improvement in a short time. But the physical senses are always improved with the improvement of the moral sense. A child who has been taught how not to be an animal indoors will have more appreciation of color, and a child who has learned not to cry and scream on the slightest pretext will have a far better regulated sense of touch, smell and hearing.—New York returning from visiting his sweetheart. appropriation bill was passed by the senate. Yesterday, under the rules, was suspension day in the house. Four bills were in this manner considered-to promote the efficiency of the revenue cutter service; to equalize the pensions of Mexican veterans by making them all $12 per month, under the general laws; to equalize the duties and pay of steamboat inspection service, and to authorize the Altamonte war company to construct a dam across the St. Louis and Cloquet rivers. The first and last bills failed to secure the necessary two-thirds. The bill to equalize the pay of Mexican veterans will benefit about 17,000 pensioners, and by increasing their pensions an aggregate of $1,000,000. A bill was passed to grant to the state of Alabama for public uses Mt. Vernon

The silver men feel that they have shown their strength, and believe that they have gained a substantial victory in securing the promise of a vote upon the resolution presented by Mr. Wolcott, detion today.

It will probably be debated somewhat, and senators will briefly express their views. It is possible to prevent a vote if those who were not parties to the private agreement should decide to oppose it, as there was no unanimous consent asked or given in the senate. The Republicans who agreed that there should be a vote included Senators Aldrich, Platt, Chandler and Quay, as well as the silver leaders on the Republican side, while Senators Cockrell, Blackburn and Jones of the Democratic senators agreed to the proposi-

The opponents of the Jones bill present said they were willing there should be a vote on the declaratory resolution presented by Mr. Wolcott, and it is believed that this private agreement will be adhered to in the senate. other prominent citizens: We, the undersigned, by examination and comparison, have satisfied ourselves that the following statements are verbatim reports written under the dates which they bear by American citizens who have spent from 6 to 3) years in eastern Turkey. We have examined also the fact that they are written from six different cities from 100 to 200 miles apart, but forming a circle about the center in which the massacres occurred.

For personal safety of the writers the name of the places cannot now be made public They are independent reports from a country where refugees and returned soldiers of the sultan speak of what they know. We have the utmost confidence in these statements, and re gard them worthy the belief of all men. In the name of a suffering humanity we urg the careful perusal of these statements and recommend that all readers take measures to make the indignation of an outraged Christian world effectually felt. We deprecate revolu-tion among these helpless Turkish subjects but bespeak cordial co-operation in bringing to bear on Turkey the force of the righteous con-demnation of our 70,000,000 of people.

That the attention of the builders should er in city and country home, who tells at the fireside, to its evening circle, the merits of your wares and merchandise, if you are That the construction is sufficiently wise enough to employ it to speak for you. It never is neglected, never goes unheeded, never speaks to inattentive or unwilling ears. It never bores. It never tires. It is always a welcome visitor and meets a cordial reception. It speaks when the day is done, when cares vanish, when the mind That the inspectors here do not belong at peace and at rest is in its most receptive mood. Then it is that its story is told and all who read treasure what it says, and are influenced to go where it directs for the thing of which it speaks.

GENERAL SWIFT DEAD.

tinction With Sword and Pen. Boston, Feb. 20.-General John L Swift, ex-deputy collector of customs at this port, died last evening of heart disease. He had been ailing for about two weeks. The general was 66 years old. General Swift was a native of Falmouth.

He came to Boston at the age of 17 and had since resided here. At first his mind was turned in the direction of a mercantile career, but later he took up the study of law at Harvard, and was admitted to the bar about 1852. In 1855 he was elected to the lower branch of the legislature and reelected in 1857. Governor Banks appointed him pilot ommissioner in 1858, but he resigned at early in the rebellion as a private in the Thirty-fifth Massachusetts regiment, was promoted to a sergeantcy, and later was commissioned lieutenant and sent to recruit a company in Roxbury. From that time his rise was rapid, and few achieved more brilliant success than he did during

At the close of the rebellion he was honorably discharged and appointed adjutant general of Louisiana, but he resigned to accept the post of naval officer at Boston. Three times, subsequently, he was appointed deputy collector at Boston, his last term ending not long ago, with the appointment of Collector Warren. General Swift had done considerable State, a weekly newspaper, from 1885 to 1857. ALMANAC FOR WEDNESDAY, FEB. 20. Forecast for New England: Fair; southTHE FUTURE OF EUROPE.

L. Bon, the French Historian, Predicts an

Oriental Influx. The French historian Le Bon in a recent article predicts that Europe will ecome the seat for despotism and later for barbarism and incur the same fate as the Byzantine and the Persian empires. Next the Slavs will destroy the old culture, and then Europe will be overrun with the orientals, particularly the Chinese and the Hindoos.

According to Professor Le Bon's views, a general European war will be succeeded by terrible economic conditions. The orient is already commencing to be the producer for Europe instead of being the consumer, and Euthe beginning of the war. He was at that rope, in spite of its tariff protection, time lieutenant of the battalion known as will find it impossible to check the the Boston Tigers. He, however, enlisted flood. India is now exporting its produce, which, in spite of transportation expenses, is sold at a lower figure than the European, and India, provided with machinery, is now competing with Europe in the manufacturing market. China, when its war with Japan is over, will follow India's example. When India and China, with their enormous deposits of coal, have a mass of factories in operation, they will overwhelm the European markets with their products and place the European workman in the position where he must either starve to death from lack of work or starve on absolutely insufficient newspaper work, and was editor of The wages. The oriental workman will not, as experience has shown, desert their cheap food-tea and rice-for our incre expensive food or European luxuries. Professor Le Bon's views, says Le Temps, may be drawn in dark colors, but every one familiar with political economy must to a certain extent indorse them. The European markets in certain of their branches are now and have for some time felt the killing influence of economical competition from the oriental countries, and when such conditions exist now what will they be when these countries will be equipped with European machinery and producing its articles with the same facility as is now done in Europe? It may not come in our time, but a future gen-

> An Interesting Insurance Question. William Bailey, who had been buying horses and shipping them south, and who accidentally shot himself through the right foot two weeks ago, has died of his injuries. Bailey came here from Fort Scott. Shortly after the first of the year he took out two accident insurance policies, one in the Fidelity and Casualty company for $5,000 and the other in the Standard company for a like amount. The latter company claims exemption under a clause which releases it if the insured is injured while in the

He sat down and chatted with his wife bout the women at the convention, telling of various things that had been said and done. Suddenly he gasped, clapped his hand to his heart and fell back unconscious. A doctor was hastily sum-moned and arrived within a very few noments, but his efforts to revive Mr. Douglass were hopeless from the first. Within 20 minutes after the attack the faint motion of the heart ceased entirely and the great ex-slave statesman was dead. tion by William Lloyd Garrison.

In the summer of 1841 he attended an anti-slavery convention at Nantucket and made a speech which was so well received that he was offered the agency of the Massachusetts Anti-Slavery society. In this capacity he traveled and lectured through the New England states for four years. Large audiences were attracted by his graphic descriptions of slavery and his eloquent appeals. At this time he published his first book, entitled, "Narrative of My Experience in Slavery."

In 1845 he went to Europe and lectured on slavery to enthusiastic audiences in nearly all of the large towns of Great

Editorial Comment.

It is pleasing to note that Representative Hammond although in the minority, was paired against the biennial election resolve. The bill provides simply for biennial elections of all State officers, not biennial sessions of the Legislature. It has not yet become a law however, for it must pass the next legislature first and then be submitted to the people.

The Auditor's Department.

Auditor Hall has taken exceptions to the LEDGER'S report of the meeting of the City Council, wherein it was stated that he desired an assistant. That was the inference drawn from the communication, Thursday Evening, Feb. 21, '95. which is presented in full below, as no increase of salary would be operative this year if passed. There are few positions at City Hall more responsible than the office of City Auditor, and the official should be well paid that he may give more time to the duties. The communication to the Council reads:

> E. W. H. Bass, Esq , President of the City Council:

The detail and extent of the city's financial interests are increasing so rapidly that Music-" Integer Vitæ." in my judgment the auditing department should be furnished with additional means for the efficient performance of the duties of the office. Will the Council refer this to such committee or joint committee as it may desire that the interests of the city may be thoroughly protected. Respectfully,

JOHN O. HALL, Auditor.

Increased Confidence In the Financial Stability of the Treasury.

GOLD OF AMERICA AND ENGLAND

of Uncle Sam.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21. - The subscription a. m. yesterday. At J. P. Morgan & Co.'s applications have been enormous, but no figures are yet available. Approximately, it is believed that the loan will be 10 times covered at least.

Under the terms of the agreement between the bond syndicate and the government some $32,500,000 was to have been deposited with the treasury for the home account, the rest of the gold required to pay for the bonds having to come from abroad. That amount of gold had been deposited with the treasury up to yesterday morning. Yesterday afternoon J. P. Morgan made a deposit of $1,123,000 gold at the sub-treasury, taking in exchange therefor legal tenders. This action was probably taken to further instill confidence in the financial stability of the treasury, and is in line with the policy of the syndicate to hold the gold reserve at the full limit.

Its Success In London.

LONDON. Feb. 21.-The subscription to the new United States loan closed at noon here, and the amount agreed to be taken there has been covered more than 10 times. On the stock exchange the bonds are known as "New Yankees."

The Daily News, in its financial article this morning, says that the one and only event in the city yesterday was the issue of the American boan. No official announcement was made of the total applications, and the wildest guesses were hazarded. We have reason to believe that irrespective of any application from the provinces the loan was covered in London alone nearly 15 times.

Allotment letters will probably be issued early this week. Considering the huge number of applications, involving the temporary lock-up of over £4,000,000, it is not surprising that money has been scarce. One per cent was freely paid for short loans yesterday morning, and al though the charge settled down to about 3/4 in the afternoon, there was a good demand throughout the day.

The Times says that owing to the temporary lock-up of capital, owing to the enormous subscriptions to the American loan, a meeting of the discount house has been convened. Money will doubtless be released as soon as possible, but as all the country applications have not arrived yet. able impression has been produced by the striking success of the loan.

The Telegraph says it is probable that the loan was subscribed for 20 times over. The allotment will, therefore, involve much labor. The apportionment of the bonds will necessarily extend over several days. The result points strongly to the belief that the United States of America will not be allowed to sink below the financial level of European nations.

The Daily Graphic says: Such interest is not offered every day. Even should difficulties arise in the future, through some prank or intrigue of the silver senacredit is due President Cleveland for the by a vote of 31 to 25. The house refused of the market premium that the dealings were just as active as the applications.

Treasury Officials Pleased.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.-The treasury officials heard with much satisfaction of the success of the late bond issue. They are especially pleased with the favor with punishment as imprisonment in state which the loan was received in London, as prison for life was enforced. it shows most conclusively faith abroad in our financial strength and purpose to pay all obligations in gold.

The good effect of the recent gold pur chase is already shown, it is asserted, in lice last night, but nothing was found. the upward tendency of American securities in London. The officials were also much gratified to learn that in view of the the liquor men. very large over subscription for the bonds in London, the Morgan Belmont syndi cate would consent to sell only a small proportion of the whole in this country. If this plan were carried out, it would re duce the danger of further gold withdrawals to a minimum and quiet the panicky feeling which has prevailed during the last several months.

Malfeasance In Office.

PAWTUCKET, Feb. 21. - Tax Assessor Maroney was, last night by a decisive vote removed from office by the city council. Maroney has been tax assessor for 13 years, during which time he has also con ducted a real estate insurance business At the investigation it was shown that he granted a low tax rate to customers and did not do business with him.

ANOTHER BUSY DAY.

The Feature of Which Was the Shelving

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 .- The opponents of the new battleships for the navy suffered a crushing defeat when Mr. Sayers' motion to strike out the authorization for the war vessels was lost, first in the com mittee of the whole by a vote of 43 to 121, and later in the house by a vote of 67 to 199

Mr. Dolliver of Iowa succeeded in having an amendment adopted providing for the building of two torpedo boats on th Will Soon Replenish Coffers Mississippi river, and Mr. Sayers added a proviso to the item for armor appropria tion to the effect that no higher sun should be paid by this government for armor or gun steel than was paid the contracting firm for similar material fur books for the new bonds closed at 10:22 a. m. yesterday. At J. P. Morgan & as passed authorizes the construction of three battleships, to cost, exclusive of armor, $4,000,000 each, and 12 torpedo boats to cost $170,000 each. Mr. Chandler created somewhat of sensation in the senate in a speech which came unexpectedly as an incident to the debate on the Indian appropriation bill. Mr Chandler protested against the manner of attaching general legislation to appropria tion bills, saying it would make an extra session inevitable. Then, he added, it would be well to as semble the new congress at an early day in order to let it begin its important work. It would, in the senator's judgment, investigate deeply and thoroughly the recent purchase of gold, which transaction, said the senator, was one of the most remark able in our history. It was certain to be investigated by the house of representatives, said Mr. Chandler, and would be nvestigated by the senate.

During the early hours of the day the Jones silver bill made its exit from the senate. Senator Jones announced that its friends would make no further effor to pass it at the present session. The dis posal of the measure was emphasized by the decisive vote of 55 to 12 on Mr. Gor man's motion to take up the Indian appropriation bill.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Feb. 24 Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.-To what has Christ opened your eves?-Acts ix, 1-11, 17-21.

The topical references record the history of the conversion of Saul of Tarsus, who was subsequently called Paul the Apostle. One feature of Christ's appearance to Saul was that he was stricken blind, in which state he remained for three days, until God sent Ananias to him, through whose good offices, under the blessing of God, "there fell from his eyes as it had been scabs, and he received sight forthwith," but not only physical but also spiritual sight. The model, representing to what Christ opens our eyes when we are converted.

1. Christ opens our eyes to a proper conception of ourselves. Paul's first mistake was that he did not see himself as God saw him. He was a Pharisee of the strictest kind and had the idea that in persecuting Christians he was doing God's will. He did not see the error in his heart and life. But Christ opened his eyes to see that and the consciousness of his personal guilt before God never left him. One of the first steps in conversion is the consciousness of our personal guilt, and therefore our need of a Saviour. We must be convicted o' sin before we will turn from it to God. This was the case with David when Nathan pointed out his sin. He saw it and cried to God in sorrow and repentance The repentant thief on the cross illus trates the same fact. He saw his persona guilt. "We indeed justly, for we suffer the due reward of our deeds." It is the same in all cases.

2. Christ opens our eyes to a proper conception of Himself as the Messiah This was another error in Saul's charac ter. Raised as a Jew and as a Pharisee he was taught to reject Christ as the Messiah. He himself said it was throng ignorance that he had persecuted God' people-through ignorance because did not believe in Christ as the Messiah But when the scales fell from his spirit ual sight he also saw Christ as indee the Son of God and was ready to confes Him as such, for he cried, "Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?" The thief or the cross had the same experience. H was led to see his own guilt and also th true character of Christ. "We indee justly," he said, confessing his own guilt, but "this man" (that is, Christ "hath done nothing amiss." Chris opens our eyes not only to see ourselve but Himself. And when we see Him is the beauty and loveliness of His charac ter we cannot but admire Him and de sire to be like Him.

3. Christ opens our eyes to the dutie resulting from a proper vision of our selves and Himself. When Paul received his sight, immediately he arose, wa baptized and ever afterward did the will of God. To see ourselves aright and Christ aright is not all of Christianity Conversion is more than turning from evil. It is also a turning to good. We must cease to do evil, but we must also learn to do well. Conversion to Chris results in Christian duties. Christ oper our eyes to these duties, and, like San of Tarsus, we should not hesitate to d them. Faith and works are both neces

POOLING BILL YOTE.

Democratic Steerers Intend to Have It Come Off at Once.

SUNDAY SESSION WILL BE HELD Unless Opponents Are Able to Muster Full Forces.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The Democratic steering committee of the senate, after many postponements, held a meeting yesterday, and decided to recommend to the senate that Senator Butler should be permitted to move at 3 o'clock today for the consideration of the pooling bill; that this bill should continue to be the unfinished business until 12 o'clock Monday, and that it should not be disposed of by that it should give place to other The understanding created great interest among the opponents of the bill as soon as it became known, and they immediately began their propositions to antagonize, not only the bill itself, but also, if possible, prevent its being taken up. The program was immediately construed into a decision to hold a Sunday session, and this fact was made the most of by those of the senators who opposed the bill. The advocates of the bill did not admit in many words that their purpose included a Sunday session, but they confessed that if they should succeed in get-ting the bill up they would use their utmost endeavors to have it voted upon dent, Mrs. J. R. Osterhout, Providence before the expiration of the time set for its consideration, and as this time would include only about three hours of the Saturday session and one hour of the Monday session they would necessarily have very limited time for the bill without either a night or a Sunday session. Senator Butler's Determination.

Mr. Butler further said that he felt con-Butler would name no figures, it is understood that other friends of the bill claim that a final vote would show that twothirds of the members of the senate favor it. The opponents of the bill concede that, if a vote should be reached, it would pass, but they are determined in declaring that it shall not reach the point when the test of its strength shall be made. The tactics which they will pursue were foreshadowed in Senator Pettigrew's brief statement in the senate just prior to adjournnent last night. The feeling is such as to make it clear that there will be a very sharp clash when the effort is made to take the bill up, and the indications are for a period of most decided parliamentary sparring against the measure, which will probably be led by Senator Gorman on the Democratic side and by Senators Chandler and Aldrich among the Republicans. Pettigrew Springs It, As the session of the senate was about to close last night, Mr. Pettigrew gave | with attempting to hang a jury. He says a decidedly interesting turn to the otherwise tedious debate on the Indian appro-

It has been discussed for several days, and Mr. Call, in charge of the measure, sought to secure an agreement for a final vote today. There were numberous objections, and among them one from Petti-grew, which was emphasized by the brief but pointed statement he made.

It was in the nature of a disclosure that a private arrangement had been reached among senators whereby the pooling bill would be taken up at 3 o'clock this after-noon, and held before the senate day and night and over Sunday until passed. The statement came so unexpectedly, and was the sequel to such active work throughout the day by the friends of the pooling bill, that it created something of a sensation among the senators and spectators. Mr. Pettigrew added to his announcement that he would take effective steps to defeat the passage of the pooling bill by objecting to the disposal of the Indian appropriation bills or other measures having pre-

What

it Does

Backache and Kidney Troubles

Kidney trouble is indicated by pains in the back; neglecting the pains results in serious illness. The Kidnevs becoming clogged fail in heir work of relieving the system of impurities. A change or decomposition takes place. Once the structure is destroyed no remedy will avail. There is only one time to attack the disease and that is in its early stage, when the first pains are felt. Buker's Kidney Pills are a specific for Backache and Kidney troubles, if taken in time.

Druggists sell them for 50 cents. Book about Backache, free.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Manhood. Not till life's heat has cooled.

The headlong rush slowed to a quiet pace
And every purblind passion that had ruled Our noisier years at last Spurs us in vain, and, weary of the race,
We care no more who loses or who wins—
Ah, not till all the best of life seems past The best of life begins.

To toil for only fame, Hand clappings and the fickle gusts of praise For place or power or gold to gild a name Above the grave whereto
All paths will bring us, were to lose our days We on whose ears youth's passing bell has In blowing bubbles, even as children do,

Forgetting we grow old. But the world widens when

Such hope of trivial gain that ruled us lies Broken among our childhood's toys, for ther We win to self control And mail ourselves in manhood, and there ris Upon us from the vast and windless height Those clearer thoughts that are unto the soul What stars are to the night. -A. St. John Adcock

The Past Is Ours. If cruel hands attempt to blight

The fruit we hoped the years would bring.

They never can destroy outright The sweets that round the blossoms cling So, though they may our way pursue And seek our highest hopes to blast, One thing they have not power to do,

They cannot rob us of the past. -Thomas Freeman Porter.

Success of the New Loan Raises the Hopes of Business Men.

PRICES OF PRODUCTS STILL LOW

General Review of the Manufacturing Situation.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.-R. G. Dun & Co's weekly review of trade says: The surprising success of the new loan and the great confidence it has given investors on both sides of the water and to business men here encourages many to hope that it may be the beginning of a real recovery. Considering the power which control of these bonds gives to regulate foreign exchanges and to prevent exports of gold, the transaction has indeed changed the financial situation, in spite of the fact that government revenues are still deficient and that domestic trade shows scarcely any gain as yet. The industries are not enlarging production, nor have prices of farm products improved; but a very important source of apprehension and hindrance has, for the time at least, been re-

Wheat fell to 56 cents Saturday last, and has recovered to 57, while corn, cotton and pork are unchanged, and hogs and lard are a shade lower. Western receipts of wheat are nearly as large as last year, though for three weeks about 40 per cent smaller, owing to the storms. The exports are a little larger than a year ago. Raw Cotton Dull.

Cotton has refused to advance, though there has been much talk about curtail ment of acreage this year, and receipts have sharply decreased. The decrease was apparently owing to the unprecedented weather at the south, and the market is more influenced by the certain oversupply for the next six months than by the possible shrinkage in yield next fall. As the market for goods is dull, here and abroad, the fact that visible stocks of American are about 300,000 bales larger than in 1892 at date justifies expectation that the surplus carried over will be large. Boots, Shoes and Leather.

The trouble between the shoe manufacturers and sellers does not lessen, and nearly all the jobbers are refusing to pay the small advance in prices which makers of boots and shoes have asked on account fair stocks on hand, and propose to sell all they have before ordering more, with collections slow and future prices uncertain. Leather is firm, without concessions, though on the whole sales do not equal receipts.

Shoe manufacturers do not want further orders, unless with some advance in prices, which jobbers will not pay, so that many more shops have closed. Shipments from Boston for three weeks of February were 230,499 cases, against 226,250 in 1893.

Nail and Wire Makers Busy. Dealers in iron and its products are oderate in volume, with some discour-

those downward. Cottons are meeting an indifferent demand, and New York mills 4-4 bleached have been reduced to 91/4 ents, and Lonsdale 44 bleached to 5% cents, and in cheaper goods and brown sheetings prices are irregular. A better demand appears for finer prints, but fancy calicoes are quiet and there is only the average re-order business for dress goods. In light woolens the re-orders continue later than usual, and the preliminary purchases of medium and low heavy goods are larger than a year ago, some mills having business until April, while in the higher grades there is a more promising

The termination of a strike at Philadelphia sets more carpet mills at work, and demand is fair, while in dress goods little

Sugar Bounties. WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.-Senator Blackburn, on behalf of the senate committee on appropriations, yesterday introduced an amendment to the sundry civil bill to provide for the payment of the full bounty on the sugar produced in 1893 and for the payment of 8-10 of a cent a pound on the production of 1894. The amendment for the payment of the first class of claims carries an appropriation of $238,289.

An Interesting Church Row.

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 23.-There is trouble in the Advent church in Bakersville. Rev. J. W. Cook, the pastor there, has been requested to resign his charge, but refuses to do so. The faction opposed to him say that his dogmas are Methodist, and object | ing serious injury. to his tenets regarding a literal hell. The pastor declares the request unwarranted, and announces his intention to continue in the church.

Maher and Hall Give a Rather Tame Pugilistic Exhibition

Boston, Feb. 23.-The Suffolk Athletic club last night presented a six-round bout between Peter Maher, champion middleweight of Ireland, and Jim Hall of Australia, as the chief feature. Referee Kelliher called it a draw at the finish, and the 2000 spectators who were present hissed

The battle was very tame, Maher forcing the fighting in all but the fourth round and doing the most effective work. Throughout the contest Hall was on the defensive, and the coolness with which both finished the sixth, and what was excted to be the deciding, round, when both men went smilingly to their corners, called forth hisses from the spectators.

Maher was in perfect fighting form at 171 pounds. Hall was trim at 1671/4. Maher forced Hall to the four corners of the ring, and made his object the heart of the Australian. At no time during the contest was there an indication of a finish, but Maher showed his superiority in leading and countering.

Sons of Veterans' Election. Boston, Feb. 23 - The two days' session of the Massachuse ts Sons of Veterans at the American House was concluded last evening, when the annual election of officers took place, as follows: Division commander, Fred E. RIOTOUS STUDENTS

Indulge In Disgraceful Proceedings In the Streets of St. Petersburg. St. Petersburg, Feb. 23.-Students who caused so much trouble here Thursday really wanted to present a petition t the czar. The petition, it is claimed, was a protest against the abolition of certain by-laws governing the provincial assem-blies. During the march to the palace, the students stopped at the restaurants. Here many became intoxicated. They entered several theaters, jeered the perform ers and fought with the spectators and attendants until forcibly ejected. They then proceeded to the front of th Anitcheff palace, where they paraded, hoping to attract the attention of the The police finally stopped the marching and counter marching. A goodsized riot ensued, but the students were finally driven away. They then went to a restaurant, but the police had already taken the precaution to order the proprietor to close the doors. This enraged the students, and they forced the doors and windows, smashed the furniture and destroyed the viands. They were finally ejected by the authorities. This only enraged them the more

Coasters Out In Force. CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 23.-Weather of he genuine New England winter type was vouchsafed in generous portions for the second and closing day of the carnival. The closing feature of the occasion was the coasting carnival that took place last evening. Thousands of people, men, women and children, lined up on either side of Centre street to witness the winter sport. Residents, without exception, along the avenue, illuminated their houses and many were lavishly decorated with Chinese lanterns. Bonfires burned at in tervals, and red fire, roman candles and rockets gave a magnificent pyrotech nic setting to the scene. The clos ing event of the carnival was the grand ball at the opera house, given by Concord Typographical union 297. There was a large concourse present.

Fatal Flames. Hor SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 23.-Three women were burned to death and $100,000 worth of property was destroyed in a dis astrous fire here vesterday. The fire started at 4 a. m., in the Ledgerwood bakery, and in an hour five boarding houses, several stores and 15 cottages, in all worth $100,000, had been swept away and three women had been burned to death. The streets covered by the fire were Ouachita, Sealey, Malvern, Wood bine and Orange. Three hundred men women and children were driven to other quarters for lodging, and most of them lost all their clothing.

Bank Robbers at Thomaston. WATERBURY, Feb. 23 .- At 1:20 o'clock vesterday morning the Thomaston Na tional bank safe was blown open by three burglars. Congress Must Work Night and Day Until Next Monday.

GREAT PRESS FOR PRECEDENCE

Will Make Exciting Sessions In Both Branches.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.-The senate program for the remainder of the session, which will close at 12 o'clock today week, is to follow the sundry civil bill, the consideration of which begun today, with the legislative, executive and judicial bill, and then to take up the naval bill, and lastly the general deficiency appropriation bill. While it is understood that there will probably be spasmodic appeals to get up other measures of importance, the best opinion is that none of these will be successful in cases where there is objection. It is possible that Senator Butler will renew his efforts in behalf of the pooling bill and that Senator George will also again attempt to restore the bankruptcy bill to its position as the unfinished business, but it is not in the least probable that the efforts of either will be success ful. Senator Faulkner is also hopeful of securing brief consideration of the territorial admission bills, but there is no longer a possibility of passing the bills.

An order has already been made for a night session Tuesday for the consideration of bills to which there are no objections. The probabilities include night sessions every night after tomorrow, con tinuing virtually through the nights of Saturday and Sunday and also a session next Sunday during the day. These, it is believed, will be necessary in order to dispose of the appropriation bills, there being many provisions in those remaining unconsidered which will lead to prolonged

There is also a probability of debate over the next report of the conference committee on the diplomatic bill, involving the appropriation for the Hawaiian

There is not much in the legislative bill to lead to debate, but the other three bills all contain provisions which, if they are not withdrawn, are sure to cause sharp discussion. It is intimated that the ertificate amendment to the sundry civil bill may be withdrawn. Crowded Calendars.

ek of the session, and the usual rush every session of congress begun. Under the rules the last six days of every session are suspension days, and members recognized may call up bills and have them acted on under suspension of the rules. There are 331 public bills on the calendar, 217 of which must be considered in committee of the whole, and 114 on the regular calendar. In addition to these there are over 5000 bills on the revolver against Carver for $1000 and the private calendar, Of course only a very insignificant percentage of these bills can be passed, but the press for precedence will be terrific, and many exciting scenes are almost sure to occur. It is quite probable that several night sessions will be held, and it is almost certain that congress will remain in continuous session from Saturday until Monday next, on which day congress expires by limitation at noon.

The regular appropriation bills are unusually well advanced so far as the house is concerned, only one (the deficiency) being unacted upon, and that will go to the senate today. The two which are considered dangerous (that is, liable to fail or be vetoed) are the sundry civil and the diplomatic and consular. To the former the senate finance committee has reported an amendment for 3 per cent coin bonds, with a provision requiring the secretary of the treasury to advertise for bids in case of another bond issue. To the diplomatic and consular the senate has added the amendment for the Hawaiian cable. If these provisions prevail, despite the protest of the house, it is thought the president may veto them. The committee on Pacific railroads is pressing for an opportunity to secure a vote on the funding bill as amended, and the committee on public buildings is equally insistent on its demand for chance to settle the question of the print-ing office site, which has been hanging fire for several years. It is probable that the committee on rules will give both time during the coming week, in case opportunity offers. As a whole, the week promises to be both interesting and excit- wrecked.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 .- The attempt made to prevent Colonel Bob Ingersoll from delivering his lecture on "The Holy Bible" at the Hoboken theater last night proved For Latest Local and Vicinity a failure. As the result of a protest issued by the pastors of three of the most prominent churches in that place, Mayor Fagan on Saturday issued orders that the theater be closed yesterday, thereby practically debarring Colonel Ingersoll from appear-to stop the lecture. Shortly after noon a consultation was held in the office of Chief of Police Donovan, at which, in addition to the chief of police, the mayor and Mr. Clark, manager for Colonel Ingersoll, and Mr. Davis, the manager of the theater, were present. The two managers were informed of the decision of the corporation attorney, and they departed with the assurance that the ecture might take place. To prevent any disturbance on the part of the audience and also to stop any blasphemous utterances on the part of the ecturer, Detectives Nelson and Gallagher were sent to the theater from police headquarters. But on neither grounds was their presence necessary, for beyond frequent bursts of applause the audience was orderly and the speaker confined himself almost entirely to his text, with an occaof Hoboken and the statute of New Jersey law to which the reformers had been

Dark Horse Won.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 25.-George W. Mc Bride, ex-secretary of state, was elected to the United States senate to succeed Senator Dolph. The struggle has been carried on in the legislature for 33 days. McBride was in no sense a candidate. George W. McBride is a native son of Oregon, having been born in Yam Hill in 1854 In 1856 he was nominated by the Republicans for secretary of state was elected. His popularity is attested by the fact that the two principal nominees on the ticket with him-gover treasurer-were defeated. McBride performed the duties of his office so satisfactorily that he was renominated by acclamation in 1890, and re-elected by a handterm and retired the first of the present year to give way to his successor.

Was a Brave Soldier.

TROY, N. Y., Feb. 25 .- Major General Joseph B. Carr died here yesterday, after a sickness of long standing. A cancer was the cause of death. General Carr was born in Albany in 1828, but passed almost his entire life in Troy, after attaining manhood. He early bok in interest in military affairs, and served in the war with distinction. General Carr was for several years a prominent figure in state politics. He was chosen secretary of state Today the house entered upon the last by the Republican party in 1879, 1881 and which characterizes the closing hours of the only Kepublican on the state ticket elected. He was once the party's candidate for lieutenant governor, but was not elected to that office. CHICAGO, Feb. 25 .- Dr. W. F. Carver, in

MINISTER TO MEXICO.

The Nomination of Senator Ransom Is Considered an Ideal One. WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 -The president on Saturday nominated Matt W. Ransom, senator from North Carolina, for minister to Mexico, to succeed the late Isaac P. Gray. Few nominations have been sent to the senate which have been rice ved with greater favor. Mr. Ransom has been a member of the enate continuously for the past 23 years. Notwithstanding that he served through the war on the Confederate side, Mr. Ransom first made himself prominent as a peace advocate in ante-bellum days, and he attended the Montgomery peace con-vention in 1861 as a delegate from North Carolina. He was in those days a Whig, but since the war has affiliated with the Democratic party. During the war he filled in succession the grades of lieutenant colonel, colonel, brigadier general and major general.

Senator Ransom is 69 years of age, but s well preserved and does not show his He is a man of polished manners and of much tact, and his colleagues unite in the opinion that he will make an ideal liplomat. (From the Scranton, Pa., Republican.) Mr. George E. Shafer, of 1559 Von Storch Avenue, Scranton, Pa., wears the honored brown button of the Grand Army of the Republic. He enlisted in Company A of the Fifteenth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, at the outbreak of the war, and after a year of service practiced his trade, that of a machinist, with the army in Tennessee. He is now a member of Griffin Post, No. 139, of Scranton.

Mr. Shafer was a mere boy in those days, and to-day he carries his 50 years lightly. He says he has had very little sickness dur-ing his life, although for a number of years past he has been troubled with dyspepsia— a disability that may be traced to his camp a disability that may be traced to his camp life and his constant work in the shops. "Dyspepsia doesn't bother me much now, though," Mr. Shafer told a reporter. "Pain-Killer was recommended to me, and remembering its great efficacy in curing the pains of soldier life, I tried it. Before that I suffered untold agony with that 'lump of lead' that you have undoubtedly heard about if you never experienced it. It is worse than the lead from the musket of a foe. It than the lead from the musket of a foe. It used to attack me at all sorts of times, usually without warning. Before I began to use Pain-Killer I could find no relief except to let it wear itself out and then be careful about my diet. In fact, there was nothing that I could eat and enjoy without the danger of bringing on an attack. But now I have no trouble at all," continued Mr. Shofer "I cat what I please. tinued Mr. Shafer. "I eat what I please and when I please, and enjoy the best of health. If the 'lump of lead' appears I simply take two or three drops of Pain-Killer in a little water or milk, and it dissppears instantly. The result is I am never without Pain-Killer, but always have it with me wherever I go."

It is evident that Quincy needs a competent inspector of buildings: particularly for its new public buildings, one or two being built each year. The city has not had such a man in the past and it is almost impossible to obtain one in the city. Only two or three Quincy builders are acquainted with the construction of brick buildings. It is folly to expect a commissioner of public works to possess the knowledge necessary to fulfil all the duties required of commissioner in Quincy.

What did all this lead to? Did it help me to love mankind? No! It all tended to change my natural affections in the opposite direction. On the street I was reviled; in the house I was not allowed to associate with the rest of the family; in fact, wherever I went, I was constantly reminded of my ugly form.

One day, when about seven years old, we were presented with a new little boy. Such an odd, yet handsome baby! "Ah!" I thought, "what would I not give to be as much loved as he is?" But it was fated that he should do good as soon as he should come into the world. When I went Are we to have still another report? to see him the first time, he stopped crying The Advertiser says, "Mr. Eaton called as he looked at me. Never was It seemed the aim of the present administration to obtain an official condemnation greatest care upon him. That he returned that beat for me. Was it not a priceless treasure? He that is an outcast of human affection can testify sincerely.

At the proper age I was sent to school, and there was kicked, and cuffed, and reviled by all. No pity! no pity! But in my studies I excelled. I had nothing but my brother's love to occupy my mind, so I took to studying with extraordinary zeal. At the age of ten I had consumed all the interesting children's books in the library. I commenced reading Dickens. What a comfort these books were. I was deeply affected by "The Old Curiosity Shop." I compared little Nell and her grandfather to my young brother and myself. I, a Nell's. I was disgusted with the mean, cowardly brother of little Nell. I was mailed. amused with the drollery of Dick Swiveller. I quickly saw through the flatwho had in the past six months secured 166 teries of Sampson Brass. He was of brass, brazen. I became at once attached to honest, sturdy Kit. Quiet, old-fashioned Abel, yet kind and generous, charmed me. But Quilp I detested. "What!" thought I," if people should measure all hunchbacks by Quilp?" I was misshapen and ugly, yet not without a feeling of affection. I had a large share in my dreary state. But Quilp the cruel, revengeful. the devilish! But one day, the sorriest day of my miserable life, drove out, for a time, my aspirations. On coming home, I found the whole house in an uproar. The cause of this was (here I tremble so much that I can hardly write) the death of my deepest affections. The departing of my young, beloved brother, to the land of angels and holy peace. They dressed his marble form in the purest of linen, and they put in his hand, as his last wish, a lock of my ugly hair. How this heart beats! A lump rises to my throat that almost chokes me. O! my hope, my fondest affection, thou, whom I have vowed to see happy in thine old age, that thou shouldst lie there silent! my heart will burst of grief! Thou hast gladdened my heart in its dreariest times, and thou art the only one I have loved ! It seems as though thou wert sent as a balm to my shattered heart, and then snatched away as I have learned to love other things.

Is the Lawyer Married?

A dispatch to the Journal from Duluth, girl who is heiress to $120,000.

Miss Gladys Brooks, a handsome girl, 23 and duly installed: years of age, has fallen heir to a fortune of $120,000, left her by an uncle who died some weeks ago in Philadelphia. The girl has been slaving as a waitress, school teacher and serving maid for the last six years, and it was not until the police of the entire country was set at work looking for her that her whereabouts were discovered.

The girl was disowned by father and relatives six years ago, and leaving her home was lost to them as utterly as though she was dead, until a few days ago. Her father died nearly two years ago and her uncle died six weeks ago, leaving her all his wealth in atonement for what he considered his cruelty.

I knew nothing of her whereabouts until about three weeks ago, when a young lawyer from Braintree, Mass., called on me and informed me that Gladys' uncle, Z B. Brooks, had died in before, and left his entire fortune to her. He asked me to help find the girl, and said that he believed he had traced her to this city with me for over a year without my knowing it.

Forger Proctor Arrested in Philadelphia for Offenses Committed in Maine.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26. - George H. Proctor, who is wanted in Bowdoinham. Me., for forgery and false pretenses, was arrested here last night. He admitted his identity and was held to await requisition. Proctor is an old offender, having served terms for bank robbery, larceny and forgery. In 1878 he was arrested in Massachusetts for robbing a bank with Ike Bullard and Samuel Jones. While serving their term Proctor made false keys and the three robbers escaped. In 1884 Proctor, with the assistance of Klutz Donahue, robbed the United States Express company's office at Susquehanna, Pa., of $4000. They escaped to Canada, where Donahue died. Proctor was brought back and sentenced to nine years in the Eastern penitentiary. He was released last summer. The crime for which he is wanted in Maine is the forgery of the names of business men and firms to orders upon which he secured large quantities of goods and money. Fearing arrest, he fled, and when a search of the baggage he left was made, kits of burglars' tools and false keys were

CHARMED BY A WALTZ

He was the most interesting murderer ever met. Before the crime he was a private in my company and squad, and even the captain thought him an excellent trooper. During his confinement in the post guardhouse, which lasted over a month, his actions were those of acute mania, so that the officer of the guard did not enter his cell, and the cook's police fed him by means of a chute from above, about the base of which the food had now accumulated, for he would go for days at a time without eating.

He was restless as a hyena and paced his cell with a monotony of movement almost bypnotic to one watching him through the iron bars of his cage. When sergeant of the guard, I would lie on my bunk and look through the small iron latticed window in the center of the door that opened into the prison room and see him in his cell, where and passed below the colonel's guard. the view of his legs and feet was cut

The municipal suffrage bill was the "baile," that he had brutally butchreported to the house. Mr. Quint brought ered Corporal Jenkins with a bowie knife, so it struck me as appropriate that this same air should now be a monomania in his madness and control his brain. As he paced his cell he was beating time to the swing of the waltz with a pencil by way of baton. Davis ate and the speaker, with others, held a asked the officer of the guard to have consultation on the size of the committee | the prisoner brought into the general prison room, but the latter replied that the man was raving mad, and that it was folly to think of letting him from his cell or of sending men to enter it. and the charred bones of Weaver and his Davis then asked for the key, quietly wife were found in the ruins. and that at that moment the stabbing occurred. "Were they playing 'Sabre las Olas' at the time?" Davis asked. I replied that Sergeant Morrow had told me they were. I had mentioned to Morrow that Henderson raved constantly in this tune. "Ah, then," said Davis, speaking in a low tone to the officer of the guard, "then I understand his case. This is a very peculiar form of monomania. The waltz, the dominant sound during the act of murder, will rule his waking hours day and night, for it was then the madness struck in and photographed it on the brain. In this form of insanity the brain acts like the sensitive plate of a phonograph to receive the ruling sound of the moment and will repeat i incessantly until the brain wears itself out. If the madness be complete, there will be but one break. That will occur at exactly 11 o'clock, when the prisoner will cease humming the waltz and re enact the tragedy. After a few moments the impression of the murder will pass away, when he will again resume the waltz. I was impressed by the clear state ment Davis made on what seemed to me a most difficult case. Lieutenant ---, officer of the guard, was also struck by it, for he asked if he should send the

I had cautioned the trum peter of the guard to warn me quietly when he left the guardhouse to blow "taps." All through the evening I witnessed the same monotonous movement and listened to the same monotonous waltz, chanted slowly as always before. At intervals I would rouse myself and step outside the squadroom and stand in the cool sally port to assure my self that I was awake and my vision unimpaired, so drowsy would I become under the effort of strained attention. I must finally have fallen asleep, for the trumpeter touched me on the shoulder and startled me. I did not see him enter, but could have sworn I was still viewing Henderson's movements in the

The waltz ceased. not whence it came. The waltz ceased, and in a moment I had all but seen the stabbing of Jenkins. Then, as always before, the waltz again. In the morning I reported. It was clearly a case of acute madness, or no one who ever performed a tour of guard duty with Henderson had ever seen madness, but to our astonishment and horror the post surgeon thought otherwise and so officially reported.

The colonel was furious. He had in spected the man. The man was mad. He called up Davis and informed him of these facts. Davis replied firmly, "The man is sane, colonel, and I so reported." "He's not sane," the commander retorted. "Why influence me to stir up a civil murder trial which disintegrates a command and disturbs discipline? He should be sent to an asylum.' Ten years ago Davis would have explained and at length why he thought Henderson sane, but since these callow days he had once offered gratuitous in formation to a superior in command, so he said simply, "I'm not influencing

Yet my faith in Davis even on subjects of which we are variously ignorant. The egotism of being rational is so pleasingly pleasant. Still the colonel sent Henderson to civil trial and bullied Davis in the hopes that he would stop it.

The trial was held near the post, and many attended it. Before it proceeded to the arraignment the court summoned Davis for opinion. Again the same re ports he had made so confidently to the colonel. Every one was dissatisfied and the court proceeded to trial. The colonel again called Davis up.

"Davis," said he bluntly, "this has gone far enough. I was a witness in that man's trial today, and the man is mad, and the court and every one knows it except you, who of all persons should know it. From the testimony the jury must convict, which means the man shall be hung. I don't want a man of my regiment hung unless I'm convinced that he deserves it. Now, stop your pro fessional stubbornness and request some one in consultation before the verdict Would you have a crazy man hung?" "The man's as sane as you are, col

Morton's Opinion of the French Embargo on American Cattle.

Think More Severe Restrictions Will Follow.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. - Mr. Eustis, made excluding American cattle from France.

As the decree is ostensibly based on the existence of pleuro-pneumonia and Texas fever in cattle coming from the United States, the ambassador will call for proof of the fact.

That will mean long and tedious expert examinations by veterinarians, and much correspondence, which is not expected to be of any more avail than that which Mr. Runvon, our ambassador to Germany. was plunged by the issue of a similar decree by the German government, for it is fully realized here that the allegation that American cattle are unhealthy is the pation was accomplished and the glow of merest pretense in both cases, and that righteous passion, which purified and enthe real reason is fear of American competition.

In the case of France, the press cable dispatches have shown that the ministry have been urged to the issue of the decree by delegation after delegation representing the numerous and well-organized agricultural societies of the republic, solely for their protection against the American cattle growers.

Followed German Tactics.

In order to grant the demand, and yet at the same time to avoid the charge that France was violating the most favored nation clause in its treaty with the United States, which would properly lie if the latter were singled out from other nations for an attack of this kind, it was necessary that recourse should be had to the device unhealthfulness upon American cattle. This charge is always hard to rebut, owmony may be had on either side of the

A Busy Day.

The general deficiency bill, which is the last of the regular appropriation bills, passed the house yesterday. Most of the entire day was spent discussing the amendment to pay Great Britain $425,000, the amount of damages agreed upon by Secretary Gresham and Sir Julian Pauncefote to be due that country under the award of the Paris arbitration tribunal on account of the seizure of some 20 Canadian sealers by the United States previous to the modus vivendi of 1892.

The amendment was strongly attacked by Messrs. Some excitement was caused by the attempt to strike out in the house the appropriation for an extra month's salary for the employes of the house and senate and to clerks of members, but it failed, and the amendment prevailed—143 fo 108. Motions to reconsider and recommit were voted down as promptly as offered, until the opposition dwindled to a point when it could not get the yeas and nays. It then surrendered and the bill was passed.

ANGER OF CATHOLICS

Aroused by Ex-Priest Slattery's Utterances on Catholicism.

MILITARY AND POLICE ON GUARD

To Prevent His Falling Into the Hands of a Mob.

SAVANNAH, Feb. 27 .- For three days in has been apparent that grave trouble was brewing here. The city had been liberally placarded with notices that ex-Priest Slattery and his wife, described as an exnun, would lecture here on Catholicism. "I cannot stop this man from lectur ing," said the mayor, in reply to remon strances from a delegation of Catholics. "but I can prevent disorder, and I will do so. If the police are not sufficient to do so, the military will be appealed to. Riot will not be tolerated."

The committee stated that it was their desire to avoid trouble, and that they would use their influence in that direction. They did so, but their efforts utterly

All day it had been rumored that mob would come from different sections of the city, and that Slattery would be killed. The fact that he was to put on the garb of a priest in the course of his lecture raised an intense feeling among Catholics. Fifteen policemen were stationed inside Masonic hall and 30 others were massed in

A number, it was evident, had come armed, in anticipation of such trouble.

The Call For Military. As the ex-priest was about to leave the hall with his friends, the chief of police stopped them and refused to allow any one to go down stairs. Outside Mayor Myers and Colonel Garrard were in consultation. The mob hissed at the police and hooted at their orders to disperse. The military alarm, 11 taps on all fire bells in the city, was sent in, but when it sounded, the mob derided it.

Eleven companies in all responded. Captain Dillon brought Vicar General Cafferty to the scene of the trouble. The vicar general addressed a portion of the mob: "This man Slattery," said he, "can do your church no harm. You are bring-ing disgrace upon your religion by your conduct here tonight. It can but meet condemnation. I plead with you to dis-perse and go home; do not render it necessary to shed blood here tonight." A few left, but the majority stood still. Major Mildrim and others urged the mob to disperse, but to no purpose. With a double row of soldiers a block was formed, and while the rest of the military kept the crowd back, nearly all of the audience passed out of the hall amid hisses. Slattery and his wife and a few men remained in the hall. Mrs. Slattery was told that the First regiment and the Hussars would protect the hall, while the Guards battalion escorted Slattery to the Pulaski House.

Military Escort For Slattery. The four companies of guards were then banked about the door of the hall with the police, and Slattery was brought down. As he came with eight policem and the mayor, there was a howl from the mob, but the military, charging bayonets, pushed it back in all directions. Slattery was placed in the center of the military, and, headed by a detachment of mounted police and with foot police on the sides, the four companies of infantry, amid hisses and jeers, marched to the Pulaski House, followed by hundreds. Slattery was so buried in the midst of the military that the mob could not see him. Word had got among them that an assault would be promptly met with bullets.

At the hotel a mob of 500 or 600 had gathered. The military made a solid mass in front of the entrance, presented bayonets, and Slattery walked in uninjured. A large detachment of police was left at the hotel to guard him over night. Every door to the hotel was locked and guarded. Does Good Offset Evil?

interest, and has been much discussed of The score: late. No doubt military discipline, in itself, is a very good thing in the mixed elements of a public school. By the establishment of military discipline, classroom discipline is facilitated, and, as is generally recognized, habits of punctuality, neatness and obedience are fostered. But whether these good results offset the evil of fostering the militant spirit is an open question. The military spirit is a good one, and can never harm any boy, but the militant spirit is another thing. Mr. B. O. Flower, of the Arena, bitterly opposes public schools being converted into training schools for war. If the military discipline could be introduced into a school without the necessary accompaniment of the militant spirit, all would agree in pronouncing it to be an unmitigated good. In the meantime, whether it be good or bad, public schools of the country are

A FLORIST'S FAKE.

The Story of the "Blanket of Flowers" on Mrs. Astor's Grave an Invention. Many women have visited Trinity emetery, One Hundred and Fifty-fifth street and Amsterdam avenue, in the past few days to see the marvelous 'blanket of flowers' which was said to "cover the casket" of Mrs. William Waldorf Astor, and which was to be "renewed every morning for a year" by Mr. Astor's order. Mrs. Astor was buried on Jan. 9, not in a vault, but in a grave, in the northwestern corner of the Astor plot. On the day of the funeral ALLARD—BERRY—In Boston, Feb. 22, by Rev. William S. Some come from other states, and two came from what seemed to him the antipodes-Staten Island.

All this annoyance and disappointment is due to Joseph Fleischman, a florist, of Broadway. On the morning of the funeral he told the reporters that he had the contract to supply fresh flowers every day for a year for the grave. For this he was to receive $100 a day, he said, and in all he would receive $40,000 from Mr. Astor. On the day after the funeral Mr. Fleischman sent to the newspaper offices a typewritten story of the alleged contract given to him by Mr. Astor. He was, he said, to furnish 4,000 fresh lilies of the valley and 4,000 violets each day. He repeated the statement vesterday to a reporter of The Sun, and then, being confronted with the facts, admitted that he had invented the whole story. Superintendent Otto Meurer of the cemetery and his brother Albert, who is sexton of Trinity church chapel and had charge of the funeral, say that no such order for flowers was given by Mr. Astor to anybody. - New York Sun.

THE ENGLISH SPEECH.

Oh, the English speech! How true it rings! How masterful and clear! Fit vehicle for greatest things That mortal man may hear Their songs divine have sung, And laws of highest justice taught

In stern, deflant, tempest tones

Its battle shouts arise, Pelting the coward's heart like stones, Shaking the vaulted skies. But, oh, what frank and hearty mirth Doth English speech reveal
When Peace, God's angel, walks the earth
The wounds of war to heal! There's not an impulse of the mind

Or feeling of the heart But may its full expression find

In this consummate art.

Our mother tongue! The English speech!

The ages' masterpiece!

Whose sway around the world doth reach,

And shall, till time doth cease. Oh, the English speech! How true it rings Simple, direct and clear. The speech of freemen, nature's kings,

"Why "Why not?" says Miranda. "There are 10,000 pleasures in this silly world," he went on, "and, for myself, I have not yet exhausted the tenth part of them. Count my years, then, and make threescore and ten the dividend, and what remains? Pack them into the hours never so neatly, and you will not exhaust the store. And that is why I am a spendthrift of pleasures. I eke not out my delights. I would burn 20 in a straw hat out of sheer caprice and toss a dozen to the ducks upon the lake for pity.' "Yes, yes," agreed Miranda.

"Time," he continued, with fine scorn, "time has discovered us a conspiracy of the ages to inthrone this melancholy. But we are no traitors to our rightful being, you and I, and we will clap a crown upon the head of laughter, and lay the usurper by the heels in his proper dungeon."

"Or it may be hope," he added. He looked at her, and his gaze was mild and wistful. She regarded him in perplexity, and then a wild flush took her in the cheek and throat.

"Pooh, pooh!" she cried, and turned off, plucking at the hawthorn bush. The white may smelled rank, but strange and soothing. The petals shivered and fell. Miranda's heart beat on, wondering. Something clapped at its doors again and again. Would she open? What was this impatient visitor that pleaded so for entrance? She had so little knowledge. She was but newly arrived upon the world. Her emotions were still strangers to her. She was a pilgrim still among her new sensations. Ought she to open? Nay, to stay so and wonder was surely pleasantest. One day she would throw wide the doors and look. But now it was sweet to feel that hand upon the knocker, that clutching at the latch, and lie trembling within in feigned insecurity. She turned and faced him. Straightway the clamor ceased, and in her heart was silence. She looked him coldly in the face.

Advice to a Young Blackbird. Ah, there you are, let out alone at last. I've watched your goings on for some days

Though you may try to hide your youth by I know your age-you left the nest last week. Come here and let me give you some advice. It shall be useful, kindly and concise, For your new life has jars as well as joys, And there are cats and catapults and boys. When on the lawn, be vigilant and firm And deftly learn to land the unwilling worm When times are hard and every lawn is dry, Give up the usual worm and try the fly. Feast through the summer, but when autumn

Abstemious be, but chiefly with my plums. Thank man in winter for his crumbs and grain And in the summer praise the Lord for rain In nesting time don't build too near the sod; Choose a thick holly and then trust in God. Get a good mate, with kindly heart, and tail Managed with grace, not flaunted like a flail. When you fall out, as will do hens and hubs, Don't make it known by scolding through the shrubs.

And now about your singing just a word-Practice for skill, not merely to be heard. You ought to have a voice of some repute; Your father's voice, you know, is like a flute. Keep your song low and warble from the chest A mellow, rich contralto suits you best. Whate'er you do, don't trifle with the air, But work it out with conscientious care "Give yourself airs," but don't "go on the street"

Leave CITY HALL (via Norfolk Downs when marked with *)-6.20, *6.35, 7.00, 7.25, 8.05, 8.30, *9.00, 9.30, 10.00, *10.30, 11.00, 11.30 Work hard, be true and for perfection search. Then in your art you'll take the highest perch. Think o'er what I've said. Remember that Where'er you are—look out! here comes the cat!

A Debutante's Remark.

That the debutantes of the season of 1894-5 do not rely upon their appearance alone for success in the social swim, but have a fancy for conversational distinction, is evidenced by the following remarks, overheard at one of the introductory "teas:" "Miss Rosebnd, I want you to know Mr. Lega Lore and be very nice to him, for he is Cars Wednesday and Saturday evenings leave Quincy Centre for Quincy Point and Thomas Corner at 11.45 on arrival of 11.15 train from Boston.

A Question Making Much Noise.

A discussion is raging in Erie over question propounded by a schoolteacher to her class, "If a tree located in a for-est should fall and no one should see it, would it make a noise?" The question has created much discussion among the pupils to whom it was presented, and it has spread into older and wider circles. The debate turns upon the theory that OLD COLONY SYSTEM, sound exists only in the ear, and that there can be no sound where there is no On and after Oct. 14, 1894, trains will run tar to receive and respond to the atmospheric waves.—Oil City Blizzard.

French Decree Enforced and Is Good Until Further Notice.

OUR DIFFERENTIAL SUGAR DUTY

Appears to Be at the Bottom of the Matter.

PARIS, Feb. 27 .- A decree of the minisister of agriculture forbids the importation into France, until further orders, of cattle coming from the United States. Cattle shipped before Feb. 24 will be admitted under certain restrictions.

An Opinion of Weight, CHICAGO, Feb. 27 .- Nelson Morris, who controls the largest part of the export trade in cattle and beef products from this city, said: "Three months ago I had a proposition from the French minister of agriculture offering to continue to receive our cattle if the United States would take off the differential duty on sugar.

"I was asked to bring this before the government here. I went myself to Washington and had Mr. Dans there for some time, but the government paid no attention whatever. The agreement I had with the French government was to expire March 1. I see they have already terminated it in view of the impossibility of ac complishing anything more.

"There is no truth whatever in any of this talk about the improper condition of the cattle shipped. There has not been an animal rejected in three years by any foreign country on the ground of ill health, not since 1892, when the Rusk agreement went into effect. 'False Pretenses.'

"France has never questioned any cattle, nor has Germany up to six weeks ago, when it refused one small shipment of Texas cattle on the false pretense of Texas fever. Not since 1892 has it rejected a pork product.

"The prohibitions now maintained do not include canned goods, but ways are being found to keep these out also. A week ago last Saturday arbitrary and exessive duties were laid by Germany and Austria, covering all the canned goods made outside of those countries. These duties have not yet been made public, but have been brought to the notice by many German agents. "France, too, will accomplish the same thing, but in a different way. There they use little of the canned goods, except for the soldiers. I have a three years' contract with the government to supply this, which expires next next June."

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 27.—The Rex parade took place yesterday and devoted 20 gorgeous floats to the illustration of fantastic fairy tales. Outside of the regular procession the number of private floats and miscellaneous maskers was much larger than usual. At night the Krewe of Komus gave one of their gorgeous parades. They took up the songs of the olden times and worked the themes to tableaux of rare beauty. The balls at night were especially brilliant. Frank T. Howard was the king and Miss Fairchild

Boston Wool Market.

Boston, Feb. 27.—The wool market continues quiet, but firm in tone, the volume of sales footing up to a very fair average. Manufacturers are buying with considerable freedom, and the lots of wool shown by most of the dealers are now pretty well broken up, but that does not seem to strengthen prices appreciably. Buyers are turning their attention more toward foreign goods, now that the domestic offerings are getting low. Prices are as follows: Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces, No. 1, 19c; XX and XX and above, 10½/217½c; Ohio delaine fleeces, 18@19c; territory wools: Montana fine and fine medium, 9@12c; No. 2 medium, 12@13c; Wyoming, Utah, Dakota, Nevada, Idaho and Colorado fine and fine medium, 9@11c; No. 2 medium, 11@12c; California wools, spring, 9@11c; Oregon wools, eastern fair, 100c; choice, 11@12½c; Australian wools, scoured, combing super, 41@19c; average, 13@37c. SENSATIONAL SPEECHES. colored Preachers Turn a Memorial Meet ing Into a Tirade Against Whites. ATLANTA, Feb. 27 .- A negro mass meet ing was held at Big Bethel, the largest colored church in the city, which was advertised as a "memorial meeting in honor of Frederick Douglass." As speaker fol-owed speaker, the addresses became more and more unbridled, until the affair broke out in spots with "Jim Crow" cars, "Social equality" and calls for "Revenge" as the text for flery outbreaks.

Pastor Proctor of the colored Congregational church was received with applause when he announced that he agreed with

Douglass when he told the southern peo ple to beware or they would find "Fire-brands under their homes and poison in their coffee." Pastor Cheeks of the Big Bethel church was cheered when he told of how the North Carolina legislature had put Doug-

JAPANESE HEROISM.

His Body Guarded the Magazine After He Had Been Shot to Death In the Japan Weekly Mail are two intances of heroism during the war that illustrate the pluck of the Jap. The best is the story of a brave seaman on board the Itsujushima Kan, who was shot to death while endeavoring to save the powder magazine. The man was a marine who had been told to stand a sentry or guard at the entrance of the powder magazine. During the hottest part of the naval engagement, that of Hai-Yang, the Itsujushima was so steered that the shots of the enemy's small arms seemed to concentrate in the vieinity of this vital point, and noticing this the sentry fearlessly endeavored to cover the whole doorway with his body. In his attempt he was wholly success over, relief was sent to the faithful guardian, who was seen still standing at his post, with a somewhat troubled expression on his countenance. He was discovered to be stone dead and literally honeycombed with bullets, of which no less than 36 had struck him. Of course death had ensued long before his wounds reached that terrible total, but even in death his body had continued to guard the post kept so fearlessly and so well in life.

The Fuzoku Guho gives an account of a very daring feat performed by an infantsy soldier just before the Ping-Yang battle. Boats were imperatively essary, but every available craft in the neighborhood had either been requisitioned by the Chinese or else moored on their side of Taidong river. One of the Japanese volunteered to go across alone and fetch at least one of these boats, and on receiving permission to make the trial he swam across, mostly under water and in the face of a storm of bullets, unmoored one of the smaller junks and towed her back again to his starting place. He escaped without a wound, much to the satisfaction of his regiment. The bold fellow is said to be the stoutest and most intrepid swimmer in the army.

A CHURCH BILLIARD ROOM. Novel Departures In the Fitting Up of

New Congregation House. The Adams (Mass.) Congregational church recently dedicated a congregation house and parsonage containing some radical modern features. The house, besides containing more completely the features found in parish houses has a bowling alley, a well equipped gymnasium and a billiard and pool room, the most radical feature of all. The auditorium has a platform with footlights, as near an approach to a stage as could well be built in connection with a church, even in the midst of liberal Adams folk. The church has a well fit ted kitchen, lots of table linen, silver-classrooms and a study for the pastor. The bowling alley is in the basement and is always full of merry youths at accessible hours. The gymnasium in the attic is constantly patronized. Last week a class of young men was organized, and Professor Seeley of Williams was badly wrecked. All the passengers | college was engaged for instructor. The young women have become jealous, and it has been decided to prohibit the use of the gymnasium by the boys for sev PROVIDENCE, Feb. 27.-Collector Byx- eral hours each day and turn it over to bee recently appointed Myles McNamee as | the girls, who are determined to form

The church is not selfish. It has thrown open the doors of its fine congre gation house to the whole community, believing that a bettering of social conditions is a step toward purification.

There are one or two of the old conservative element who look unfavorably upon the congregation house and its well patronized pool and billiard tables. One says:

"By and by there will be a saloon connected with every church. If you put in billiard tables, bowling alleys and gymnasiums and say as long as the boys will play they had better play at church, why not put in a bar, for as long as men will drink why not let them drink at church?"-Boston Jour-

England's Game Laws.

While in most things England may be considered as abreast of the times she is hopelessly to the rear as regards her game laws. The absurdity of the latter as well as their flagrant injustice, savoring of the feudal ages, was strikingly illustrated the other day when young Lord Stratheden and Campbell was able to get a sentence of imprisonment and fine passed upon one of his tenant farmers who had committed the crime of shooting a hare on a field which he leased from the peer. This was held by the board of magistrates, consisting mainly of fellow landowners and friends of Lord Stratheden, to constitute the crime of poaching.

A Good Scheme.

An English gentleman has invented a life saving apparatus for use on a lake on his own place which is so simple that one like it could easily be put on every sheet of water frequented by skaters. Two broad planks, about 8 feet long, are placed on sled runners, and these are joined together by a rope fully 20 feet in length. A life preserver is fastened to the center of the rope, and in case of accident two people, by throwing themselves on the planks, could easily steer them to the hole, one on either side, when the life preservers could be grasped by the one whose life is in danger. - Philadelphia Press.

Savannah People Are In an Intense State of Excitement.

Slattery and His Wife Still Under Police Protection.

SAVANNAH, Feb. 28 .- There is little work in the business portion of Savannah. Yesterday was a day of continuous nervous strain and excitement. One thing only has been talked of, and that the prin ciple of free speech. Slattery has been almost lost sight of as an individual. It has ceased to be a case of an ex-priest desiring to lecture, and has become in the minds of many a question of the preserva-tion of the right of free speech in Savannah. All day groups of men have congregated in the offices and on the streets discussing Tuesday night's riot. There has been a general expression of opinion, and that is that Slattery should lecture again, if he desired, if it took the whole military force and half the citizens to protect him. There is no concealing the fact that thousands of citizens are determined that Slattery shall be protected in the exercise of every right he is entitled under the laws. Prominent Catholics express the

Prior to this, managers of the Men's Hebrew association had notified Slattery that they would break the contract and refuse to allow the use of the hall, which they had leased, as his language incited to riot, and endangered the lives and property of citizens. Slattery would not consider the contract broken.

No Admittance. Arriving at the hall, the police refused to admit any one. Several hundred women were turned away. Slattery and President Haas of the Hebrew association be-came involved in wordy dispute, and the chief put Slattery under arrest, but regrand receiver, T. F. At the Pulaski House an immense crowd congregated. The Masonic hall would have been unable to hold the women if it had been opened. Finding the hall locked, many of them came down to the Pulaski House. Mrs. Slattery held a reception. Hundreds called on her, and some tendered her the use of their parlors at home to lecture in Such a scene had never before been seen in this city. At one time over 100 women were in the hotel parlor crowded about the ex-nun.

LEAVES WITH REGRET

Eissell Places His Resignation In the President's Hands.

HAVE BEEN NO DISAGREEMENTS.

Associates Thought Him a Most Valuable Colleague.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 .- Postmaster General Wilson S. Bissell late yesterday afternoon placed his resignation as a member of the cabinet in the hands of President Cleveland, to be accepted upon the appointment of his successor. Though the rumors of the coming retirement of Mr. Bissell have been rife for some time, the official announcement last evening caused something of a sensation

The facts spread rapidly through the hotels and clubs, and the discussion of the chances of congress passing all the appropriation bills gave way to speculation as to who will be the next postmaster general. It is conceeded by all that only the personal desire of Mr. Bissell to resume his lucrative law practice actuated him in taking the step which he did. The postmaster general, in reply to queries of a reporter, said: "I have placed my resignation in the hands of the president. The reason for so doing is that my professional work at home demands my attention, and

I feel that I cannot longer remain away from it. "The business of the department is in good condition, and its transfer to my successor can be made without affecting the public service. I have found my work agreeable, though at times onerous. I confess I leave it with regret, because I have become deeply interested in it and had a desire to accomplish something more in the development of the postal service than 1 have found possible in these wo years of effort.

"I deeply regret also that I am thus compelled to sever official relations with the president and his cabinet, which have been most Satisfactory and Cordial Throughout, "Perhaps, without impropriety, I may ow say that all rumors of disagreement etween the president and his cabinet have been without foundation. I doubt if there ever was a more harmonious cab inet than the present one, and its members are a unit in support of the president on every public question."

Everywhere were heard sincere expressions of regret at Mr. Bissell's retirement.

At the White House the president said: "It is surely not necessary for me to say that I shall release Mr. Bissell with the utmost regret. All of his associates in the administration will feel that they have lost a colleague who, in all respects, was a valuable factor in their executive labors, as well as a companion to whom they have become greatly attached.

"I am not taken by surprise, for I have known for some time that it was inevitastarted in a residence here, and before the ble, because Mr. Bissell's reasons for his flames were gotten under control six cot- action were of a personal nature, and were more badly damaged and several houses net which has been, in the midst of many ous, all actuated by loyal devotion to the public interests and pervaded in a marked degree by the personal attachments which such connections cannot fail to create, causes us all real sorrow. Much gratification awaits Mr. Bissell in the appreciation of his countrymen of his splendid and valuable public service.'

A Place For Wilson. Though in the departmental and congressional circles the air was filled with the names of possible candidates to suc ceed Mr. Bissell from states ranging from the Atlantic to the Pacific and to Florida on the south, still the feeling was upperschau reports a conversation Prince Bis-marck had with a guest from Leipsic. day by order of the Connecticut Valley most among most of the men in official life that the president would reward in some way the untiring devotion of Congressman William L. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

LADIES' NIGHT.

Chief Rambler Packard Entertains in Grand Style.

The first ladles' night of the Ramblers was held Wednesday evening, at the residence of Chief Rambler, Frank C. Packard, on Chestnut street, and from 8 to 11 o'clock the spacious parlors were thronged with a happy gathering of ladies and gentlemen to the number of about 70. Major, the knighted inside watch, was on duty at the inner door while Sir. Ram-

Mr. George Waldron was present with one of Edison's phonographs, and having had a rare treat, having nearly everything in the way of instrumental and vocal music.

Mr. Henry O. Studley also contributed greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion with banjo and vocal solos. Refreshments were served during the evening. The only thing to mar the pleasure of those present happened a few minutes past 10 o'clock, when an alarm sounded from Box 41 and several of the Ramblers made a hasty exit through the private passage eading to the lodge room.

While returning from the fire Capt Hardwick was slightly injured. All present voted this, the first, to have been a very enjoyable and entertaining evening.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

AN IOWA WOMAN WHO PASSED A HARD LEGAL EXAMINATION.

Mme. Patti's New Gowns-A Model For Her Sisters-The Separate Fancy Walst. Frenchwomen's Rights-The Usual Protest-How She Won Their Votes.

Mrs. John B. Utt of Dyersville, Dubuque county, recently admitted to practice in Iowa courts, was born in this city. She is the daughter of one of Dubuque's first settlers and most esteemed citizens, ex-Mayor John D. Bush. Her maiden name was Annie M. Bush. She was married to Mr. Utt in 1886.

Her husband was a practicing attorney at Dyersville, and being much of his time absent Mrs. Utt began to study law to enable her to attend to her husband's business when absent. Becoming interested, she extended her studies to every branch of the legal profession, and having a liking for it knowledge came

She decided to study for admission to the bar, and having prepared herself appeared before the committee of the supreme court at Des Moines Jan. 14 and 15 last in a class of 34 applicants. The examination was very strict, lasting two days. Of the class ten were rejected, some of whom were graduates of law schools. When her name appeared among the successful applicants, there was general applause. Mrs. Utt is a brunette, of fine appearance and pleasant manners. She will devote her attention to equity cases, preparation of papers and pleadings before the judges, and will undoubtedly make her mark among the lady lawyers of the country.

The collar of white satin

in the conventional evening style completes this unique costume. The second gown is in a peculiar shade of light ecru, more gray than yellow, and the skirt is made with flat box plaits at the waist spreading out wide at the bottom instead of the fanlike godets so commonly worn at present. Fern green velvet, put on in braces back and front and made into a collar and belt, trims the bodice, with the addition of velvet tabs decorated with single motifs" of lace falling over the sleeves. And still another dress of gray cloth nade with a plain skirt stitched around the hem is trimmed on the waist with "harnesslike" decoration of gray silk gimp spangled with steel and embroidered with gray pear shaped pearls.

A dainty tea gown, which is a member of this extensive outfit of theatrical and private costumes, is made of pearl gray satin, opened over a front of finely plaited mauve silk muslin, drawn down with a deep belt of mauve satin. Large bows of mauve fasten the gown on either side of the waist, and from these fall cascades of lace. A frill of muslin edged with lace trims the neck, which is slightly open, and a ruffle of lace finishes the long sleeves. - New York Sun.

The Separate Fancy Waist.

The separate waist fancy, which modistes have resolutely tried to annihilate. has now been accepted by them, and they are lending their aid even to its enlargement. Having suddenly discovered, after months of amazing blindness, that the rage may be profitablefor a waist is a waist, whether it matches the skirt or not, and costs the same to make-they are counseling unlimited waists, deceiving the unwary customer into foolish and unnecessary supply. Six waists with one skirt is no unusual allowance, and as the waists have taken on degrees of elegance as distinct as were the full toilets of former seasons one needs about that number to have the suitable waist for every occasion.

No fabric or garniture is now too rich to put in one of these bodices, which it is rank misnaming to call a blouse. The loose garment, cheap and easy fitting from which they sprang, would not reognize its posterity if confronted with it, as there is no chance of its being blouses having been wholly obliterated Establishments now exist in the city where nothing is done except to make these waists to order, and they are overwhelmed with work.

It is a satisfaction, however, for many reasons, that the fashion has apparently settled into a permanent one for though one may dissipate in waists. as in everything else they are a distinct boon to the tasteful and judicious buyer who must be thrifty as well .-New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Frenchwomen's Rights.

The question of mutual financia rights of husband and wife in the in dustrial classes is coming to the front in France. According to a leader in the Paris Debats, the better sentiment of the country is already solicitous in the matter. In a country where it is rather the rule than the exception for the wife to work in the same business with her husband, not only the laboring classes, but the middle classes, the strong sus taining bourgeoisie of France have a vital interest.

Any legal arrangement for the pro tection of the wife from injustice on the part of the husband has up to the present time been extremely insufficient. The French husband still has the right to take all the wages or other product of his wife's work, to sell, if he pleases, anything she has bought and placed in her house, or to give it away, at his own discretion. The French law has offered no remedy except a separation of goods. and that is usually equal to an open declaration of war-to personal separation. For working wives of the industrious class this is an absolutely illusory protection.

It is now proposed to make a simple and thorough reform, by whose action the working wife will be given full right to salary or other goods earned by herself beyond a certain proportion for her personal share in the household support.

The Other Side.

It is not the most elegant phrasing certainly, nor a subject that one would and a chic bow at the back. The cloth choose for a text; but, as a forcible fact, part of the bodice is cut in the shape of one that cannot be overlooked, could —In Rome, B. A woman with a genius for dress said to a woman just from Paris, "I've found out one thing-that is, that if we don't put these side rosettes on our collars back of our ears, they make us look round shouldered." And the woman from Paris said: "My dear, I congratulate you on the discovery. # TASK FOR DIPLOMATS

To Dispel Clouds Hanging Over the Dominican Republic.

THE FARMING OUT OF REVENUES

Has Drawn Uncle Sam Into a Pretty Muddle.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 .- A question has recently arisen for the determination of the state department that may be of the first order of importance as affecting the relations of the United States with all of the countries of Central and South America and the independent republics of the West Indies, involving as it does the extent of the obligation upon the United States to protect these countries from the forcible collection of foreign debts and indemnities at the hands of European powers. Several years ago the President of San Domingo forcibly entered a French bank there and took from the vaults a considerable sum of money, which he alleged to be owing to him. The matter being reported to the French government, it was made a subject of negotiations, and wound up with a formal demand for restitution. This was refused, and the French government, after using peaceable means of se-curing indemnity, indicated a purpose of sending some war vessels to San Domingo to enforce a collection. It was the purpose of the French to seize upon a sufficient amount of the revenues of the republic to reimburse the claims.

Beginning of Complications. At this point an obstacle was interposed by an American company. The Dominican government, being in financial straits in 1888, made an arrangement with the firm of Westendorph & Co., bankers of Amsterdam, for a loan of £770,000 to take up the internal and foreign debt of the

To insure payment, the Amsterdam company was given the right to collect directly here from all the Dominican custom houses, and the loan was made a first lien upon all the customs receipts and a mortgage of all the revenues of the coun-

In 1890 this loan was considerably extended for the purpose of building a railroad. In 1892 Westendorph & Co. transferred all of their rights to an American company, chartered in New Jersey under the name of "The San Domingo Improve-ment company of New York," the leading spirit of which was Smith Weed. It was this company which has now

The case is further complicated by the fact that the bonds of the Dominican government are largely held in Holland, Belgium and England, as well as in the

That is the usual gentle diplomatic sentations in such cases, and it remains to be seen whether it will be sufficient. Probably it will not be, for it strikes at the right that has been freely assumed by sense, those around her at home and in European nations to collect indemnities,

GORMAN GIVES WAY.

The Financial Issue Is Finally Put Out of the Senate's Track.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.-When the senate adjourned yesterday, it was with the agreement that a vote shall be taken on the sundry civil bill at 3 o'clock this after-

The financial issue, which has hung like a great menacing clould over the senate chamber for many weeks, was suddenly dissipated. For four hours there was a storm of debate, in which the most conspicuous financial figures of the senate were listened to by crowded galleries.

And then Mr. Gorman, whose financial amendment had brought on the contest, withdrew the proposition and the subject was summarily disposed of. A moment later Mr. Mills' proposition to repeal the laws authorizing the issue of bonds was cut off by a rule of the chair that it was out of order. Thus the financial issue which had threatened serious delay to the appropriation bill was unexpectedly swept

Mr. Gorman made the principal speech in advocacy of the proposition for author-izing $100,000,000 of debt certificates to meet the treasury deficiency. The day was wasted in the house, so far as the purposes for which the day was set aside were concerned, namely, to consider bills reported from the committee on pub-lie buildings and grounds. Only one bill was called up, that to purchase what is known as the Mahone site for a new public printing office, but th opposition was flerce and bitter, and after wrangle of several hours, the house got into a parliamentary tangle which necessitated the abandonment of the bill. The conference reports on the bill to prohibit the importation of goods in bond, the pension and postoffice appropriation bills were agreed to. "WHY SO SAD, WILLIE?"

A London Police Court Incident That

Made Even Lady Somerset Laugh. All London is laughing now over a bit of testimony that was given in the hearings on Lady Henry Somerset's crusade against the London music halls. Not to be behind our own Dr. Parkhurst when he began his crusade, Lady Henry Somerset determined to take the bull by the horns and collect evidence herself. She secured another lady as zealous as herself as a companion, and the pair obtained the services of a young curate of their acquaintance as male es-

Now, it happens that Lady Somerset is a woman of very generous proportions and withal so handsomely made that some of the ungodly have been wicked enough to suggest that her ladyship would make an enchanting living picture herself. It chanced also that the lady who was to accompany her was of a similarly generous build, if anything rather the larger of the two. On the other hand, the young curate was slight and weazened, with a pale, mild face, that bore a perpetual air of melancholy.

The trip was made, and when the detective party was placed upon the stand during the hearing the justice asked her ladyship if in her travels about in the slums she had been molested or accosted in any offensive way. Lady Henry was compelled to reply that she had not, but that, on the contrary, she had rather respectful treatment. Her companion gave similar testimony.

When the little curate took the stand, the judge asked the same question of him-if he had been accosted.

"Yes," replied the little man in a shrill voice, "and very offensively too."
"Well," said the judge, "what did the women say to you?" "Well, sir," the curate declared, with comical indignation, "in one of the music halls a couple of women came up to me, and one of them brazenly chucked me under the chin and said, Why so sad, Willie?"

Even Lady Henry Somerset could not suppress her laughter. - New York Her-

BACTERIOLOGY.

This Bacillus Business Has Spread So as to Make Us All a Little Nervous. Of Campbell's lives of the lord chancellors, in the saccession of which there was a possibility that he might himself appear, Lord Brougham said that it had added a new terror to death. Life has been so stuffed with new terrors by the bacteriologist that there is hardly room for another, and beside him the most prolix and prosaic historian and biographer becomes an innocent and harmless figure indeed. There is hardly any physiological or moral condition which is not now fitted with its bacillus, the proportion and structure of that microscopic reptile being given with diabolical accuracy and verisimilitude. It would really be a relief not to know quite so much of the minute organizations which accompany morbid pathological states if there were any way of escaping it. The doctors have to know, of course, but the knowledge Washington, March 16, and after that date | might be confined to them, as the sacer-United States and France, and naturally these people feel an interest to prevent the supreme court, an application was hood. It would save no end of popular any action of France that might destroy made on behalf of Manager Glori for an anxiety and alarm. With every symp tom the patient is now assured that he is assailed by a new and virulent micrococcus, and the constantly published researches of the microscopists tend to iu-

He has not yet disclosed the structural outlines of this curious reptilian debutante, and it may be only an after dinner vision, to which science will deny a recognized place, leaving old age, as it was before, an incurable condition, with an invariably progressive tendency, in no need of bacteria to

Nothing will kill a young negro but a charge of dynamite, and their stomachs must be wonderfully and fearfully made. The freeze was an unmitigated blessing to them, and they luxuriated on frozen oranges for two weeks afterward. It was fun to see them. They would gather around the various shipping points, and when a lot of fruit was ordered to the cremator they would nelp themselves before it was hauled away. Some of the boys would eat two dozen frozen oranges at a sitting, or standing, harm them in the slightest. Some of the bootblacks and newsboys made a point of buying 5 cents' worth of frozen oranges every day for their dinner. They could get a dozen large ones for a mickel, and they would eat them way down to the yellow hide. A white boy who attempted the same performance would have had several different kinds of cramp colic in less than 15 minutes. -Florida Times-Union.

Hears With His Mouth.

A boy whose mouth is wonderful, in that it does the double service of tasting and hearing, was in San Antonio today. His name is John Mihand, and his home is at Sabinal. He was born ten years ago. Both ears were closed at birth, and they have never been of service to him. But by a remarkable freak of nature his mouth has done what his ears ought to have done, and he is not incommoded in the slightest. Several local doctors examined and tested the powers of the mouth and pronounced the case a phenomenon without a parallel.—San Antonio (Tex.) Dispatch.
